House Committee Okays 19-25 Draft

Men Would Be Liable For Two Years Service

Measure Praised By Defense Chief

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee voted 28 to 5 today for a peacetime draft designed to help build up a military force of more than 2,000,000 men.

Men from 18 through 30 would have to register with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years service. Most veterans would be exempt.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal praised the measure as an excellent one to cope with what he has called world tension and others have called the threat of war with Russia.

At the same time, Forrestal said he prefers a Senate draft bill which also provides for training of 18-year-olds as reserves. The Senate Armed Services Committee worked on this measure in secrecy today.

Administration's Plan

(The administration has been seeking: (1) A temporary draft and (2) a longer-range system of universal military training under which younger men would be trained in a new system of camps and other institutions. These UMT students would not be in the Army.

(The Senate committee has favored merging the two plans, training the 18-year-olds in the armed services along with draftees. The House Armed Services Committee unanimously approved a separate UMT bill last summer, but so far neither House or Senate has voted on such a bill.)

Forrestal told the House Armed Services Committee that the draft bill it approved today provides an answer to the "immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces."

Secretary of the Army Royall called it "thoroughly acceptable to all the services—Army, Navy and Air Force."

Even before the committee vote, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) told reporters that "my opinion is that the House will have nothing to do with UMT this year."

The House is due to start debate next week. Assuming both House and Senate pass different versions of a draft bill, the final law will be a compromise.

House Bill's Provisions

As it stands, the House bill would:

1. Raise the authorized strength of the military forces to 2,005,882. The present total strength is 1,384,500.
2. Require that men 18 through 30 register, with trose from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service.
3. Exempt most veterans of World War II; those under 31 still would have to register.
4. Make doctors and dentists up to 45 liable for two years' service.
5. Exempt ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors. Those objecting on religious grounds could be drafted for

Wolcott Promises Fast Action On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Quickest possible action on the 15,000,000-homes-in-10-years bill was promised today by Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich), of the House Banking Committee.

And the Senate put off, probably until Wednesday, a showdown vote on a related bill which may determine the fate of the long-range measure in the House. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) asked the postponement.

The Senate already has passed the long-range measure, known as the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill. It provides various forms of federal aid to get the 15,000,000 homes built.

Wolcott announced that he intends to get the bill out of his committee "as quickly as possible for action by the House."

Ohio Chooses Between Taft, Stassen Today

Ex-Minn. Governor Bids For Farm Vote

CLEVELAND, May 3 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen posted tonight a proposal to boost farm price supports as he bid for rural backing in his Ohio presidential delegate battle with Sen. Robert A. Taft.

In advance of tomorrow's expected heavy primary balloting, Stassen urged in a repared radio address that the cost of farm hired labor be included in fixing the floor the government has put under some crops.

This proposal, often made by farm state lawmakers, could be expected to raise the floor.

This sharpened his differences with Taft. The latter said in Nebraska some months ago that the level of price supports should be reduced somewhat.

With fair skies forecast for most of the state, upwards of three-quarters of a million Republicans are expected to go to the polling places in a 12-hour stretch beginning at 6:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

They will pick 53 delegates to the June Republican convention in Philadelphia which will nominate a presidential candidate.

Stassen is contesting in races involving 23 delegates. While most of these battles are in industrial areas, at least eight will be chosen in districts where the farm vote is top-heavy. The at-large race, where Stassen has one candidate, also would be affected.

With his appeal to the farmers, Stassen was credited with attempting to round out what he claims will be a victory carrying more than a majority of 23 delegates into his camp.

Taft closed his campaign at Cincinnati with the statement that he would be "willing to line up with any opponents in a common fight against Communism."

"Yes, that would include lining up with Argentina or Spain, and that is because Fascism now is no threat to our freedom," he said in answer to a question from an audience composed largely of University of Cincinnati students.

"Communism now is the greatest threat to the freedom of the world."

Congressman Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), Taft's campaign chairman, said in a statement the "national presidential election will be fought out over differences which have developed between Republican congressmen on the one hand and a democratic president on the other."

"Regardless of who the Republican presidential candidate may be," Brown continued, "he must run upon the record of the Republican Congress. To do otherwise would be to repudiate every Republican member of the House and Senate. Such a repudiation would mean the certain loss of the presidency and would probably also mean the loss of the Congress."

Mediator Says Both Sides Are Standing Firm

Last-Ditch Meetings Will Be Held Today

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—A federal mediator seeking to avert a paralyzing nationwide railroad tieup set for May 11 said today, "It looks very much like there might be a strike."

Frank Douglass, chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board, said he had "kept the White House informed of the progress of these negotiations."

Conferences underway since last Thursday with railroad management and representatives of three vital operating unions have failed to break the deadlock, Douglass said.

He added his board would have another try with the railroads and unions tomorrow.

"If the picture is unchanged tomorrow, those meetings may end our negotiations," Douglass told newsmen.

190,000 Workers Affected

The strike has been called by unions representing 190,000 engineers, fireman and enginemen, and switchmen.

The efforts of the mediation board are the last step provided by present law for averting the threatened tieup. Railroad workers do not come under the Taft-Hartley law. That law provides for possible court injunctions to end strikes endangering the nation's economy.

"We have been meeting with the parties to this dispute since last Thursday morning," Douglass said in a formal statement. "To this time neither side has deviated from the positions it had when we came here."

Douglass said the railroads were standing pat on the recommendations made by a presidential fact-finding board for an hourly wage boost of 15½ cents and changes in some working rules.

The unions, he added, are insisting that the railroads negotiate on rules changes not recommended by the board.

Picture Not Good

"The picture does not look good," he added. "We are making another effort tomorrow."

The mediation chief said both sides recognized that if any raise is granted beyond the board's recommendation it immediately will have to be applied to all other employes in the industry.

Eighteen other railroad unions have settled on the basis of a 15½ cents hourly wage increase.

Douglass said before today's conferences with the railroads and unions that the working rules provided a possible basis for settlement.

Such rules changes could amount to more money for some workers. The rules govern methods of calculating payment for specific types of work.

At Cleveland, Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said that if the railroads would agree to rule changes "it would go a long way toward settlement" of the general strike called for May 11.

"The railroads," he said in an interview, "have made no new offer."

Three Demo Incumbents Score Easy Md. Victories

Meade Hard Pressed; Austin To Face Beall

BALTIMORE, May 4 (Tuesday) (AP)—State Sen. William P. Bolton, Towson, Md., moved into the lead early today over Rep Hugh A. Meade, Baltimore, for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District.

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP) — Five of the six incumbent Maryland congressmen will be on November's general election ballot.

The sixth incumbent, Hugh A. Meade, was leading on the basis of incomplete returns in today's light congressional primaries—but not by a margin which could be called comfortable.

Meade, a Democrat from Baltimore City, piled up a 5,242 vote advantage over William P. Bolton in the 181 precincts lying within the city.

Bolton's main strength is in Baltimore County, which with Carroll and Harford Counties, makes up the second district. Early returns from the county cut into Meade's city margin.

The other three Democratic incumbents won easy primary victories and the two Republican congressmen—Edward T. Miller, of the First (Eastern Shore) District, and J. Glenn Beall of the Sixth (Western Maryland), were re-nominated without opposition.

Dreary Voting Day

A wet, dreary voting day followed an apathetic campaign devoid of national and state issues. There was no presidential preference voting, as none of the candidates entered the Maryland lists.

It all added up to one of the lightest votes in many years.

The three Democrats winning handy victories were:

Edward A. Garmatz, of Baltimore's Third District, who polled 14,862 votes to 6,222 for City Councilman Anthony F. Didomenico, the second runner in the list of five.

George H. Fallon, of Baltimore City's Fourth District, who won over former State OPA Director Leo H. McCormick by 14,299 votes to 8,542. Five others trailed far behind.

Lansdale G. Sasscer, whose only opponent in the Fifth (Southern Maryland) District race, George Sachse, conceded defeat on the face of returns heavily in favor of the dean of the Maryland congressional delegation.

With 166 of 186 polling places reported, Sasscer had 14,492 votes to 4,585 for Sochse.

S. Scott Beck, Chestertown political figure, drew ahead of three other Eastern Shore Democrats in the race for the party's First District nomination.

With 168 precincts of 194 reported his total was 6,693 votes to 5,477 for former State Sen. Earl Bennett, Cambridge; 796 for Harold Loreman, Salisbury, and 1,274 for Delegate S. Peter Richardson, Berlin.

Austin Apparently Wins

A nip-and-tuck battle of ballots developed between Will Allen, Bethesda newspaperman, and F. Byrne Austin, of Montgomery County, for the Democratic nomination from the Sixth District, with Austin apparently the winner.

The count there, with 247 polling places of 280 in, was 3,681 votes for Austin to 3,342 for Allen. Two other candidates trailed.

There were only three Republican

Jerusalem Quiet As British Forces Are Reinforced

Neutral Regime For Palestine Proposed

JERUSALEM, May 3. (AP) — The vanguard of strong British reinforcements reached Jerusalem today while Scottish infantrymen enforced a truce between Jews and Arabs in the Holy City's battered Katamon quarter.

Jerusalem had its quietest day in months. Only a dozen or so single shots were fired and most of those were on the fringes of the city. The British hope by negotiation to extend the cease fire to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines. A truce also has been arranged in the Arab port city of Jaffa which now is ringed by Jewish forces.

Lt. Gen. G.H.A. MacMillan, the British commander, said the British army and air force will resist "with full force' any Arab state invasion of Palestine before May 15, the date the British mandate ends.

He made the statement to Maj. George Fielding Eliot, military analyst for the New York Post and Home News. Then MacMillan went out to inspect the British reinforcements which had just reached Jerusalem.

The British have dispatched a regiment of heavy tanks by road from Egypt and a commando unit of Royal Marines by air from Malta to Jerusalem. A transport brought approximately 1,000 British troops from Cyprus to Haifa yesterday.

SEGREGATION TOP ISSUE IN ALABAMA PRIMARY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 3 (AP) —Southern Democrats focused their attention on Alabama tonight as the first testing ground for a battle against President Truman and his civil rights program.

The question of segregation will be the principal issue tomorrow when Alabama voters mark their ballots in a Democratic primary.

They will elect 26 national convention delegates and nominate candidates for presidential electors and one seat in the United States Senate, and eight in the House of Representatives.

Gov. James E. Folsom's political strength will be at stake too. A presidential candidate himself, he is running for convention delegate and trying at the same time to put his own candidate in the United States Senate in place of John Sparkman, who holds the office now.

If Folsom wins his race for delegate, he says he will campaign in other states for the presidential nomination.

Tornado Death Toll Mounts With Four Killed In Texas

Six States Count 24 Dead And 156 Injured

[By The Associated Press]

Death-dealing tornadoes, stirred up by spring's changing weather, added Texas to their list Monday with at least four killed for a 48-hour toll of 24 dead and more than 156 injured in six states.

The Texas tornadic windstorm hit McKinney, a city of 10,000, and nearby Princeton, both about 30 miles north of Dallas. The storm cut a 600-yard path of fury, two miles long, through McKinney.

It tore the second floor off a $2,000,000 textile mill, blew off the top floor of the city hospital, ripped off the metal roof of a grade school, and smashed an estimated 150 houses.

Oklahoma, one of the states struck Saturday night, received a fresh blow. A tornado hit the center of the town of Caney in Southwest Oklahoma, but a few-minutes warning enabled the residents to take refuge in storm cellars.

The postoffice, a theater and several stores and homes were destroyed.

Violent windstorms hit neighboring Coleman, Mill Creek and Sulphur in rapid succession. Three persons were reported injured.

The deadly winds scourged Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia in a west-east course which started Saturday.

Heavy rains poured additional misery on survivors in hard-hit West Virginia after the winds abated.

Six W. Va. Communities Hit

Six rural West Virginia communities bore the brunt of the twisters in that state. Three members of the Raymond Aylor family of Hupp Hill died in the Clarksburg Hospital of storm injuries. One man was killed near Weston and a fifth victim, another man, was killed at Mount Clare. About 30 other persons were injured in West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit and Quiet Dell.

Searchers continued to hunt for victims among the muck and ruins of leveled structures. Damage estimates topped $1,000,000 in West Virginia. In 1944 a similar storm killed 100-odd persons near Clarksburg. Last night's tornado literally played leap frog around that city of 30,000.

Freak incidents amid the scenes of death and catastrophe were reported. At Quiet Dell, the home of Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, 66, was picked up and carried 40 feet to the edge of a highway where it landed intact. A 240-pound farmer said he Clare, a town of 200, the body of was blown 100 feet. At Mount an automobile found an incongruous perch in the limbs of a large tree.

Real Estate Pact Against Negroes Not Enforceable

High Tribunal Upsets Lower Court Rulings

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Courts cannot enforce real estate agreements which bar colored persons from all-white neighborhoods, the Supreme Court ruled today.

In a 6-0 decision, the court said government action to back up such covenants violates the "equal protection" clause in the 14th Amendment, and in Washington, D. C., breaks a federal law covering similar ground.

The court specified, however, that the clause "erects no shield against merely private conduct, however, discriminatory or wrongful." It said there is no violation so long as the agreements are carried out voluntarily.

Chief Justice Vinson wrote the two opinions handed down on the issue. In neither did he go beyond the question of excluding would-be residents on the ground of "race and color."

Solicitor Philip B. Perlman, in oral argument of the cases, also had discussed the question of exclusion of Jews. After hearing today's rulings read, he declined to speculate whether covenants excluding persons on religious grounds also are barred.

Justices Jackson, Reed and Rutledge took no part in the cases.

Three separate actions were involved—one each from St. Louis, Detroit and the national capital. The St. Louis and Detroit cases, involving state courts and laws, were consolidated. The Washington case, purely federal, was handled separately.

In all, however, the results were the same. Lower court decisions upholding enforcement of covenants were overturned.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said in a statement at New York that the decision is a "blow" against segregation.

Colombia Breaks With Moscow As Result Of Riots

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 3 (AP)—Colombia broke off diplomatic relations tonight with the Soviet Union.

The Colombian Cabinet decided late this afternoon to sever relations with Russia almost a month after the abortive revolution which took 1,500 lives in Colombia.

A diplomatic rupture had been expected ever since President Mariano Ospina Perez blamed international Communism for the revolutionary rioting which broke out following the assassination of Liberal Leader Jorge Ellecer Gaitan April 9.

Keep Communism Open, Dewey Says

PORTLAND, Ore., May 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, tonight demanded that Communism be kept open and above ground and denounced as a demagogic appeal what he said were "glib proposals" for outlawing it in the United States.

The New York Governor called Communism a major issue of the time. It is one, he said, whose handling "goes to the very heart of the qualification of any candidate for office and to the inner nature of the kind of country we want to live in."

His address, couched in biting terms, was aimed clearly at Harold E. Stassen, who just a week ago and in an auditorium only a few blocks distant called for outlawing Communism.

Nowhere in his talk, prepared for a Republican rally opening his Oregon primary campaign, did Dewey mention Stassen by name. But it was perfectly obvious his shafts were directed at his only rival for Oregon's 12 votes for the Republican presidential nomination.

Dewey proposed prosecution, deportation or denaturalization under existing laws, of Communists who would overthrow the government. In this connection, also, he criticized the present administration in Washington for proceeding on "leaden feet."

But to outlaw Communists and fellow travelers, he said, was to adopt the methods of Communism itself. It only forces Communism underground where "it flourishes in the dark of the night."

Sen. Taylor Says Officers Hoped For Provocation

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Sen. Taylor, of Idaho, told the Senate today he doubts he would be alive if he had let himself be provoked into "talking back" to police after his arrest in Birmingham, Ala.

Taylor said two police officers taking him to jail drove through open country and along a lonely road.

"It was obvious they had taken a detour, just hoping I would provoke something," he said.

Taylor, vice presidential candidate of Henry A. Wallace's new party, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge. Police said he tried to enter a southern negro youth conference meeting through a door marked "Negroes" and violated segregation laws. He was freed on bail for trial tomorrow.

Test Pilot Dies In Crash Of Douglas Skystreak

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Howard C. Lilly, 30-year old test pilot, was killed today at Muroc air base, Calif., while taking off in the Douglas Sky Streak, a single engine jet which holds the world's speed record.

Word of Lilly's death was received by John Victory, secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the top government agency for aviation research.

The Sky Streak is being used to study maneuvering problems at transonic speeds. The speed of sound, at sea-level is roughly 760 miles an hour.

Victory said he was told the plane rolled over and crashed as it was taking off on one of a series of test flights by Lilly.

Third Pulitzer Prize Won By St. Louis Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today won the Pulitzer Prize for disinterested and meritorious public service by an American newspaper in 1947. It was the third time the paper had won the award.

The prize went to the newspaper for its stories on the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster last year and for "the followup which resulted in impressive reforms in mine safety laws and regulations."

The paper won the award previously in 1937 and 1941.

Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire," the story of a neurotic girl in New Orleans, won the annual prize for an original American play.

James A. Michener won the prize for distinguished fiction for his "Tales of the South Pacific."

The Pulitzer Prizes are given annually for distinguished work in the fields of journalism, literature, music and art.

First awarded in 1917, they were made possible by a $2,500,000 gift to Columbia University by Joseph Pulitzer, former publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Each of the individual prizes carries an award of $500. The Post-Dispatch receives a gold medal valued at $500.

George E. Goodwin, staff writer of the Atlanta, Ga., Journal, won the prize for a distinguished example of local reporting in 1947. It was for his expose of vote frauds in Telfair County, Ga., in the gen-

British War Hero Escapes Book Bomb; Brother Killed

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, May 3 (AP)—A parcel post bomb today killed the younger brother of Capt. Roy Farran, a British war hero whom the Jewish underground has sworn to hunt down "to the end of the world."

Capt. Farran, whose reputation as "the man with nine lives" goes back through eight years of war and accidents, was not at home. The bomb was adrressed to him.

His brother Rex, a 26-year-old draftsman, took the full explosive charge in the abdomen when he unwrapped a hollowed-out volume of Shakespeare's plays containing the death trap. Rex died two hours later in a hospital.

Scotland Yard, mindful of last year's widespread but unsuccessful explosive letter plot against Cabinet members and other prominent Britons, moved into the case immediately.

Capt. Farran, 27, was acquitted of killing Alexander Rubowitz, a 16-year-old Jewish boy who disappeared in Palestine a year ago next Thursday. Rubowitz was alleged to have belonged to the underground. Farran then was an instructor for the Palestine police after a war career which brought him decorations from King George VI and the United States Army.

A military court said there was no evidence Rubowitz was dead. In October, shortly after Farran's acquittal, Stern Gang leaflets appeared in Tel Aviv announcing: "Capt. Farran's time will come. We shall go after him to the end of the world."

Picture Not Good

"The picture does not look good," he added. "We are making another effort tomorrow."

The mediation chief said both sides recognized that if any raise is granted beyond the board's recommendation it immediately will have to be applied to all other employes in the industry.

Eighteen other railroad unions have settled on the basis of a 15½ cents hourly wage increase.

Douglass said before today's conferences with the railroads and unions that the working rules provided a possible basis for settlement.

Such rules changes could amount to more money for some workers. The rules govern methods of calculating payment for specific types of work.

At Cleveland, Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said that if the railroads would agree to rule changes "it would go a long way toward settlement" of the general strike called for May 11.

"The railroads," he said in an interview, "have made no new offer."

Three Demo Incumbents Score Easy Md. Victories

BALTIMORE, May 4 (Tuesday) (AP)—State Sen. William P. Bolton, Towson, Md., moved into the lead early today over Rep Hugh A. Meade, Baltimore, for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District.

BALTIMORE, May 3 (AP) — Five of the six incumbent Maryland congressmen will be on November's general election ballot.

The sixth incumbent, Hugh A. Meade, was leading on the basis of incomplete returns in today's light congressional primaries—but not by a margin which could be called comfortable.

Meade, a Democrat from Baltimore City, piled up a 5,242 vote advantage over William P. Bolton in the 181 precincts lying within the city.

Bolton's main strength is in Baltimore County, which with Carroll and Harford Counties, makes up the second district. Early returns from the county cut into Meade's city margin.

The other three Democratic incumbents won easy primary victories and the two Republican congressmen—Edward T. Miller, of the First (Eastern Shore) District, and J. Glenn Beall of the Sixth (Western Maryland), were re-nominated without opposition.

Dreary Voting Day

A wet, dreary voting day followed an apathetic campaign devoid of national and state issues. There was no presidential preference voting, as none of the candidates entered the Maryland lists.

It all added up to one of the lightest votes in many years.

The three Democrats winning handy victories were:

Edward A. Garmatz, of Baltimore's Third District, who polled 14,862 votes to 6,222 for City Councilman Anthony F. Didomenico, the second runner in the list of five.

George H. Fallon, of Baltimore City's Fourth District, who won over former State OPA Director Leo H. McCormick by 14,299 votes to 8,542. Five others trailed far behind.

Lansdale G. Sasscer, whose only opponent in the Fifth (Southern Maryland) District race, George Sachse, conceded defeat on the face of returns heavily in favor of the dean of the Maryland congressional delegation.

With 166 of 186 polling places reported, Sasscer had 14,492 votes to 4,585 for Sochse.

S. Scott Beck, Chestertown political figure, drew ahead of three other Eastern Shore Democrats in the race for the party's First District nomination.

With 168 precincts of 194 reported his total was 6,693 votes to 5,477 for former State Sen. Earl Bennett, Cambridge; 796 for Harold Loreman, Salisbury, and 1,274 for Delegate S. Peter Richardson, Berlin.

Austin Apparently Wins

A nip-and-tuck battle of ballots developed between Will Allen, Bethesda newspaperman, and F. Byrne Austin, of Montgomery County, for the Democratic nomination from the Sixth District, with Austin apparently the winner.

The count there, with 247 polling places of 280 in, was 3,681 votes for Austin to 3,342 for Allen. Two other candidates trailed.

There were only three Republican

Jerusalem Quiet As British Forces Are Reinforced

Neutral Regime For Palestine Proposed

JERUSALEM, May 3. (AP)—The vanguard of strong British reinforcements reached Jerusalem today while Scottish infantrymen enforced a truce between Jews and Arabs in the Holy City's battered Katamon quarter.

Jerusalem had its quietest day in months. Only a dozen or so single shots were fired and most of those were on the fringes of the city. The British hope by negotiation to extend the cease fire to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines. A truce also has been arranged in the Arab port city of Jaffa which now is ringed by Jewish forces.

Lt. Gen. G.H.A. MacMillan, the British commander, said the British army and air force will resist "with full force' any Arab state invasion of Palestine before May 15, the date the British mandate ends.

He made the statement to Maj. George Fielding Eliot, military analyst for the New York Post and Home News. Then MacMillan went out to inspect the British reinforcements which had just reached Jerusalem.

The British have dispatched a regiment of heavy tanks by road from Egypt and a commando unit of Royal Marines by air from Malta to Jerusalem. A transport brought approximately 1,000 British troops from Cyprus to Haifa yesterday.

Wolcott Promises Fast Action On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Quickest possible action on the 15,000,000-homes-in-10-years bill was promised today by Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich), of the House Banking Committee.

And the Senate put off, probably until Wednesday, a showdown vote on a related bill which may determine the fate of the long-range measure in the House. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) asked the postponement.

The Senate already has passed the long-range measure, known as the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill. It provides various forms of federal aid to get the 15,000,000 homes built.

Wolcott announced that he intends to get the bill out of his committee "as quickly as possible for action by the House."

SEGREGATION TOP ISSUE IN ALABAMA PRIMARY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 3 (AP)—Southern Democrats focused their attention on Alabama tonight as the first testing ground for a battle against President Truman and his civil rights program.

The question of segregation will be the principal issue tomorrow when Alabama voters mark their ballots in a Democratic primary.

They will elect 26 national convention delegates and nominate candidates for presidential electors and one seat in the United States Senate, and eight in the House of Representatives.

Gov. James E. Folsom's political strength will be at stake too. A presidential candidate himself, he is running for convention delegate and trying at the same time to put his own candidate in the United States Senate in place of John Sparkman, who holds the office now.

If Folsom wins his race for delegate, he says he will campaign in other states for the presidential nomination.

Real Estate Pact Against Negroes Not Enforceable

High Tribunal Upsets Lower Court Rulings

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Courts cannot enforce real estate agreements which bar colored persons from all-white neighborhoods, the Supreme Court ruled today.

In a 6-0 decision, the court said government action to back up such covenants violates the "equal protection" clause in the 14th Amendment, and in Washington, D. C., breaks a federal law covering similar ground.

The court specified, however, that the clause "erects no shield against merely private conduct, however, discriminatory or wrongful." It said there is no violation so long as the agreements are carried out voluntarily.

Chief Justice Vinson wrote the two opinions handed down on the issue. In neither did he go beyond the question of excluding would-be residents on the ground of "race and color."

Solicitor Philip B. Perlman, in oral argument of the cases, also had discussed the question of exclusion of Jews. After hearing today's rulings read, he declined to speculate whether covenants excluding persons on religious grounds also are barred.

Justices Jackson, Reed and Rutledge took no part in the cases.

Three separate actions were involved—one each from St. Louis, Detroit and the national capital. The St. Louis and Detroit cases, involving state courts and laws, were consolidated. The Washington case, purely federal, was handled separately.

In all, however, the results were the same. Lower court decisions upholding enforcement of covenants were overturned.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said in a statement at New York that the decision is a "blow" against segregation.

High Court Decisions Rock Movie Industry

Colombia Breaks With Moscow As Result Of Riots

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 3 (AP)—Colombia broke off diplomatic relations tonight with the Soviet Union.

The Colombian Cabinet decided late this afternoon to sever relations with Russia almost a month after the abortive revolution which took 1,500 lives in Colombia.

A diplomatic rupture had been expected ever since President Mariano Ospina Perez blamed international Communism for the revolutionary rioting which broke out following the assassination of Liberal Leader Jorge Ellecer Gaitan April 9.

Keep Communism Open, Dewey Says

PORTLAND, Ore., May 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, tonight demanded that Communism be kept open and above ground and denounced as a demagogic appeal what he said were "glib proposals" for outlawing it in the United States.

The New York Governor called Communism a major issue of the time. It is one, he said, whose handling "goes to the very heart of the qualification of any candidate for office and to the inner nature of the kind of country we want to live in."

His address, couched in biting terms, was aimed clearly at Harold E. Stassen, who just a week ago and in an auditorium only a few blocks distant called for outlawing Communism.

Nowhere in his talk, prepared for a Republican rally opening his Oregon primary campaign, did Dewey mention Stassen by name. But it was perfectly obvious his shafts were directed at his only rival for Oregon's 12 votes for the Republican presidential nomination.

Dewey proposed prosecution, deportation or denaturalization under existing laws, of Communists who would overthrow the government. In this connection, also, he criticized the present administration in Washington for proceeding on "leaden feet."

But to outlaw Communists and fellow travelers, he said, was to adopt the methods of Communism itself. It only forces Communism underground where "it flourishes in the dark of the night."

Sen. Taylor Says Officers Hoped For Provocation

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Sen. Taylor, of Idaho, told the Senate today he doubts he would be alive if he had let himself be provoked into "talking back" to police after his arrest in Birmingham, Ala.

Taylor said two police officers taking him to jail drove through open country and along a lonely road.

"It was obvious they had taken a detour, just hoping I would provoke something," he said.

Taylor, vice presidential candidate of Henry A. Wallace's new party, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge. Police said he tried to enter a southern negro youth conference meeting through a door marked "Negroes" and violated segregation laws. He was freed on bail for trial tomorrow.

Tornado Death Toll Mounts With Four Killed In Texas

[By The Associated Press]

Death-dealing tornadoes, stirred up by spring's changing weather, added Texas to their list Monday with at least four killed for a 48-hour toll of 24 dead and more than 156 injured in six states.

The Texas tornadic windstorm hit McKinney, a city of 10,000, and nearby Princeton, both about 30 miles north of Dallas. The storm cut a 600-yard path of fury, two miles long, through McKinney.

It tore the second floor off a $2,000,000 textile mill, blew off the top floor of the city hospital, ripped off the metal roof of a grade school, and smashed an estimated 150 houses.

Oklahoma, one of the states struck Saturday night, received a fresh blow. A tornado hit the center of the town of Caney in Southwest Oklahoma, but a few-minutes warning enabled the residents to take refuge in storm cellars.

The postoffice, a theater and several stores and homes were destroyed.

Violent windstorms hit neighboring Coleman, Mill Creek and Sulphur in rapid succession. Three persons were reported injured.

The deadly winds scourged Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia in a west-east course which started Saturday.

Heavy rains poured additional misery on survivors in hard-hit West Virginia after the winds abated.

Six W. Va. Communities Hit

Six rural West Virginia communities bore the brunt of the twisters in that state. Three members of the Raymond Aylor family of Hupp Hill died in the Clarksburg Hospital of storm injuries. One man was killed near Weston and a fifth victim, another man, was killed at Mount Clare. About 30 other persons were injured in West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit and Quiet Dell.

Searchers continued to hunt for victims among the muck and ruins of leveled structures. Damage estimates topped $1,000,000 in West Virginia. In 1944 a similar storm killed 100-odd persons near Clarksburg. Last night's tornado literally played leap frog around that city of 30,000.

Freak incidents amid the scenes of death and catastrophe were reported. At Quiet Dell, the home of Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, 66, was picked up and carried 40 feet to the edge of a highway where it landed intact. A 240-pound farmer said he Clare, a town of 200, the body of was blown 100 feet. At Mount an automobile found an incongruous perch in the limbs of a large tree.

Test Pilot Dies In Crash Of Douglas Skystreak

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Howard C. Lilly, 30-year old test pilot, was killed today at Muroc air base, Calif., while taking off in the Douglas Sky Streak, a single engine jet which holds the world's speed record.

Word of Lilly's death was received by John Victory, secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the top government agency for aviation research.

The Sky Streak is being used to study maneuvering problems at transonic speeds. The speed of sound, at sea-level is roughly 760 miles an hour.

Victory said he was told the plane rolled over and crashed as it was taking off on one of a series of test flights by Lilly.

Third Pulitzer Prize Won By St. Louis Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today won the Pulitzer Prize for disinterested and meritorious public service by an American newspaper in 1947. It was the third time the paper had won the award.

The prize went to the newspaper for its stories on the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster last year and for 'the followup which resulted in impressive reforms in mine safety laws and regulations."

The paper won the award previously in 1937 and 1941.

Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire," the story of a neurotic girl in New Orleans, won the annual prize for an original American play.

James A. Michener won the prize for distinguished fiction for his "Tales of the South Pacific."

The Pulitzer Prizes are given annually for distinguished work in the fields of journalism, literature, music and art.

First awarded in 1917, they were made possible by a $2,500,000 gift to Columbia University by Joseph Pulitzer, former publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Each of the individual prizes carries an award of $500. The Post-Dispatch receives a gold medal valued at $500.

George E. Goodwin, staff writer of the Atlanta, Ga., Journal, won the prize for a distinguished example of local reporting in 1947. It was for his expose of vote frauds in Telfair County, Ga., in the gen-

British War Hero Escapes Book Bomb; Brother Killed

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, May 3 (AP)—A parcel post bomb today killed the younger brother of Capt. Roy Farran, a British war hero whom the Jewish underground has sworn to hunt down "to the end of the world."

Capt. Farran, whose reputation as "the man with nine lives" goes back through eight years of war and accidents, was not at home. The bomb was adrressed to him.

His brother Rex, a 26-year-old draftsman, took the full explosive charge in the abdomen when he unwrapped a hollowed-out volume of Shakespeare's plays containing the death trap. Rex died two hours later in a hospital.

Scotland Yard, mindful of last year's widespread but unsuccessful explosive letter plot against Cabinet members and other prominent Britons, moved into the case immediately.

Capt. Farran, 27, was acquitted of killing Alexander Rubowitz, a 16-year-old Jewish boy who disappeared in Palestine a year ago next Thursday. Rubowitz was alleged to have belonged to the underground. Farran then was an instructor for the Palestine police after a war career which brought him decorations from King George VI and the United States Army.

A military court said there was no evidence Rubowitz was dead. In October, shortly after Farran's acquittal, Stern Gang leaflets appeared in Tel Aviv announcing: "Capt. Farran's time will come. We shall go after him to the end of the world."

Murray Assails U. S. Steel Action

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray tonight accused the steel industry of "total disregard for the public welfare and the plight of American wage earners."

The CIO chief denounced the action of United States Steel Corporation taken also by other leading producers, in denying wage increases while cutting prices.

Murray said United States Steel's $25,000,000 price cut is "paltry and insignificant, intended for propaganda purposes only." He said the cuts "can have no effect whatsoever on the cost of living."

Murray, head of both the CIO and the CIO steel workers union, said in a prepared ABC broadcast:

"The industry could have made a sizeable price reduction and still have retained more than enough profits to grant our union's wage request. The industry has chosen to ignore the needs of its employes."

Murray pledged anew that his union will live up to its no-strike contract, running until next spring. But he added:

"I charge that the steel industry has not negotiated with us in good faith on the wage issue in light of these facts."

Murray said the steel workers union would have welcomed "a real price cut in steel" but "the proposals now made with such fanfare by United States Steel" will reduce steel prices only 1/20th of a cent a pound.

178 Miners Are Indicted Under Va. Anti-Lynch Law

GRUNDY, Va., May 3. (AP)—A special grand jury today indicted 178 miners under Virginia's anti-lynching law in connection with the clash of union and non-union miners at a Buchanan County strip mine on April 21.

Commonwealth's Attorney Isaac M. Lambert said the grand jury returned 10 true bills, each naming each of the 178 miners under section 4427E of the state code making assault and battery by a mob a felony.

The 10 indictments grew out of the assault of 10 persons at the non-union Gillian and Hodges strip mine on Garden Creek, about 14 miles from here, and the injury of three persons.

Downey Gets Tidelands Bill On Senate Calendar

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Sen. Downey (D-Calif.) invoked a little-used rule today and got the House-passed tidelands bill on the Senate calendar for possible action.

The bill would give the states outright ownership of the oil-rich lands under their coastal waters.

The House passed it last week. When the House bill reached the Senate, Downey objected to further proceedings on it. This is a rarely-used procedure which blocks sending the bill to a committee.

State Employes' Increase Would Cost $2,101,654

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 3. (AP)—Gov. Lane released a Budget Bureau report today showing that proposed salary increases for state employes would cost the state $2,101,654.

A special session of the general assembly is projected at which appropriations for the increase would be enacted.

The Budget Bureau report said the proposed appropriations would be divided into $1,227,069 in general funds and $874,585 in special funds.

primary contests. The third District GOP nomination went to John A. Janetzke, veteran East Baltimore politician, by default.

In the Fourth District, Paul Robertson, former head of the Republican Baltimore City Committee, was soundly trounced by James W. Miller. A complete unofficial tally gave Miller 3,043 votes to 1,611 for Robertson.

A. Earl Shipley, Westminster, who received organization backing in his Second District campaign for the Republican nomination, snowed under John W. Walter, Baltimore. The tally, with 217 precincts of 418 reported, gave Shipley 3,240 votes to Walter's 1,182.

In the three-corner race for the Republican Fifth District nomination, C. Maurice Weidemeyer appeared to be the winner. With 130 of 186 precincts reported, he had 1,687 votes to 987 for Edwin A. Glenn and 239 for Frank E. Vanderhoof.

Five Die In Kentucky

Kentucky counted five known dead. Several other persons were missing and about 50 were injured by a tornado which streaked across Clinton and Wayne Counties.

The town of Alpha, Ky., was hard hit. The Davis Chapel Church there was wrecked while 125 were attending services. Many of the 15 injured in Clinton County were among the worshippers. Two persons were killed there.

Eyewitnesses said the storm ripped along a quarter mile wide path, levelling houses, trees and all else in its path. It zipped from one edge of the county to the others. The communities of Alpha and Glasgow were among the chief sufferers in Kentucky.

Bert Andrews, of the New York Herald Tribune, and Nat S. Finney, of the Minneapolis Tribune, were awarded separate prizes for distinguished examples of reporting on national affairs. They will receive $500 each.

The award to Andrews was for his series on "A State Department Security Case." This told the story of an employe dismissed after an eight-month investigation by the FBI, with the nature of the charges against him undisclosed.

Finney received the award for his stories on the plan of the Truman Administration to impose secrecy about the ordinary affairs of federal civilian agencies in peacetime.

Other journalism awards:

Distinguished example of reporting of international affairs—Paul W. Ward, of the Baltimore Sun, for a series of articles on "Life in the Soviet Union."

Distinguished editorial writing—Virginius Dabney, of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch. Dabney was chosen for general editorial writing.

Distinguished example of a cartoonist's work—Reuben L. (Rube) Goldberg, of the New York Sun. He won the award for a cartoon entitled "Peace Today," depicting an American family living on an atomic bomb poised on the edge of a precipice.

Outstanding example of news photography—Frank Cushing, of the Boston Traveler, for his photograph "Boy Gunman and Hostage." This picture was carried by the Associated Press on a spot basis.

The picture showed a 15-year-old delinquent using another boy as a shield while he exchanged shots with police in an alley.

retary Arthur Creech-Jones told the special Palestine Assembly's 58-nation Political Committee.

Creech-Jones said the neutral regime should be ready to take over the Holy Land May 15 when the British give up their League of Nations mandate.

He did not elaborate on the plan but informed sources said the British had in mind a commission of a few countries—perhaps the United States, Britain and France.

The Colonial Secretary held out little hope for passage of the American-sponsored proposal for a Palestine trusteeship. In some quarters his speech was viewed as opening the way for an American switch from trusteeship to this emergency neutral authority plan.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency Board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employes, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as the figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Murray Assails U. S. Steel Action

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray tonight accused the steel industry of "total disregard for the public welfare and the plight of American wage earners."

The CIO chief denounced the action of United States Steel Corporation taken also by other leading producers, in denying wage increases while cutting prices.

Murray said United States Steel's $25,000,000 price cut is "paltry and insignificant, intended for propaganda purposes only." He said the cuts "can have no effect whatsoever on the cost of living."

Murray, head of both the CIO and the CIO steel workers union, said in a prepared ABC broadcast:

"The industry could have made a sizeable price reduction and still have retained more than enough profits to grant our union's wage request. The industry has chosen to ignore the needs of its employes."

Murray pledged anew that his union will live up to its no-strike contract, running until next spring. But he added:

"I charge that the steel industry has not negotiated with us in good faith on the wage issue in light of these facts."

Murray said the steel workers union would have welcomed "a real price cut in steel" but "the proposals now made with such fanfare by United States Steel" will reduce steel prices only 1/20th of a cent a pound.

178 Miners Are Indicted Under Va. Anti-Lynch Law

GRUNDY, Va., May 3. (AP)—A special grand jury today indicted 178 miners under Virginia's anti-lynching law in connection with the clash of union and non-union miners at a Buchanan County strip mine on April 21.

Commonwealth's Attorney Isaac M. Lambert said the grand jury returned 10 true bills, each naming each of the 178 miners under section 4427E of the state code making assault and battery by a mob a felony.

The 10 indictments grew out of the assault of 10 persons at the non-union Gillian and Hodges strip mine on Garden Creek, about 14 miles from here, and the injury of three persons.

Downey Gets Tidelands Bill On Senate Calendar

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Sen. Downey (D-Calif.) invoked a little-used rule today and got the House-passed tidelands bill on the Senate calendar for possible action.

The bill would give the states outright ownership of the oil-rich lands under their coastal waters.

The House passed it last week. When the House bill reached the Senate, Downey objected to further proceedings on it. This is a rarely-used procedure which blocks sending the bill to a committee.

State Employes' Increase Would Cost $2,101,654

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 3. (AP)—Gov. Lane released a Budget Bureau report today showing that proposed salary increases for state employes would cost the state $2,101,654.

A special session of the general assembly is projected at which appropriations for the increase would be enacted.

The Budget Bureau report said the proposed appropriations would be divided into $1,227,069 in general funds and $874,585 in special funds.

primary contests. The third District GOP nomination went to John A. Janetzke, veteran East Baltimore politician, by default.

In the Fourth District, Paul Robertson, former head of the Republican Baltimore City Committee, was soundly trounced by James W. Miller. A complete unofficial tally gave Miller 3,043 votes to 1,611 for Robertson.

A. Earl Shipley, Westminster, who received organization backing in his Second District campaign for the Republican nomination, snowed under John W. Walter, Baltimore. The tally, with 217 precincts of 418 reported, gave Shipley 3,240 votes to Walter's 1,182.

In the three-corner race for the Republican Fifth District nomination, C. Maurice Weidemeyer appeared to be the winner. With 130 of 186 precincts reported, he had 1,687 votes to 987 for Edwin A. Glenn and 239 for Frank E. Vanderhoof.

Five Die In Kentucky

Kentucky counted five known dead. Several other persons were missing and about 50 were injured by a tornado which streaked across Clinton and Wayne Counties.

The town of Alpha, Ky., was hard hit. The Davis Chapel Church there was wrecked while 125 were attending services. Many of the 15 injured in Clinton County were among the worshippers. Two persons were killed there.

Eyewitnesses said the storm ripped along a quarter mile wide path, levelling houses, trees and all else in its path. It zipped from one edge of the county to the others. The communities of Alpha and Glasgow were among the chief sufferers in Kentucky.

Bert Andrews, of the New York Herald Tribune, and Nat S. Finney, of the Minneapolis Tribune, were awarded separate prizes for distinguished examples of reporting on national affairs. They will receive $500 each.

The award to Andrews was for his series on "A State Department Security Case." This told the story of an employe dismissed after an eight-month investigation by the FBI, with the nature of the charges against him undisclosed.

Finney received the award for his stories on the plan of the Truman Administration to impose secrecy about the ordinary affairs of federal civilian agencies in peacetime.

Other journalism awards:

Distinguished example of reporting of international affairs—Paul W. Ward, of the Baltimore Sun, for a series of articles on "Life in the Soviet Union."

Distinguished editorial writing—Virginius Dabney, of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch. Dabney was chosen for general editorial writing.

Distinguished example of a cartoonist's work—Reuben L. (Rube) Goldberg, of the New York Sun. He won the award for a cartoon entitled "Peace Today," depicting an American family living on an atomic bomb poised on the edge of a precipice.

Outstanding example of news photography—Frank Cushing, of the Boston Traveler, for his photograph "Boy Gunman and Hostage." This picture was carried by the Associated Press on a spot basis.

The picture showed a 15-year-old delinquent using another boy as a shield while he exchanged shots with police in an alley.

Principal defendants in the major movie case are Paramount, Loew's, R.K.O., Warner Brothers, and 20th Century-Fox.

The government wanted an order for them to sell their interest in 3,137 theatres, contending that there is no other way to open up the movie industry to free competition.

The high court pointed out conditions under which such an order might be valid, and said lower courts had not yet investigated whether those conditions exist.

The "big five" produce, distribute, and exhibit movies. Also named in the case are Columbia Pictures Corporation and Universal Corporation producers and distributers, and United Artists Corporation, a distributor.

The case has been in court since 1938. A special three-judge federal court in New York issued a decree generally upholding the government's charge of monopolistic practices in 1946.

Creech-Jones said the neutral regime should be ready to take over the Holy Land May 15 when the British give up their League of Nations mandate.

He did not elaborate on the plan but informed sources said the British had in mind a commission of a few countries—perhaps the United States, Britain and France.

The Colonial Secretary held out little hope for passage of the American-sponsored proposal for a Palestine trusteeship. In some quarters his speech was viewed as opening the way for an American switch from trusteeship to this emergency neutral authority plan.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency Board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employes, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders — which would increase wages still further — were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more — they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn — in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as the figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Surplus Of 30,000,000 Workers By 1980 Seen

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—There will be a surplus of 30,000,000 workers in the United States by 1980 if we keep lengthening the span of life, Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, New York, said yesterday.

Dr. Klumpp, president of the American Pharmeceutical Manufacturers Association, said people are living longer now than they ever have in world history and by 1980 there will be 60,000,000 Americans over 45 years of age; and 21,000,000 over 65, creating a huge employment problem.

"We can't plow them under as we used to plow under corn, potatoes, tobacco and little pigs in accord with what was once Henry Wallace's advice," he told a meeting of the National Health Assembly.

Trying To Make Anybody Else Good Is Not Only Foolish But Usually Useless

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I used to like a boy, but then I found out he did not have a good reputation. I think he likes me, and he keeps pestering me to go to the movies with him but I'm afraid to.

Do you think I should try to make him good? Or should I tell him I don't want anything to do with him?

"UNDECIDED"

Dear "Undecided":

Trying to make anybody else good is not only foolish but generally quite useless. Robert Louis Stevenson once said, "There is just one person I have to make good—myself." And I think you would do well to follow that precept. If you kep your mind on making yourself good, you will not be likely to get into any trouble. Also, any influence that you are going to have on anybody else will be through the way you act and not through anything you have to say.

If I were you, however, I would keep away from any boy who you feel needs reforming.

Those Atomic Energy Control Appointments

Certain newspapers which oppose the Republican party have raised the cry of "partisan politics" because a group of Republicans in Congress object to confirming the President's reappointment of David Lilienthal to head the Atomic Energy Control Commission for another five years.

The charge of politics here is distinctly on the wrong foot. The Republicans object to confirming long-term presidential appointments in what seem to be the closing months of the Democratic Administration. For 15 years now Federal administrative and judicial offices have been packed with New Dealers or Democrats. Naturally, the majority party in Congress objects to having a shoal of partisan appointments rushed through at the last minute.

The atomic energy appointments are a special case, involving White House politics. Under the McMahon Act the five commissioners were named for a term of one year, expiring late in August, 1948. Future appointments are to run from one to five years, to assure continuous direction of the commission.

Mr. Truman could have waited until the present Congress adjourned this summer and then re-appointed the commissioners until after the November 2 election. In that way, the new Congress, and probably a new President, could have named Lilienthal for one-year appointment, which was quite agreeable to Mr. Lilienthal, who wants to avert another controversy this year.

Instead, without consulting the congressional committee that will have to handle the appointment, Mr. Truman named Lilienthal to the five-year term. If he had wanted to pick a quarrel with Congress he could hardly have done better. His action was taken as a deliberate slap in the face for Congress.

A compromise is still possible. The President can ask Congress to extend all appointments for a year after their expiration in August. That would avert any controversy in these closing and politically hot months of the session. Mr. Truman's course up to now has been embarrassing to everybody, including Lilienthal.

Cumberland's Clean-Up Crusade Produces Results

Cumberland has had her first rubbish clean-up since before the war. It was one of a series of activities launched by the Junior Association of Commerce for this spring season which have for their ultimate goal a brighter, cleaner and healthier city.

The setting aside of Sunday for this portion of the cleansing crusade, which includes painting and outside tiding-up in general, was probably the most advantageous time to permit members of the Jaycees organization to assist in the work on trucks and to supervise the gathering of trash placed on curbs.

But it had its disadvantages, too, because many persons neglected to put the rubbish on the curb until too late to have it gathered. The delay was due to a number of reasons. Some put it off until after they attended church, others didn't get to the task in time because they slept late, while still others hesitated to litter up curbs too early on the Sabbath.

In spite of all these interferences with good intentions on the part of householders, a total of 110 truck loads of trash was hauled to the city dump. To be sure, it was much less than should have been expected when it is recalled that there had not been such a clean-up in the past six years, at least, and the accummulation over such a period should have produced a greater bulk of discarded items, it is believed. Or, maybe, Cumberland premises are a darn sight cleaner than anyone would have been led to believe.

Is Pain Necessary?

It is confusing to read of one-year-old Beverly Smith, who will never be able to feel pain. Should people be glad for her or sorry?

Pain is not popular, but it has its uses. Little Beverly is already a trial to her parents because she goes around bumping her head and burning her hand and thinking nothing of it. If she gets appendicitis, how will they know? If she breaks a leg, she may injure herself badly because there will be no pain to warn her to lie still.

If she misbehaves, her parents will not be able to use spanking as a method of controlling her. Scientists say that if pain were not useful, evolution would have eliminated it.

But most persons, without engaging in deep thought, are convinced pain is a bad thing. Most of it serves no useful purpose that they can see. Anesthetics have been invented to quell it. Pain causes suffering, neurosis, shock. And in other cases, where it could be a valuable aid to early diagnosis of some dreaded diseases, it gives no warning until the condition becomes incurable.

The threshold of pain varies sharply in individuals. Whether little Beverly's painlessness proves to be a handicap or a blessing (it is incurable in either case) will depend on how well she becomes adjusted to it. But many persons will be envious of her.

England Relents

In England, where a man once was hanged for a misdemeanor as trifling as stealing a loaf of bread, the House of Commons has voted to abolish the death penalty for murder during a trial period of five years. This is a policy of the Labor government. The Conservatives opposed it and the Liberals took a neutral attitude.

England usually is not troubled with crime to the extent America is but recently criminal violence has been increasing there. Scarcities have created gangs who steal what they lack and murder is sometimes committed in the process.

The United States has blown hot and cold on the death penalty, one state occasionally abandoning it and another returning to it. The weight of evidence supplied by penal authorities is that the death penalty is no deterrent—indeed its violence is suspected of stimulating violence. But when crime is rampant, public demand for restoration of the death penalty becomes irresistible.

It is curious, though, that England, which has been adamant in its administration of justice during the past, should relent in such stern times.

Decrease In Ear Complications

Penicillin and streptomycin have raised old Ned with ear infections. Moreover, complications like mastoid disease are becoming exceedingly rare. Nose and throat specialists will agree to this statement; and in some of our larger hospitals, only one or two cases of mastoids are admitted annually. Fifteen years ago, many beds had to be set aside for youngsters with this malady.

Ear infections usually follow a cold, tonsilitis, influenza, measles, or scarlet fever. In the past, ear drops were used to control pain and, unless the drum was opened surgically, there was no other choice than to await rupture of the membrane. All too often this lead to further difficulties; some developed mastoiditis and others were left with an infected ear that drained periodically for years. Many individuals who are deaf today can trace their trouble to episodes of this nature.

Nowadays, when little Dick's temperature goes up and he complains of earache, penicillin or one of the sulfonamides is started. If treatment is begun early, the inflammatory process frequently subsides spontaneously. An incision through the drum is not necessary unless it is evident that pus is accumulating and the structure is about to burst. Even if surgery is performed the discharge diminishes much more quickly if the wonder drugs are used. Furthermore, such remedies prevent the infection from spreading to the mastoid or damaging the delicate tissues. This explains why mastoiditis is seldom encountered today.

Chronic ear disturbances in adults are still seen because of inadequate care 15 or more years ago. Penicillin or the sulfonamides help but in some, the causative germs are not affected. Streptomycin frequently offers relief in cases of this type.

The antibiotics are now incorporated into various solutions which are inserted directly into the ear. Rawlings, for example, dissolved penicillin in a solution of alcohol and glycerin and, after thoroughly cleansing the ear, had the victim lie on a table with the head resting on the good side. The canal was then filled with the solution and allowed to soak for 20 minutes. This was done every day for a week and, at the end of that time, all evidence of the disorder disappeared in the majority.

Newer antibiotics will unquestionably be prepared. Each will have its own sphere of usefulness, depending upon the causative germs. We have been fortunate so far in obtaining drugs that are lethal to the more common microorganisms, particularly in ear infections. This form of therapy has not entirely abolished surgery. In some cases it is still needed and, when used in conjunction with chemotherapy, offers an unbeatable team for treating such maladies.

Not unless the children are sensitive to dog hair or dander.

BODY MECHANICS

L, D. wries: My father and I are always arguing on the subject of sitting with crossed legs. I claim it does not matter but my father says it is bad for my "insides." Who is right?

You are, since the internal organs are not affected. While the practice of crossing the knees may shift the wearing bearing centers, most of us find that shifting to this posture induces relaxation.

Food and Size

Mrs. P. writes: Can a pregnant woman go on a diet that will control the baby's weight?

Reply

No. Studies during the war demonstrated that starving women frequently gave birth to children of normal size. A diet may help to keep your own weight down, especially if you anticipate a gain of more than 25 pounds.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Well, the major league baseball season is a week old. . .baseball. . . that's an old American expression meaning "Hey, Mabel...pass the mustard. . .I want to see how the umpire looks in yellow."

In Washington President Truman threw out the first ball, but the start of the game was delayed quite a while . . .the catcher was a republican and kept throwing it back.

That opening game in Washington must have been very interesting to watch, every time the umpire called a strike John L. Lewis rushed down on the field, shook his hand, and helped him dust off the plate with his eyebrows.

Of course, Crosby threw out the first ball for Pittsburgh's opening game. He had a little accident though. When he made the pitch his girdle broke and 35 people got bounced out of the stadium.

It's very funny the way Crosby bought the Pirates. He was burying money in the cellar one day and there they were.

I'm pretty interested in the Cleveland team. I happen to be a minor stockholder. "Minor stockholder" means I get to keep all the foul balls hit near my free seat in the bleachers.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Mrs. Roosevelt May Deal Truman Hard Political Blow; Sen. Donnell Begins Tidelands Oil Hearings Today; Taft's Policies Not Popular In Ohio

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 3—If Mrs. Roosevelt does what her friends say she's going to do about Harry Truman it's going to be one of the hardest political blows the President has ever taken—also a big personal disappointment.

Only a few insiders know it, but President Truman has counted on Mrs. Roosevelt to help him swing his renomination. That was one thing he had in mind when he first appointed Mrs. R. to the United Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt was first asked to be a delegates to UNESCO, the United Nations educational and cultural subsidiary. This she turned down. Then Secretary of State Jimmie Byrnes suggested to Truman that she be made a full U. S. delegate to the UN.

Truman was delighted with the idea. He remarked that it was important to keep the Roosevelt family affiliated with his administration and that this would have an important effect upon the Democratic convention when his own renomination came up.

Truman even took the trouble to call Mrs. Roosevelt himself so as to make sure she accepted the UN job.

Now, however, word from Roosevelt circles is that Mrs. R. will not only oppose Harry for renomination, but may have a friendly talk with him, urging him not to run.

Oil Lobby

Hard-working Senator Donnell of Missouri begins important hearings today on the most powerful lobby Washington has seen in a long time —tidelands oil.

Donnell and Harry Truman, both from Missouri, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, don't agree on a lot of things. But they do agree that the vast reserve of oil under the ocean bottom—namely tidelands oil—belongs to the Federal Government. And if Donnell is able to uncover some of the big money that was put into Truman's campaign by the big oil boys who thought they were influencing future tidelands votes, then it should be noted to President Truman's credit that he remained true to his convictions, not his political friends.

There is one phase of the tidelands oil pressure group that bears especial attention. It is the fact that exactly the same gang which overcharged the U. S. Navy for Arabian oil, which finagled lush loans from the U. S. Treasury for King Ibn Saud of Arabia, and which lobbied to kill the partition of Palestine, is now pulling wires to turn the rich tidelands oil reserve over to the coastal states—with considerable benefit to the oil companies.

In other words, Standard Oil of California and the Texas Oil Company, backed by the Guaranty Trust Company and various big bankers, are the real people to watch both in regard to the Arab lobby and tidelands oil. They go hand in hand.

Note — It's significant that the Wall Street firm of James V. Forrestal, now the most potent man in the Cabinet, once handled the finances of Arab-American oil interests. Forrestal is the man who persuaded Truman to kill the partition of Palestine, thus leaving the United Nations and the Near East with about the worst international mess since the war ended.

Taft's Ohio

One thing you have to remember about Senator Taft and the important Taft-Stassen primary today, is that Taft policies haven't been too popular in the Senator's home state. There is respect for the Taft courage and the Taft family, but no great love for Taft policies. For instance:

While a Republican Congress, led by Taft, was cutting the Federal budget to ribbons, the state of Ohio, also led by Republicans, was doing just the opposite. In 1947-48, the overwhelmingly controlled Republican Ohio legislature, and the Republican Governor of Ohio increased the state budget 47 per cent over Ohio's 1945-46 expenditures under Democratic Governor Frank Lausche.

Yet, in the Senate, Taft has been one of the most efficient leaders for a contrary policy.

Senator Thomas's Speculators

One of the most interesting figures among the unique assortment of characters who had the run of Oklahoma Senator Thomas's office at the height of his speculating days was Robert M. Harriss of the Harriss & Vose brokerage firm.

It was Bob Harriss who handled Father Coughlin's deals when he was speculating in silver and who also handled the cotton operations of the Mrs. Elmer Thomas, the Senator's wife.

Snuggling close to both Senator Thomas and Robert Harriss have been two state agricultural commissioners, A. E. MacDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia. Harriss has worked with both men on various cotton deals.

The way Senator Thomas's office has been used is somewhat like this:

When the Senator from Oklahoma blasted proposals to control prices, naturally prices rose. When Thomas forecast good crops, prices dropped. When the Senator made a speech on the proposed policy of the Department of Agriculture, the market reacted. Advance knowledge of the Senator's speeches naturally meant a windfall to men like Harriss. He could buy or sell cotton just before one of the Senator's speeches.

Agricultural commissioners MacDonald and Linder of Texas and Georgia were also important in this respect. They are artists at making angry protests against farm legislation. These protests sometimes influence the commodity market.

Bob Harrass has been so successful on the market that he has built up a beautiful estate on Long Island reputedly worth a million dollars. The estate is called Barcarol.

Visiting him on this estate last summer were none other than Texas commissioner MacDonald and his wife. They were on a vacation trip to Canada. Before they left, MacDonald's good friend, broker Harriss, went into Southampton along with MacDonald, stopped at the establishment of Walter Rutyner, DeSoto automobile dealer, and they bought a shiny new De Soto for MacDonald's vacation trip.

MATTER OF FACT

By STEWART ALSOP

The Sum And The Parts

ROME—

WILL THE European Recovery Program make possible a real recovery in Italy, or can a free Italy survive only as a permanent pensioner of the United States? As the political placards are torn down, as the excitement of the election fade into memory, that remains the great conundrum, not only for Italy but for every nation of non-Soviet Europe. Moreover, with the Communists increasingly isolated, with a stable government at last in prospect, the European Recovery Program should have a fair test here.

Especially among Italian conservatives and nationalists, there are those who predict flatly (and with an odd lugubrious pleasure) that the test is bound to fail. These gloomy prophets are by no means fools, and their reasoning is worth a hearing. Its key is a word which the reporter in Italy always sooner or later hears in every conversation with an Italian, whether Premier Alcide de Gasperi or a chance acquaintance in a lobby. The word is "emigration." For as one observer rather brutally put it, "the Italians must export to live, and most of what they must export is Italians."

The facts are simple. There is a net yearly population increase of between 400,000 and 500,000 on this crowded peninsula. Except by emigration (or by those traditional methods, famine and war) there is no way in which this constant increase can be controlled, first because this is a Catholic country, and second because the Italian peasant or worker has always regarded a large family as a form of old-age insurance.

Premier de Gasperi hopes to find living space abroad for 200,000 Italians every year. Yet even if this hope is fulfilled, the pessimists point out, the Italian population will still shoot up by a million people every four years. And how can this poor country, they ask, a country almost without natural resources, hope to feed and clothe and shelter these people? Even now there are almost 2,000,000 unemployed, many agricultural workers live little better than animals, and millions of industrial laborers work only part time, twenty or twenty-four hours a week.

The central and eastern European markets for Italy's delicious fruits and vegetables are largely cut off. The world's rich, squeezed by taxation even in the rich United States, no longer buy Italy's fine silk and Carrara marble and specially built luxury cars. Without native raw materials, Italy cannot hope to compete in world markets in heavy industry. And above all, everywhere in the world the doors are closed or closing on Italy's teeming population excess. Italy could survive in the old world of open borders and open markets, but not today. Thus the European Recovery Program is no more than a means of postponing, for four short years, the inevitable catastrophe.

Thus argue the pessimists, in this immoderately cheerful country, there is a certain grim logic in their reasoning. Yet it is interesting that not one of the hard-hearted American experts here subscribes to this reasoning. The experts do not maintain that Italy can recover.

Much will of course depend on the Italians themselves. More than is generally realized has already been accomplished. Inflation has been controlled. Production is on the increase. Reconstruction of the vast war damage is under way. The Italians are eager to work; no one can spend even a week or so here without sensing the enormous vitality of the Italian people.

Much remains to be done, and Premier de Gasperi, although he expects opposition from the conservatives in his own party, is determined that it shall be done. He and his advisers speak of tax reform, land reform, irrigation schemes, plans for the reorganization of the chaotic Italian industry.

Yet even all this—and here again the experts are unanimous — will not be enough. Italy can recover, but Italy cannot recover alone, as a separate economic and political entity. To this extent the prophets of doom are entirely correct.

To a remarkable degree, the conviction is growing here that the European whole is greater than the sum of all its parts; that not only Italy but England and France and all the western European nations can only recover permanently as integral parts of a politically and economically unified western Europe. The more far-seeing go further, predicting that the recovery of Europe, even after unification, will depend upon the political and economic organization of the whole non-Soviet world. Only thus, it must be admitted, can fundamental solutions be found for such problems as the Italian population surplus.

These ideas have already found preliminary expression in the Western Union, which Italy may soon be invited to join. Yet the Western Union is no more than a start. Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza has remarked half jokingly that he expects Europe to be united, but "in about eighty years," some seventy-odd years too late.

Certainly there are immense obstacles to real western European unity. Yet the ruthless policy of the Soviet Union will continue to act as a lash driving the western European nations to unite. And the United States, in the European Recovery Program, has provided the means. Thus it is at last possible to hope. That is at least something of which Americans may be proud.

Right To Work Decisions By Examiners Of NLRB Important

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 3. — The right to work—unmolested by the threats or acts of violence on the picket line—may find new affirmation if some decisions just rendered by trial examiners are upheld by the National Labor Relations Board and the courts.

When the Taft-Hartley Act was passed, there were suggestions that coercion against individual workers by other workers or unions was prohibited, but not until the case just handed down by a trial examiner for the labor board has the issue been raised.

Specifically, Martin S. Bennett, trial examiner, held that two labor unions were jointly guilty of "coercing and restraining employees" in connection with a labor dispute at Salem, Ind. He ruled that the coercion was manifested "by the carrying of sticks or clubs by pickets, the threatening of employees, the blocking of the plant entrances by railroad ties, automobiles and raised gutter plates, the piling of bricks for use by pickets, and the assaults upon employees of the company."

Other acts of violence enumerated, for which Mr. Bennett held the unions guilty, included "overturning a non-striker's automobile as he was leaving the plant and an assault upon a non-striker and his family while they were driving along the highway."

Unions' Responsibility

The trial examiner says a union and its officers cannot escape responsibility for what its pickets do. He declares:

"By the very appointment of these men to office, the organizations have manifested an intent to be represented by these officials and are bound by their activities in the absence of any evidence to the contrary. When duly selected officials and representatives of labor organizations engage in conduct forbidden by the act, the only inference to be drawn is that they are acting within the scope, actual or apparent, of their employment and that their co-participants have likewise been authorized to so act . . .this conduct of these officials and their co-participants must perforce be held attributable to the respondents (unions)."

This is the first time that any federal statute for many years has covered violence on the picket lines. This is something that the employers and unions have heretofore had to deal with under state laws and injunctions. But inasmuch as the Wagner Labor Relations Act utilized the federal police power to punish workers, now the Taft-Hartley Act comes along to punish coercion when applied by workers or unions versus workers.

Another trial examiner, Sidney Lindner, has ruled that a union be required to stop even peaceful picketing when it is in support of a secondary boycott, which is specifically banned by the Taft-Hartley Act. This occurred in a case in Montgomery, Alabama, where a strike of a department store's carpenters was called to force the company to cease doing business with a building contractor who was employing non-union carpenters on a renovation project for the store. Mr. Lindner rejected the contention of the union that the carpenters actually quit their jobs and gave up their status as employees since all but one of the strikers took jobs elsewhere. The examiner's opinion said:

Wide Distinction

"There is a wide distinction between a worker quitting his job for any reason or no reason, on the one hand, and a concerted cessation of production by workers who seek to win a point from management on the other hand. In the instant case it is abundantly clear, as heretofore found, that the respondent's (union's) members concertedly ceased their work upon the respondent's instructions. Such a situation leads to only one conclusion, there was a strike by the respondent union and its members."

The two foregoing decisions of trial examiners will go before the National Labor Relations Board. Under Wagner Act cases, this almost always meant board approval, but the majority of the present board is still steeper in Wagner Act prejudices which have regarded unions as sacrosanct even when they committed acts of violence. It will be interesting to see if the two decisions are upheld. If they are, a new era has dawned on the labor front, the workers of America have truly been emancipated, and the right to work has been reaffirmed.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Paul Robeson's Secret

The Associated Press states:

"COLUMBUS, April 16 — Paul Robeson, colored operatic singer, told a colored editor here yesterday it was none of his 'damn business' whether he was a Communist.

"In a news conference . . . Mr. Robeson gave the reply to a question by George Lawrence, managing editor of the Ohio State News, colored weekly here.

"'The last person in the world I would expect to ask that question,' Mr. Robeson added, 'would be a negro and a representative of the negro press. This is no longer a matter of Communism; it's a matter of civil rights. Draw your own conclusions.'"

Paul Robeson's error is that a man who projects himself into the public life of this country can have no secrets. His affairs are the public's business. His hearers and readers, his supporters and opponents have a right to know his background. That is one reason for the popularity of "Who's Who In America." It gives an index to the mind of the public figure by recounting his origin, his activities and his associations.

In his authorized account of his life, Paul Robeson gives considerable data concerning his academic career, which is notable: A.B. and Honorary M.A., Rutgers; LL. B. Columbia; L.H.D. Hamilton, Moorhouse, Howard. The account also tells of his achievements on the stage and his tours and travels. But it says not one word of his politics to which, in recent years, he has devoted himself. Apparently, that he wishes to keep secret while he stands in the agitational limelight. Congressional files show him to be most active in joining Fellow-Traveler organizations and in signing such petitions and sponsoring such causes as the Communists project. Altogether his name appears 74 times in this connection.

Whether he is or is not a member of the Communist Party, he will not say. But he has been acting in public as though he were a member, and if this is innocence, it is of a kind that is wholly onesided. In a word, his innocence follows a pattern of lack of intelligence or hatred for American institutions. Certainly, no one with so many degrees can be quite so innocent.

So he says that it is no one's damn business whether he is or is not a Communist. Yet, Taft, Dewey, Stassen, Martin and Vandenberg are willing to say that they are Republicans, and Truman and thousands of others that they are Democrats. They find no need for concealing their party affiliations. Why are so many ashamed or afraid to say whether they are or are not Communists?

The answer is, of course, simple: As Communists are now unpopular, some of these men and women are unwilling to make themselves totally unacceptable. Furthermore, there is a growing acknowledgement of the incontestable fact that the Communists and their Fellow-Travelers constitute a Fifth Column for Soviet Russia in the United States.

Each one of them is suspected of being a spy and a saboteur, a hidden enemy of this nation. Therefore, they seek to avoid being labeled for what they are.

Secondly, those who say that they are not Communists, and are, never know when the President and the Attorney General will authorize J. Edgar Hoover to make public the vast data on the subject which the FBI has accumulated.

The Administration is still protecting the secrecy of the Communists and their associates and the President is quarreling with Congress over loyalty records, but the Communists and their associates know that the day will come when Mr. Truman will fight Communism in the United States as he fought it in Italy.

The courage of George Lawrence of the "Ohio State News" is to be lauded. He is in a class with Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, of the American Jewish League Against Communism, who has risked personal attack in this fight. On the eve of a visit to Los Angeles with his anti-Communist message, Rabbi Schultz discovered that a campaign had been organized to discredit him and to bring upon him unpopularity among his own people. That record will have to await the day when American officialdom develops the courage to fight this cancer in American life domestically as well as abroad.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Newspaper Editors

I have recently been privileged to attend the annual gathering of Editors from all over America. I am not the Editor of a newspaper, so, of course, am ineligible to join their fine organization, but I am an unordained Editor, and two-thirds of my life has been spent in contacting these excellent and able men who have made American newspapers the envy of the world.

These men, who make possible the excellence of your daily newspaper, are great citizens and human beings. They seek to interpret the temper and thoughts, as well as the ideals, of their readers. They know they are not infallible, but they are sincere, courageous and outspoken. They exert an enormous influence in a community, and more than any other institution guard your freedom and liberty of action.

The American and Canadian press is the freest on earth. Of course, these Editors are human beings, just like their readers, so that they make mistakes and do foolish things at times. But they are inspirers of faith in the territory in which their newspapers circulate, and often far beyond.

The Editor is a secular minister, often with a prophet's voice. He is the pastor to his great flock every day in the year. His fingers touch the pulse of public opinion, not alone when it is in a state of health, but when it gets ill, with trouble brewing. Editors build up or tear down the tone of their town. Every community gets just about the kind of a newspaper that it deserves, and the Editor is the go-between—for up or down!

We ought to have more Editors in our legislative halls. I believe that we would have fewer new laws submitted, and more of the laws already on the books either repealed or better enforced. These Editors are extremely realistic. They look upon their jobs as public trusts and take pride in the opportunity for service through the columns of their newspapers.

Senator Vandenberg and Senator Capper were both former Editors, the latter, now the dean of the Senate, a newspaper man and publisher to this day. And Joe Martin, the Speaker, is also an Editor and Publisher of a newspaper. You can't hide an Editor.

Those Atomic Energy Control Appointments

Certain newspapers which oppose the Republican party have raised the cry of "partisan politics" because a group of Republicans in Congress object to confirming the President's reappointment of David Lilienthal to head the Atomic Energy Control Commission for another five years.

The charge of politics here is distinctly on the wrong foot. The Republicans object to confirming long-term presidential appointments in what seem to be the closing months of the Democratic Administration. For 15 years now Federal administrative and judicial offices have been packed with New Dealers or Democrats. Naturally, the majority party in Congress objects to having a shoal of partisan appointments rushed through at the last minute.

The atomic energy appointments are a special case, involving White House politics. Under the McMahon Act the five commissioners were named for a term of one year, expiring late in August, 1948. Future appointments are to run from one to five years, to assure continuous direction of the commission.

Mr. Truman could have waited until the present Congress adjourned this summer and then re-appointed the commissioners until after the November 2 election. In that way, the new Congress, and probably a new President, could have named Lilienthal for one-year appointment, which was quite agreeable to Mr. Lilienthal, who wants to avert another controversy this year.

Instead, without consulting the congressional committee that will have to handle the appointment, Mr. Truman named Lilienthal to the five-year term. If he had wanted to pick a quarrel with Congress he could hardly have done better. His action was taken as a deliberate slap in the face for Congress.

A compromise is still possible. The President can ask Congress to extend all appointments for a year after their expiration in August. That would avert any controversy in these closing and politically hot months of the session. Mr. Truman's course up to now has been embarrassing to everybody, including Lilienthal.

Cumberland's Clean-Up Crusade Produces Results

Cumberland has had her first rubbish clean-up since before the war. It was one of a series of activities launched by the Junior Association of Commerce for this spring season which have for their ultimate goal a brighter, cleaner and healthier city.

The setting aside of Sunday for this portion of the cleansing crusade, which includes painting and outside tiding-up in general, was probably the most advantageous time to permit members of the Jaycees organization to assist in the work on trucks and to supervise the gathering of trash placed on curbs.

But it had its disadvantages, too, because many persons neglected to put the rubbish on the curb until too late to have it gathered. The delay was due to a number of reasons. Some put it off until after they attended church, others didn't get to the task in time because they slept late, while still others hesitated to litter up curbs too early on the Sabbath.

In spite of all these interferences with good intentions on the part of householders, a total of 110 truck loads of trash was hauled to the city dump. To be sure, it was much less than should have been expected when it is recalled that there had not been such a clean-up in the past six years, at least, and the accummulation over such a period should have produced a greater bulk of discarded items, it is believed. Or, maybe, Cumberland premises are a darn sight cleaner than anyone would have been led to believe.

Is Pain Necessary?

It is confusing to read of one-year-old Beverly Smith, who will never be able to feel pain. Should people be glad for her or sorry?

Pain is not popular, but it has its uses. Little Beverly is already a trial to her parents because she goes around bumping her head and burning her hand and thinking nothing of it. If she gets appendicitis, how will they know? If she breaks a leg, she may injure herself badly because there will be no pain to warn her to lie still.

If she misbehaves, her parents will not be able to use spanking as a method of controlling her. Scientists say that if pain were not useful, evolution would have eliminated it.

But most persons, without engaging in deep thought, are convinced pain is a bad thing. Most of it serves no useful purpose that they can see. Anesthetics have been invented to quell it. Pain causes suffering, neurosis, shock. And in other cases, where it could be a valuable aid to early diagnosis of some dreaded diseases, it gives no warning until the condition becomes incurable.

The threshold of pain varies sharply in individuals. Whether little Beverly's painlessness proves to be a handicap or a blessing (it is incurable in either case) will depend on how well she becomes adjusted to it. But many persons will be envious of her.

England Relents

In England, where a man once was hanged for a misdemeanor as trifling as stealing a loaf of bread, the House of Commons has voted to abolish the death penalty for murder during a trial period of five years. This is a policy of the Labor government. The Conservatives opposed it and the Liberals took a neutral attitude.

England usually is not troubled with crime to the extent America is but recently criminal violence has been increasing there. Scarcities have created gangs who steal what they lack and murder is sometimes committed in the process.

The United States has blown hot and cold on the death penalty, one state occasionally abandoning it and another returning to it. The weight of evidence supplied by penal authorities is that the death penalty is no deterrent—indeed its violence is suspected of stimulating violence. But when crime is rampant, public demand for restoration of the death penalty becomes irresistible.

It is curious, though, that England, which has been adamant in its administration of justice during the past, should relent in such stern times.

Decrease In Ear Complications

Penicillin and streptomycin have raised old Ned with ear infections. Moreover, complications like mastoid disease are becoming exceedingly rare. Nose and throat specialists will agree to this statement; and in some of our larger hospitals, only one or two cases of mastoids are admitted annually. Fifteen years ago, many beds had to be set aside for youngsters with this malady.

Ear infections usually follow a cold, tonsilitis, influenza, measles, or scarlet fever. In the past, ear drops were used to control pain and, unless the drum was opened surgically, there was no other choice than to await rupture of the membrane. All too often this lead to further difficulties; some developed mastoiditis and others were left with an infected ear that drained periodically for years. Many individuals who are deaf today can trace their trouble to episodes of this nature.

Nowadays, when little Dick's temperature goes up and he complains of earache, penicillin or one of the sulfonamides is started. If treatment is begun early, the inflammatory process frequently subsides spontaneously. An incision through the drum is not necessary unless it is evident that pus is accumulating and the structure is about to burst. Even if surgery is performed the discharge diminishes much more quickly if the wonder drugs are used. Furthermore, such remedies prevent the infection from spreading to the mastoid or damaging the delicate tissues. This explains why mastoiditis is seldom encountered today.

Chronic ear disturbances in adults are still seen because of inadequate care 15 or more years ago. Penicillin or the sulfonamides help but in some, the causative germs are not affected. Streptomycin frequently offers relief in cases of this type.

The antibiotics are now incorporated into various solutions which are inserted directly into the ear. Rawlings, for example, dissolved penicillin in a solution of alcohol and glycerin and, after thoroughly cleansing the ear, had the victim lie on a table with the head resting on the good side. The canal was then filled with the solution and allowed to soak for 20 minutes. This was done every day for a week and, at the end of that time, all evidence of the disorder disappeared in the majority.

Newer antibiotics will unquestionably be prepared. Each will have its own sphere of usefulness, depending upon the causative germs. We have been fortunate so far in obtaining drugs that are lethal to the more common microorganisms, particularly in ear infections. This form of therapy has not entirely abolished surgery. In some cases it is still needed and, when used in conjunction with chemotherapy, offers an unbeatable team for treating such maladies.

DOGS AS ALLERGENS

Mrs. M. writes: We have five children and a dog. Can the dog give the youngsters asthma?

Reply

Not unless the children are sensitive to dog hair or dander.

BODY MECHANICS

L. D. wries: My father and I are always arguing on the subject of sitting with crossed legs. I claim it does not matter but my father says it is bad for my "insides." Who is right?

Reply

You are, since the internal organs are not affected. While the practice of crossing the knees may shift the wearing bearing centers, most of us find that shifting to this posture induces relaxation.

Food and Size

Mrs. P. wishes to know if a pregnant woman go on a diet that will control the baby's weight?

Reply

No. Studies during the war demonstrated that starving women frequently gave birth to children of normal size. A diet may help to keep your own weight down, especially if you anticipate a gain of more than 25 pounds.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Well, the major league baseball season is a week old. . .baseball. . . that's an old American expression meaning "Hey, Mabel...pass the mustard. . .I want to see how the umpire looks in yellow."

In Washington President Truman threw out the first ball, but the start of the game was delayed quite a while . . .the catcher was a republican and kept throwing it back.

That opening game in Washington must have been very interesting to watch, every time the umpire called a strike John L. Lewis rushed down on the field, shook his hand, and helped him dust off the plate with his eyebrows.

Of course, Crosby threw out the first ball for Pittsburgh's opening game. He had a little accident though. When he made the pitch his girdle broke and 35 people got bounced out of the stadium.

It's very funny the way Crosby bought the Pirates. He was burying money in the cellar one day and there they were.

I'm pretty interested in the Cleveland team. I happen to be a minor stockholder. "Minor stockholder" means I get to keep all the foul balls hit near my free seat in the bleachers.

Mrs. Roosevelt May Deal Truman Hard Political Blow; Sen. Donnell Begins Tidelands Oil Hearings Today; Taft's Policies Not Popular In Ohio

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 3—If Mrs. Roosevelt does what her friends say she's going to do about Harry Truman it's going to be one of the hardest political blows the President has ever taken—also a big personal disappointment.

Only a few insiders know it, but President Truman has counted on Mrs. Roosevelt to help him swing his renomination. That was one thing he had in mind when he first appointed Mrs. R. to the United Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt was first asked to be a delegates to UNESCO, the United Nations educational and cultural subsidiary. This she turned down. Then Secretary of State Jimmie Byrnes suggested to Truman that she be made a full U. S. delegate to the UN.

Truman was delighted with the idea. He remarked that it was important to keep the Roosevelt family affiliated with his administration and that this would have an important effect upon the Democratic convention when his own renomination came up.

Truman even took the trouble to call Mrs. Roosevelt himself so as to make sure she accepted the UN job.

Now, however, word from Roosevelt circles is that Mrs. R. will not only oppose Harry for renomination, but may have a friendly talk with him, urging him not to run.

Oil Lobby

Hard-working Senator Donnell of Missouri begins important hearings today on the most powerful lobby Washington has seen in a long time —tidelands oil.

Donnell and Harry Truman, both from Missouri, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, don't agree on a lot of things. But they do agree that the vast reserve of oil under the ocean bottom—namely tidelands oil—belongs to the Federal Government. And if Donnell is able to uncover some of the big money that was put into Truman's campaign by the big oil boys who thought they were influencing future tidelands votes, then it should be noted to President Truman's credit that he remained true to his convictions, not his political friends.

There is one phase of the tidelands oil pressure group that bears especial attention. It is the fact that exactly the same gang which overcharged the U. S. Navy for Arabian oil, which finagled lush loans from the U. S. Treasury for King Ibn Saud of Arabia, and which lobbied to kill the partition of Palestine, is now pulling wires to turn the rich tidelands oil reserve over to the coastal states—with considerable benefit to the oil companies.

In other words, Standard Oil of California and the Texas Oil Company, backed by the Guaranty Trust Company and various big bankers, are the real people to watch both in regard to the Arab lobby and tidelands oil. They go hand in hand.

Note — It's significant that the Wall Street firm of James V. Forrestal, now the most potent man in the Cabinet, once handled the finances of Arab-American oil interests. Forrestal is the man who persuaded Truman to kill the partition of Palestine, thus leaving the United Nations and the Near East with about the worst international mess since the war ended.

Taft's Ohio

One thing you have to remember about Senator Taft and the important Taft-Stassen primary today, is that Taft policies haven't been too popular in the Senator's home state. There is respect for the Taft courage and the Taft family, but no great love for Taft policies. For instance:

While a Republican Congress, led by Taft, was cutting the Federal budget to ribbons, the state of Ohio, also led by Republicans, was doing just the opposite. In 1947-48, the overwhelmingly controlled Republican Ohio legislature, and the Republican Governor of Ohio increased the state budget 47 per cent over Ohio's 1945-46 expenditures under Democratic Governor Frank Lausche.

Yet, in the Senate, Taft has been one of the most efficient leaders for a contrary policy.

Senator Thomas's Speculators

One of the most interesting figures among the unique assortment of characters who had the run of Oklahoma Senator Thomas's office at the height of his speculating days was Robert M. Harriss of the Harriss & Vose brokerage firm.

It was Bob Harriss who handled Father Coughlin's deals when he was speculating in silver and who also handled the cotton operations of the Mrs. Elmer Thomas, the Senator's wife.

Snuggling close to both Senator Thomas and Robert Harriss have been two state agricultural commissioners, A. E. MacDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia. Harriss has worked with both men on various cotton deals.

The way Senator Thomas's office has been used is somewhat like this:

When the Senator from Oklahoma blasted proposals to control prices, naturally prices rose. When Thomas forecast good crops, prices dropped. When the Senator made a speech on the proposed policy of the Department of Agriculture, the market reacted. Advance knowledge of the Senator's speeches naturally meant a windfall to men like Harriss. He could buy or sell cotton just before one of the Senator's speeches.

Agricultural commissioners MacDonald and Linder of Texas and Georgia were also important in this respect. They are artists at making angry protests against farm legislation. These protests sometimes influence the commodity market.

Bob Harrass has been so successful on the market that he has built up a beautiful estate on Long Island reputedly worth a million dollars. The estate is called Barcarol.

Visiting him on this estate last summer were none other than Texas commissioner MacDonald and his wife. They were on a vacation trip to Canada. Before they left, MacDonald's good friend, broker Harriss, went into Southampton along with MacDonald, stopped at the establishment of Walter Rutyner, DeSoto automobile dealer, and they bought a shiny new De Soto for MacDonald's vacation trip.

MATTER OF FACT

By STEWART ALSOP

The Sum And The Parts

ROME—

WILL THE European Recovery Program make possible a real recovery in Italy, or can a free Italy survive only as a permanent pensioner of the United States? As the political placards are torn down, as the excitement of the election fade into memory, that remains the great conundrum, not only for Italy but for every nation of non-Soviet Europe. Moreover, with the Communists increasingly isolated, with a stable government at last in prospect, the European Recovery Program should have a fair test here.

Especially among Italian conservatives and nationalists, there are those who predict flatly (and with an odd lugubrious pleasure) that the test is bound to fail. These gloomy prophets are by no means fools, and their reasoning is worth a hearing. Its key is a word which the reporter in Italy always sooner or later hears in every conversation with an Italian, whether Premier Alcide de Gasperi or a chance acquaintance in a lobby. The word is "emigration." For as one observer rather brutally put it, "the Italians must export to live, and most of what they must export is Italians."

The facts are simple. There is a net yearly population increase of between 400,000 and 500,000 on this crowded peninsula. Except by emigration (or by those traditional methods, famine and war) there is no way in which this constant increase can be controlled, first because this is a Catholic country, and second because the Italian peasant or worker has always regarded a large family as a form of old-age insurance.

Premier de Gasperi hopes to find living space abroad for 200,000 Italians every year. Yet even if this hope is fulfilled, the pessimists point out, the Italian population will still shoot up by a million people every four years. And how can this poor country, they ask, a country almost without natural resources, hope to feed and clothe and shelter these people? Even now there are almost 2,000,000 unemployed, many agricultural workers live little better than animals, and millions of industrial laborers work only part time, twenty or twenty-four hours a week.

The central and eastern European markets for Italy's delicious fruits and vegetables are largely cut off. The world's rich, squeezed by taxation even in the rich United States, no longer buy Italy's fine silk and Carrara marble and specially built luxury cars. Without native raw materials, Italy cannot hope to compete in world markets in heavy industry. And above all, everywhere in the world the doors are closed or closing on Italy's teeming population excess. Italy could survive in the old world of open borders and open markets, but not today. Thus the European Recovery Program is no more than a means of postponing, for four short years, the inevitable catastrophe.

Thus argue the pessimists, in this immoderately cheerful country, there is a certain grim logic in their reasoning. Yet it is interesting that not one of the hard-hearted American experts here subscribes to this reasoning. The experts do not maintain that Italy can recover.

Much will of course depend on the Italians themselves. More than is generally realized has already been accomplished. Inflation has been controlled. Production is on the increase. Reconstruction of the vast war damage is under way. The Italians are eager to work; no one can spend even a week or so here without sensing the enormous vitality of the Italian people.

Much remains to be done, and Premier de Gasperi, although he expects opposition from the conservatives in his own party, is determined that it shall be done. He and his advisers speak of tax reform, land reform, irrigation schemes, plans for the reorganization of the chaotic Italian industry.

Yet even all this—and here again the experts are unanimous — will not be enough. Italy can recover, but Italy cannot recover alone, as a separate economic and political entity. To this extent the prophets of doom are entirely correct.

To a remarkable degree, the conviction is growing here that the European whole is greater than the sum of all its parts; that not only Italy but England and France and all the western European nations can only recover permanently as integral parts of a politically and economically unified western Europe. The more far-seeing go further, predicting that the recovery of Europe, even after unification, will depend upon the political and economic organization of the whole non-Soviet world. Only thus, it must be admitted, can fundamental solutions be found for such problems as the Italian population surplus.

These ideas have already found preliminary expression in the Western Union, which Italy may soon be invited to join. Yet the Western Union is no more than a start. Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza has remarked half jokingly that he expects Europe to be united, but "in about eighty years," some seventy-odd years too late.

Certainly there are immense obstacles to real western European unity. Yet the ruthless policy of the Soviet Union will continue to act as a lash driving the western European nations to unite. And the United States, in the European Recovery Program, has provided the means. Thus it is at last possible to hope. That is at least something of which Americans may be proud.

Right To Work Decisions By Examiners Of NLRB Important

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 3. — The right to work—unmolested by the threats or acts of violence on the picket line—may find new affirmation if some decisions just rendered by trial examiners are upheld by the National Labor Relations Board and the courts.

When the Taft-Hartley Act was passed, there were suggestions that coercion against individual workers by other workers or unions was prohibited, but not until the case just handed down by a trial examiner for the labor board has the issue been raised.

Specifically, Martin S. Bennett, trial examiner, held that two labor unions were jointly guilty of "coercing and restraining employees" in connection with a labor dispute at Salem, Ind. He ruled that the coercion was manifested "by the carrying of sticks or clubs by pickets, the threatening of employees, the blocking of the plant entrances by railroad ties, automobiles and raised gutter plates, the piling of bricks for use by pickets, and the assaults upon employees of the company."

Other acts of violence enumerated, for which Mr. Bennett held the unions guilty, included "overturning a non-striker's automobile as he was leaving the plant and an assault upon a non-striker and his family while they were driving along the highway."

Unions' Responsibility

The trial examiner says a union and its officers cannot escape responsibility for what its pickets do. He declares:

"By the very appointment of these men to office, the organizations have manifested an intent to be represented by these officials and are bound by their activities in the absence of any evidence to the contrary. When duly selected officials and representatives of labor organizations engage in conduct forbidden by the act, the only inference to be drawn is that they are acting within the scope, actual or apparent, of their employment and that their co-participants have likewise been authorized to so act . . .this conduct of these officials and their co-participants must perforce be held attributable to the respondents (unions)."

This is the first time that any federal statute for many years has covered violence on the picket lines. This is something that the employers and unions have heretofore had to deal with under state laws and injunctions. But inasmuch as the Wagner Labor Relations Act utilized the federal police power to punish workers, now the Taft-Hartley Act comes along to punish coercion when applied by workers or unions versus workers.

Another trial examiner, Sidney Lindner, has ruled that a union be required to stop even peaceful picketing when it is in support of a secondary boycott, which is specifically banned by the Taft-Hartley Act. This occurred in a case in Montgomery, Alabama, where a strike of a department store's carpenters was called to force the company to cease doing business with a building contractor who was employing non-union carpenters on a renovation project for the store. Mr. Lindner rejected the contention of the union that the carpenters actually quit their jobs and gave up their status as employees since all but one of the strikers took jobs elsewhere. The examiner's opinion said:

Wide Distinction

"There is a wide distinction between a worker quitting his job for any reason or no reason, on the one hand, and a concerted cessation of production by workers who seek to win a point from management on the other hand. In the instant case it is abundantly clear, as heretofore found, that the respondent's (union's) members concertedly ceased their work upon the respondent's instructions. Such a situation leads to only one conclusion, there was a strike by the respondent union and its members."

The two foregoing decisions of trial examiners will go before the National Labor Relations Board. Under Wagner Act cases, this almost always meant board approval, but the majority of the present board is still steeper in Wagner Act prejudices which have regarded unions as sacrosanct even when they committed acts of violence. It will be interesting to see if the two decisions are upheld. If they are, a new era has dawned on the labor front, the workers of America have truly been emancipated, and the right to work has been reaffirmed.

Paul Robeson's Secret

The Associated Press states:

"COLUMBUS, April 16 — Paul Robeson, colored operatic singer, told a colored editor here yesterday it was none of his 'damn business' whether he was a Communist.

"In a news conference . . . Mr. Robeson gave the reply to a question by George Lawrence, managing editor of the Ohio State News, colored weekly here.

"'The last person in the world I would expect to ask that question,' Mr. Robeson added, 'would be a negro and a representative of the negro press. This is no longer a matter of Communism; it's a matter of civil rights. Draw your own conclusions.'"

Paul Robeson's error is that a man who projects himself into the public life of this country can have no secrets. His affairs are the public's business. His hearers and readers, his supporters and opponents have a right to know his background. That is one reason for the popularity of "Who's Who In America." It gives an index to the mind of the public figure by recounting his origin, his activities and his associations.

In his authorized account of his life, Paul Robeson gives considerable data concerning his academic career, which is notable: A.B. and Honorary M.A., Rutgers; LL. B. Columbia; L.H.D. Hamilton, Moorhouse, Howard. The account also tells of his achievements on the stage and his tours and travels. But it says not one word of his politics to which, in recent years, he has devoted himself. Apparently, that he wishes to keep secret while he stands in the agitational limelight. Congressional files show him to be most active in joining Fellow-Traveler organizations and in signing such petitions and sponsoring such causes as the Communists project. Altogether his name appears 74 times in this connection.

Whether he is or is not a member of the Communist Party, he will not say. But he has been acting in public as though he were a member, and if this is innocence, it is of a kind that is wholly onesided. In a word, his innocence follows a pattern of lack of intelligence or hatred for American institutions. Certainly, no one with so many degrees can be quite so innocent.

So he says that it is no one's damn business whether he is or is not a Communist. Yet, Taft, Dewey, Stassen, Martin and Vandenberg are willing to say that they are Republicans, and Truman and thousands of others that they are Democrats. They find no need for concealing their party affiliations. Why are so many ashamed or afraid to say whether they are or are not Communists?

The answer is, of course, simple: As Communists are now unpopular, some of these men and women are unwilling to make themselves totally unacceptable. Furthermore, there is a growing acknowledgement of the incontestable fact that the Communists and their Fellow-Travelers constitute a Fifth Column for Soviet Russia in the United States.

Each one of them is suspected of being a spy and a saboteur, a hidden enemy of this nation. Therefore, they seek to avoid being labeled for what they are.

Secondly, those who say that they are not Communists, and are, never know when the President and the Attorney General will authorize J. Edgar Hoover to make public the vast data on the subject which the FBI has accumulated.

The Administration is still protecting the secrecy of the Communists and their associates and the President is quarreling with Congress over loyalty records, but the Communists and their associates know that the day will come when Mr. Truman will fight Communism in the United States as he fought it in Italy.

The courage of George Lawrence of the "Ohio State News" is to be lauded. He is in a class with Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, of the American Jewish League Against Communism, who has risked personal attack in this fight. On the eve of a visit to Los Angeles with his anti-Communist message, Rabbi Schultz discovered that a campaign had been organized to discredit him and to bring upon him unpopularity among his own people. That record will have to await the day when American officialdom develops the courage to fight this cancer in American life domestically as well as abroad.

Today's Talk

Newspaper Editors

I have recently been privileged to attend the annual gathering of Editors from all over America. I am not the Editor of a newspaper, so, of course, am ineligible to join their fine organization, but I am an unordained Editor, and two-thirds of my life has been spent in contacting these excellent and able men who have made American newspapers the envy of the world.

These men, who make possible the excellence of your daily newspaper, are great citizens and human beings. They seek to interpret the temper and thoughts, as well as the ideals, of their readers. They know they are not infallible, but they are sincere, courageous and outspoken. They exert an enormous influence in a community, and more than any other institution guard your freedom and liberty of action.

The American and Canadian press is the freest on earth. Of course, these Editors are human beings, just like their readers, so that they make mistakes and do foolish things at times. But they are inspirers of faith in the territory in which their newspapers circulate, and often far beyond.

The Editor is a secular minister, often with a prophet's voice. He is the pastor to his great flock every day in the year. His fingers touch the pulse of public opinion, not alone when it is in a state of health, but when it gets ill, with trouble brewing. Editors build up or tear down the tone of their town. Every community gets just about the kind of a newspaper that it deserves, and the Editor is the go-between—for up or down!

We ought to have more Editors in our legislative halls. I believe that we would have fewer new laws submitted, and more of the laws already on the books either repealed or better enforced. These Editors are extremely realistic. They look upon their jobs as public trusts and take pride in the opportunity for service through the columns of their newspapers.

Senator Vandenberg and Senator Capper were both former Editors, the latter, now the dean of the Senate, a newspaper man and publisher to this day. And Joe Martin, the Speaker, is also an Editor and Publisher of a newspaper. You can't hide an Editor.

DEATHS

MRS. MARY G. MINKE

Mrs. Mary Gertrude Minke, 49, 216 Beall Street, died yesterday at 3 p. m. in Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since April 25.

A native of this city, she was a daughter of Mrs. Catherine Minke and the late Jacob J. Minke. Mrs. Minke was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

Surviving besides her mother are one son, John E. Hocking, one sister, Mrs. Agnes Pratt, two brothers, Jacob S. Minke and Thomas E. Minke, all of this city. One granddaughter also survives.

A funeral mass will be celebrated Friday at 9 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Church with interment in the church cemetery. The body will remain at the home of her son, 322 Davidson Street.

MELVIN E. RANKIN

Melvin Eugene Rankin, 35, 1015 Virginia Avenue, died at 3:30 p. m. Monday after a six-months illness.

He was a machinist in the spinning department of the Celanese. He was a member of Emmanuel Methodist Church and an active member of Fort Cumberland Lodge No, 211, A. F. and A. M. He was an all-around athlete, participating in various athletic events.

Surviving are his widow, Naomi Silvious Rankin, and one son, Eugene Walter, at home. His mother, Mary Catherine Rankin, resides in Cumberland. Two brothers, Jesse W. and John D. Rankin, Cumberland; four half-brothers, Edward Rice, Leonard Marshall, Roy and Clarence Rankin, the latter two of Detroit; two half-sisters, Nettie Barb, Moorefield, and Geneva Fitzgerald, Detroit.

A Masonic funeral service will be conducted at the rites Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Rev. Gordon G. Jones, assisted by Rev. Marland King, will officiate. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

MRS. VIRGINIA BROWN

Mrs. Virginia A. Brown, 66, Wiley Ford, W. Va., wife of Henry C. Brown, died yesterday at 1:45 p. m. at her home there.

She was born in Springfield, W. Va., December 9, 1881, a daughter of John Crock and Susan Kerns Crock.

She is survived, besides her husband, by two sons, Paul H. and Eugene, both of Wiley Ford; three daughters, Mrs. Virgil M. Powell, Mrs. Lovada H. Nethkin, and Mrs. Susan M. Cosner, all of Cumberland; four brothers, John, Thomas and Samuel, all of Springfield, and Charles, Flintstone, and four sisters, Mrs. Sallie Taylor, Mrs. Daisy Logsdon, and Mrs. Pearl Landis, all of Springfield, and Mrs. Nellie Foley, Greenspring, W. Va.

The body will remain at the Scarpelli Funeral Home until tomorrow night, when it will be taken to the home. A funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. (EDT) at Springfield Methodist Church. Rev. S. B. Sawyer, pastor, will officiate.

WILLIAM H. YUTZY

William H. Yutzy, 73, former Mt. Savage restaurant operator, died yesterday in Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, where he had been a patient for several days. He had resided in Baltimore in recent years.

Since moving to Baltimore, Mr. Yutzy resided with his son, George T. Yutzy, at 3018 Woodland Avenue. His wife died several years ago.

Surviving besides his son, George, are three other sons, William H. Yutzy, Jr., and Arthur E. Yutzy, all of Baltimore and Raymond C. Yutzy, Mt. Savage; three daughters, Mrs. William R. Wills, Mrs. James P. Porter and Mrs. Lee G. Hite, all of Baltimore.

The body will arrive here at noon today and will be taken to the home of Raymond Yutzy in Mt. Savage. A funeral service will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in St. George's Episcopal Church with Rev. R. J. Gunkel officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

yet the taxpayers think our department is spending too much money," Patterson said.

He commented that although the state ceiling is $45 monthly in assistance cases, if federal law is amended to increase that ceiling, Maryland would be able to raise the state ceiling accordingly.

Kimble suggested that Patterson be invited to address a meeting of county organizations regarding the "present inadequate standards" under which assistance is given, but no definite action was taken on the suggestion.

However, Brant said his committee will report on last night's session at a meeting to be held Sunday, May 16, at City Hall.

Pointing out that the public assistance program operates under the federal Social Security Act, Patterson said his department can only carry out the laws made in Annapolis and Washington.

The grant for old age assistance in Allegany County is the second highest in the state outside of Baltimore City, he declared, pointing out that his department has only so much money to distribute among a certain number of persons.

There are 758 persons receiving such assistance in the county at present, or about 14.5 per cent of the 5,291 residents over 65 years of age, he said.

Persons applying for assistance need not turn over real property to the Welfare Board nor put up collateral, he emphasized. The board takes no liens except an assignment on insurance policies over $350.

Testimonials Presented

Patterson made these points after a number of testimonials were presented by L. E. Geiger, local insurance agent and a member of the committee, from aged persons who in some cases criticized their treatment by the local Welfare Board and stated that their monthly grants were below living costs.

A number of the testimonials quoted remarks allegedly made by Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the Welfare Board, in their homes.

Gilchrist pointed out that case workers, and not Mrs. Westerfeld, make home visits, and that some misunderstanding obviously existed.

Mrs. Westerfeld said she would be willing to meet with any of those giving the testimonials, or their representatives, to clear up any misunderstandings or inequalities.

Attacks Welfare Board

At this point, J. A. Counihan, assistant district manager for the Prudential Life Insurance Company and a member of the committee, stated that "the Welfare Board has been in existence long enough and has been a failure. We need something else."

Horace P. Whitworth, chairman of the county members of the House of Delegates, pointed out that any move for increased welfare appropriations must be sanctioned by the Legislative Council before it can be presented to the next special session. He recommended securing support of state administration forces in the matter.

Among other of the 20 persons attending were County Commissioners C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., William H. Lemmert and James Holmes; Delegates John T. Fey, Noel Speir Cook, Charles M. See and Lester Reed; and Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Besides Brant, Counihan and Geiger, other members of the sponsoring committee who attended were Miss Mary Ethel Rose, Townsend state representative for Maryland and West Virginia; Charles Mowery, Louis Metz and Joseph S. Bewick.

Chet Coughenour

I guess every one of us has a secret gripe. Something or somebody we can very well do without. My pet peeve is a rude clerk or sales person who thinks you've got to do business with his company and treats you like a poor relative.

Maybe I'm over-sensitive . . . maybe people really don't object to this treatment. But my staff and I have always believed that the customer is doing us a pretty big favor when he enters our office—and, at Personal Finance Co., we're not shy about letting him know how grateful we are that he's chosen us.

And my staff is especially good at showing appreciation because from the day they join PERSONAL, they are trained to treat the customer as they themselves, would like to be treated.

Cumberland folks who want a loan must like the courtesy and friendliness they find at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., because so many of them have recommended us to their friends. Which proves to me, that we've been successful in doing what we set out to do; provide Cumberland folks with a friendly loan service in which honesty and the ability to make monthly payments are the chief requirements to getting a loan.

We never recommend needless borrowing. BUT if you can use $25 to $750 for a worth-while purpose—consolidating bills, repairing your home, paying medical bills—and you want to get the cash in the way that suits you best—on salary, furniture, or car I'd appreciate the chance to say "yes" to YOU . . . just as I do to 4 out of every 5 who apply for a loan here.

Just phone 721 . . . or, if you're in the neighborhood, come in and ask for me—Chet Coughenour. PERSONAL FINANCE CO., is located on the 2nd floor of the Liberty Trust Building. Open Monday thru Friday, 9 until 5. Closed Saturdays. Evenings by appointment.

yet the taxpayers think our department is spending too much money," Patterson said.

He commented that although the state ceiling is $45 monthly in assistance cases, if federal law is amended to increase that ceiling, Maryland would be able to raise the state ceiling accordingly.

Kimble suggested that Patterson be invited to address a meeting of county organizations regarding the "present inadequate standards" under which assistance is given, but no definite action was taken on the suggestion.

However, Brant said his committee will report on last night's session at a meeting to be held Sunday, May 16, at City Hall.

Pointing out that the public assistance program operates under the federal Social Security Act, Patterson said his department can only carry out the laws made in Annapolis and Washington.

The grant for old age assistance in Allegany County is the second highest in the state outside of Baltimore City, he declared, pointing out that his department has only so much money to distribute among a certain number of persons.

There are 758 persons receiving such assistance in the county at present, or about 14.5 per cent of the 5,291 residents over 65 years of age, he said.

Persons applying for assistance need not turn over real property to the Welfare Board nor put up collateral, he emphasized. The board takes no liens except an assignment on insurance policies over $350.

Testimonials Presented

Patterson made these points after a number of testimonials were presented by L. E. Geiger, local insurance agent and a member of the committee, from aged persons who in some cases criticized their treatment by the local Welfare Board and stated that their monthly grants were below living costs.

A number of the testimonials quoted remarks allegedly made by Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the Welfare Board, in their homes.

Gilchrist pointed out that case workers, and not Mrs. Westerfeld, make home visits, and that some misunderstanding obviously existed.

Mrs. Westerfeld said she would be willing to meet with any of those giving the testimonials, or their representatives, to clear up any misunderstandings or inequalities.

Attacks Welfare Board

At this point, J. A. Counihan, assistant district manager for the Prudential Life Insurance Company and a member of the committee, stated that "the Welfare Board has been in existence long enough and has been a failure. We need something else."

Horace P. Whitworth, chairman of the county members of the House of Delegates, pointed out that any move for increased welfare appropriations must be sanctioned by the Legislative Council before it can be presented to the next special session. He recommended securing support of state administration forces in the matter.

Among other of the 20 persons attending were County Commissioners C. N. Wilkinson, Jr., William H. Lemmert and James Holmes; Delegates John T. Fey, Noel Speir Cook, Charles M. See and Lester Reed; and Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Besides Brant, Counihan and Geiger, other members of the sponsoring committee who attended were Miss Mary Ethel Rose, Townsend state representative for Maryland and West Virginia; Charles Mowery, Louis Metz and Joseph S. Bewick.

PE Rate Hike Hearing Set

The Potomac Edison Company's request for a bus fare increase in the city will be aired Wednesday morning by the Public Service Commission in Baltimore with protests expected to be filed by City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and Leslie Clark, attorney for Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America.

Finan said the PSC has scheduled the hearing for 10 a. m. Under the proposed increase, the PE would sell six tickets for 50 cents, retaining the present 10 cents single fare. Passengers now get three tickets for 25 cents or 15 for $1.

Naomi Enfield Becomes Bride Of T. W. Mather, III

Ceremony Performed In Bride's Home

The marriage of Miss Naomi Enfield, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Enfield, Ellerslie Road, to T. William Mather, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. William Mather, Jr., Westminster, took place in the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, before a background of ferns, palms and cut flowers.

It was solemnized at 2:30 with Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, officiating. Miss Jane Gilchrist was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. Lloyd Elderdice, Westminster, served as Mr. Mather's best man. Miss Evelyn Mather, cousin of the bridegroom, played a program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length dress of white marquisette, a shoulder length veil and carried a nosegay of white rosebuds and sweetpeas.

The bride's attendant wore a matching gown of blue marquisette, a halo of pink rosebuds and sweetpeas and carried a nosegay of the same flowers.

Dr. and Mrs. Enfield entertained with an informal reception in honor of their daughter and her bridal party following the ceremony. Upon returning from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Mather will reside at Westminster, where the former is associated with the Union National Bank.

Abram Norman Durst, and Felesene Sargent, both of Somerset, Pa.

Charles Joseph Muir, 121 Paca Street, and Hazel Virginia Snowden, Washington.

Boyd David Baker, Everett, Pa., and Mary Ellen Wertz, Bedford, Pa.

Alexander Franklin Powell, 228 Harrison Street, and Anna Mae Coleman, Mt. Savage.

Spanish sauce is made by sauteeing chopped onion, celery and green pepper in a small amount of fat and then simmering with a few cups of cooked or canned tomatoes. After the sauce is seasoned with salt and pepper, and just before serving, sliced stuffed olives may be added if desired.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Keep your parsley, mint or watercress fresh and ready for instant use. When you bring it home from the market, wash and drain, then put it into a glass jar with a tightly fitting lid, and it will be ready for a quick garnish or to add to the salad.

Miss Ruth Scrogum Herbert W. Hogan Are Married

Miss Ruth Marie Scrogum, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Scrogum, 114 North Cedar Street, became the bride of Herbert Ward Hogan, LaVerne, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hogan, Hemet, Calif., Saturday. The ceremony was performed in the Living Stone Church of the Brethren with the bride's father officiating.

The bridal party included Mrs. W. Donald Clague, Bridgewater, Va., as her sister's matron of honor; Miss Evelyn Jones, New Windsor, Miss Frances Clemens, Miss Catherine Roller and Miss Mary Alice Pletcher, Elgin, Ill., bridesmaids. Julian Griggs, Elgin, served as best man and Ronald Gordley, Manheim, Pa., Eugene Erbaugh, Lawrence Fitzwater, Hagerstown, and John Glick were the ushers.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and satin and fingertip length veil. Her matron of honor wore pink organdy; Miss Jones dusty rose taffeta; Miss Clemens, salmon pink; Miss Roller, ice blue; and Miss Pletcher, aqua.

The bride is a graduate of Accident High School and Bridgewater College, Va., where she received her degree in public school music. She taught here in 1946 and 1947 and recently has been secretary to the General Brotherhood Board of the Brethren at Elgin. The bridegroom graduated from LaVerne College and did post-graduate work at Claremont College, Pomona, Calif. He is professor of history at LaVerne.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home after which the couple left on a trip to eastern cities.

Final Performance Of 1948 Follies To Be Given Tonight

The final performance of the "Cumberland Follies of 1948," presented by John Moyer, will be given tonight at the Maryland Theater with a cast of 50 participating.

The first part of the program consists of a playlet in which Sandra and Joe Portmess portray a secretary and director in a Hollywood producer's office. The numbers are introduced and executed by famous Hollywood personalities and end with both being cast for the show that is being auditioned.

Shirley Sue Burke has the lead and Patricia Ann Kirk, second lead in the ballet, "Whispers of Vienna," an original number by Mr. Moyer, with the Strauss music arranged for this number by "Peck" Mills. There are 30 in the ballet.

The program also includes a line of Follies Girls doing a precision number; Beverly Price, a ballet tap and acrobatic number in a style all her own. Five year old William Brooks sings and dances with 12 Cumberland babies; Rosalie Brown does a military dance with Robert Willison and Charles Wilson; Patricia Leighty features in many speciality numbers and Ronald Shaffer in a South American rhythm piece; Janet Meyerly does an original dance to "Swing the Barcarolle."

Five girls will take leads in the "Land of Hawaii" number with 12 follies girls doing rhythmatic precision dancing. Patricia Leighty is featured as a dancer, Phyllis Nichols as her friend; Mary Catherine Ticky, Carol Lillard and Frances Flynn, native dancers; with Robert Smith singing "Trade Winds." He will also be master of ceremonies.

Cafe Cavalcade

The tidal wave of immigration from Europe that followed the Civil War brought to New York varied nationalities—Italian, French, German, Hungarian, Bohemian, Polish—whose customs, costumes and cuisine added enormously to the gayety and color of the town. At that time, most of these newcomers settled on the lower East and West Sides of Manhattan, and their social life usually centered around their wine shops, coffee houses and cafes. The French wine shops were mostly located south of Washington Square or that sector of Sixth Ave. in the '30s picturesquely known as the Tenderloin. The Italian cafes fanned out from Mulberry Bend, while the German and Hungarian restaurants centered around Tompkins Square. Because of their custom of serving a bottle of claret or chianti with their table d'hote dinners—costing over all, less than a dollar—the French and Italian cafes become known as "red ink" spots among the literati, newspaper writers, musicians, painters and others who dwelt on the fringe of Bohemia.

•—•—•

Martin's and Moqin's became legendary. Equally popular though not so highly publicized were Maria's, Mori's, Gonfarone's, Gufanti's, Bertolotti's and the Black Cat. Maria's on 12th St., presided over by an Italian woman of ample proportions, was favored by Jack London and other members of the Greenwich Village "long hair" set, who mixed Ibsen, Marx and Shaw with their spaghetti and red ink. The Black Cat, on West Broadway near 4th St., patterned after the famous Chat Noir in Paris, is best remembered for having given Grace Moore her first opportunity to sing in public. After moving uptown to Sixth Ave. and 38th St., it became the haunt of Caruso, Scotti and other stars of the Metropolitan Opera. Gonfarone's, on Seventh Ave., near 26th St., is one of the few to survive, though its clientele is now mostly from the cloak-and-suit trade and fur dealers of that vastly changed neighborhood.

•—•—•

The Hungarian cafes that sprung up around Tompkins Square were the nucleus of a Magyar colony that squatted in the midst of Little Germany, as that neighborhood was known in the 1880's and 1890's. Specializing in guylas (goulash) and tokay, they also came to be known as "red ink" spots to those tourists who flocked from uptown to gape at the mustachioed Hungarians, smoking their meerschaum pipes and playing cards at outdoor cafes, the while listening moodily to the wail of a gypsy fiddle. Best known among them was the Little Hungary, which started as a modest cafe in Liberty Hall, a building mainly used for lodge meetings and weddings. When Teddy Roosevelt was Police Commissioner of New York, he "discovered" Little Hungary and in jest promised the host, Max Schwartz, that he would always continue to dine there, "even though he became President of the United States." He kept that promise after he moved into the White House, some years late, and the chair which he had used was relegated to a place of honor, roped off for display purposes only.

•—•—•

Little Hungary became celebrated beyond the bounds of Tompkins Square when it introduced as head of its tzigane orchestra a vioninist who called himself Prince Rigo. This long-lashed lothario, a gypsy from the mountains of Hungary, had created an international scandal a few years earlier by eloping with the wealthy American-born Princess de Chimay from her castle in Belgium. The princess, born Clara Ward of Detroit, took him on a world tour, squandered a fortune on him and, according to his story, was still sending him a handsome monthly allowance 20 years after she left or divorced him (there is some question as to whether they ever married.) Rigo, whose amours made international history, was apparently irresistable to women; the great ladies of Gotham, emulating the titled women of Europe, came to Little Hungary to toss their corsages at his feet and swoon over his melodies like any modern bobby-soxer. The self-styled "prince" died in poverty in 1927, leaving a widow who had adopted the title "princess."

•—•—•

The Cafe Boulevard, operated by Ignace Rosenfeld, was the most pretentious of the East Side cafes and could vie with the Broadway lobster palaces for opulence of decor and tone. Its balcony commanded a sweeping view of Second Ave.—the Fifth Ave. of the East Side—and its grotto seated 850 diners. Another popular coffee house was Leopold Zimmerman's, operated by a handsome Hungarian immigrant and his lovely bride, especially popular with the politicians who haunted Silver Dollar Smith's saloon next door—so named because its floor was paved with silver dollars.

Ready-prepared sandwich spread makes a good seasoning and gives the proper consistency to deviled eggs. Salt, pepper and paprika may be added if desired.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN GETS RED CROSS AWARD

Mrs. Mary Rankin, 3200 N. W. 79th Street, Miami, Fla., formerly of this city, was recently awarded a medal of honor and a certificate of appreciation from the American Red Cross by Ted J. Bleier, water safety chairman of Dade county, Fla., in recognition of 500 hours of volunteer service.

Mrs. Rankin has been an instructor for the Civil Air Patrol at Nashville, Tenn., and at Miami, at the Venetian Pool and Matheson Hammock, Coral Gables, Fla., and at Bell Taven Park Pool, where she is currently located.

She received instructor training at the Red Cross Aquatic School, Annapolis, after primary work at the local YMCA, and went to Miami three years ago.

Mrs. Rankin is the former Miss Mary Madre, granddaughter of Charles A. Smouse, Bedford Road. Her husband is with Eastern Airlines at Miami.

Two Drivers Forfeit Bond In Court Here

George Williams, Route 1, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of exceeding 30 miles an hour on Route 40 in LaVale Sunday. He was arrested by Trooper Milton G. Hart.

Theodore W. Snyder, 301 Arch Street, also forfeited $6.45 after being arrested by Trooper A. M. Spioch on a charge of failing to keep to the right of the highway.

30,267 Persons Are Served By YMCA

Central YMCA served a total of 30,267 individuals in all activities during March, according to a monthly report presented by Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary, at a recent meeting of the YMCA board of directors.

Of that number, 5,022 "Y" members and 10,437 non-members attended 273 sessions of 107 different groups, making a total of 15,459 persons.

The remaining 14,808 persons received individual services. Under that classification are swimming lessons, food services, permanent and transient lodging, individual conferences, shower passes, and lobby, game room and bowling alley use.

Seventeen outside groups used YMCA facilities for 40 meetings during March, with a total attendance of 1,383, Adam said.

James W. Bishop, first vice president, presided at the board session.

Jaycees To Hold Annual Election Here Wednesday

Kendall Will Speak At Dinner Meeting

The election of officers and directors of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will be held at a dinner meeting of the association Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the Ali Ghan Country Club.

James R. Kendall, new assistant secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be the principal speaker.

Following Kendall's address, eight members will be named to the Board of Directors to serve with seven holdover directors. The new directors will be selected from the following nominees:

Charles S. Catherman, Jr., Thomas F. Conlon, Jr., Floyd Cozad, Thomas B. Finan, Kenneth Gerard, C. William Gilchrist, Jack Hendricks, Marvin Inge, David Kauffman and Harry Kauffman.

Henry Mackey, Jack F. Moore, David Moreland, Dr. Leland Ransom, Chauncey Sanner, Hugh D. Shires, William B. Smith, James Wilkinson, William A. Wilson and William L. Wilson, Jr.

Officers of the association will be elected from among the 15 member Board of Directors. The nominating committee of past Jaycee past presidents will announce choices prior to the balloting. Further nominations will be made from the floor.

In previous years, officers have been elected from and by the Board of Directors, but a recent change in the By-Laws gives the membership the right to elect officers from the Board of Directors.

A large delegation from Cumberland is expected to attend the Maryland convention of the Junior Association to be held May 21 to 23 in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore.

Activities now in progress or included in the summer schedule are the annual clean-up campaign, the annual air show sponsored by the Jaycees and the Exchange Club, the club's first soap box derby and the second Miss Cumberland and Miss Maryland pageants.

Local Man Named W. Md. Head Surgeon

Dr. Gilbert W. Benjamin, 116 Wilmont Avenue, who has been resident medical examiner and surgeon for the Western Maryland Railway here for the past seven years, has been appointed chief surgeon of the railway. He will be succeeded by Dr. George M. Simons, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harman R. Simons, 812 Oldtown Road.

Dr. Benjamin's headquarters will be in Hillen Station in Baltimore. For the time being his wife and daughter will retain their residence here and will move to Baltimore in several months. Dr. Benjamin's appointment became effective Saturday.

His successor, Dr. Simons, will also retain his post as a resident physician at Memorial Hospital where he took up his duties February 1.

His wife is the former Miss Barbara V. Nutwell, Annapolis. They have two children, one three years old and the other 10 months old.

Two Damage Suits Are Docketed Here

Two damage suits were docketed Monday in Circuit Court against the Cumberland and Westernport Transit Company by Lillian E. Shaw and Raymond E. Shaw, for personal injuries and damages to the latter's car.

The declaration states that Lillian E. Shaw was driving a car owned by Raymond W. Shaw in 1945 on Route 40 near Crystal Park when the vehicle was forced from the road by a bus owned by the defendant company.

Lillian Shaw seeks $7,500 and the other plaintiff asks $2,000 damages for the loss of his car.

Equity Suits Filed

Three bills of complaint were filed in Circuit Court Monday: Anna E. Reiber against Harry W. Reiber; Victor A. Emerick against Geneva Emerick, and Doris Cope against Samuel R. Cope.

Motorist Is Held In Fatal Accident

A Windber, Pa., motorist was being held in Allegany County Jail for further questioning this morning in the death of Mrs. Hazel V. Russ, 36, 529 Greene Street, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on McMullen Highway yesterday morning.

Authorities said Robert M. Smutko, identified as the driver of the car, will be questioned this morning in the office of the State's Attorney. A second motorist, James Piacepelli, Norristown, Pa., was summoned as a witness,

Mrs. Russ, a widow, was leaving a bus to report for work in the Celanese Corporation of America cafeteria when she was struck and run over, according to Trooper Thomas G. Barton.

The victim was taken to Allegany Hospital by an unidentified motorist. She was pronounced dead upon admittance.

Police said the woman alighted from the bus and started to cross the road after walking to the rear of the vehicle. A car driven by Smutko, police said, struck Mrs. Russ and then was hit by a second machine operated by Piacepelli.

A native of Oakland, Mrs. Russ is survived by her parents, Leroy and Delphia Knox Friend, Oakland; a son, James Russ, and a daughter, Shirley Russ, both students at West Side School; three brothers, Albert Friend, Oakland; Lester Friend and Sherman Friend, Greenbelt; six sisters Mrs. Mabel Green, this city; Mrs. Grace Knox, Mrs. Olive Glass and Mrs. Pearl Rodeheaver, all of Oakland; Mrs. Harold Behler and Mrs. Benjamin Shreve, both of Riverdale, and two step-daughters, Mrs. Lester Friend and Virginia Russ.

A funeral service will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. in Stein's Funeral Chapel and interment will be in Hillcrest Cemetery. Rev. Norman H. Maring will officiate.

Thomas Named Trustee

John G. Thomas, this city, business manager of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, was elected a trustee of the national organization Friday.

McDonald Posts Bond On Gaming Charge

M. L. McDonald, identified by City Police as a representative of the Navy League Club, 148 North Centre Street, has posted $200 bond for appearance in Police Court Wednesday at 9 a. m. for a hearing on a charge of violating a city ordinance prohibiting gaming.

Four slot machines were confiscated at the club Saturday afternoon in a "routine inspection" by Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya and Officer R. W. Lashley.

Naval Reserve Group To Continue Drive

With two weeks already gone in the current Naval Reserve campaign to get more recruits, Cmdr. Walter N. Hedrick has announced that an entire new team began operations yesterday and will continue for a two-week period.

The new men includes Lt. G. A. Caswell and the following aides: Frank Franchi, W. L. Plummer, C. B. Krimm, G. E. Boore and O. B. Porter.

The retiring team consists of Lt. (j.g.) F. A. Hughes, George Krnaya, L. E. Krites and C. T. Plummer.

Damage Suit Case To Continue Today

The $25,000 damage suit, which opened in Circuit Court Monday morning before a jury with Foster L. Shipley, Baltimore, seeking $25,000 from Ralph D. Wilson and Jonah Hose for the loss of his right arm in a crash July 29 on the Uhl Highway, 11 miles from Cumberland, was continued until this morning, when arguments will be heard.

Thomas Lohr Richards, counsel for Shipley, told the jury his client was a passenger in Hose's car, when it crashed against a truck owned by Wilson.

During the proceedings, Shipley shed his coat and shirt to show the jurors his injured arm and where it had to be amputated.

During the afternoon, the World Almanac was brought into the case by William H. Geppert, attorney for Wilson, to try and determine the state of darkness at the time of the accident. Geppert himself was sworn in and questioned, but due to the various longitudes and latitudes, the jurors were excused for several minutes until the proper readings could be determined. After this was presented, the case was dismissed until this morning at 9:15 o'clock. Associate Judge George Henderson presided.

All jurors who served on the panel were requested to report for duty this morning, with the remainder of the jury not selected for the case, reporting next Monday, May 10.

Liebau To Head Queen City Dairy

John D. Liebau, Baltimore Pike, has been named general manager of the Queen City Dairy, Inc., succeeding Edgar A. Dashiell, who has resigned that post to assume the operation of a dairy in Midland which will bear his name.

Liebau, who was manager of the Queen City firm some years ago, recently managed the Embassy Dairy here.

Dashiell, in taking over management of the former Llewellyn Brothers Dairy, which he purchased last November, announced Saturday that the trade name has been changed to Dashiell Dairy, Inc. The Llewellyn dairy was operated for 23 years in the Midland section.

Our Venison-Fed Trout

Change Softball Rules

Whip Refuses To Quit

Luke Is Hard To Forget

By C. V. BURNS

Is it any wonder that out-of-state anglers are coming here in greater numbers this season to fish Western Maryland streams for trout?

The reason is because trout reared in this section of the state are venison fed!

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, revealed this interesting fact recently while discussing the rapid increase in the deer population in Garrett and Allegany counties.

In the past several months a total of 13 deer have been run down by automobiles and trucks on the highways in the two counties. The deer meat is sent to the trout hatchery in Garrett county where it is ground fine like hamgurger and fed to the trout.

As a rule trout are usually fed a combination of linseed oil, cod liver oil and cereals. A pure meat diet is better for trout than a combination food, Minke explains. Liver had been fed to the trout in the rearing ponds at the hatchery but that's quite a costly item now and "deer hamburger" fits into th picture as a first-class substitute.

Joe points out that trout are a carnivorous fish and they really go for any kind of meat that is ground up for them. Hence, the venison diet which produces bigger and better trout and last but not least — satisfied anglers.

Out-of-state anglers pay $5.50 a throw to fish in Maryland so there must be more than water in them thar creeks.

Bill Bess, West Virginia's commissioner for the Amateur Softball Association, reports teams in the Mountain State will abide by the changes made by the international joint rules committee in the rules for 1948.

The most important are:

1. Distance between bases returned to 60 feet.
2. Players' uniforms to be all of one color.
3. Catcher to receive intentional pass can stand anywhere within the lines of the catcher's box.
4. Batter's box dimensions returned to 3 feet by 6 feet.

The old rule requiring the pitchers to wear dark uniforms with no lettering or trimming on the front has been eliminated but the committee suggests that teams refrain from using white glossy material.

An item in this column recently which reminded local softball and baseball players that it's a good time to take out accident insurance attracted the attention of a local insurance agent who tells us that only a few clubs give their players the proper protection each year.

The Dukes pro basketball team of the All-American League and the Amvets' teams were among those who thought enough of their players to insure them.

One of the players holding an accident policy was injured by a locomotive (not on the basketball court) and he received $180 hospital expenses. A softball player suffered an ankle injury and no benefit game was necessary for him because he took out insurance at the start of the season just in case the unexpected happened.

Yes, fellows, Now Is The Hour (No. 1 on the Hit Parade) to wise up. Remember, it's usually the "iron men" of sport who crack up like a china closet!

Robert Whip hopes to be in Wheeling on Sunday morning at 10:30 D.S.T. to represent Cumberland at the meeting of the All-American Professional Basketball League.

At this session the league will consider such matters as election of officers for the 1948-49 season, application for franchise, amendment of the by-laws and constitution and reports by various officers.

In addition to Cumberland the franchise holders are Wheeling, Youngstown, Columbus, Zanesville and Altoona.

Several other cities have indicated they might be interested in joining the league.

Whip was among the group which controlled the local franchise during the past winter. He tells us that he is trying to interest several business men in keeping the franchise here and his purpose in making the trip to Wheeling is to retain Cumberland's berth temporarily at least to see what kind of financial support he will receive at home before another season gets underway.

Those who know Luke Barnett, the famous ribber, should be glad to hear that Babe Ruth devotes several paragraphs to one of Pittsburgh's favorite sons in his book, "The Babe Ruth Story."

The Sultan of Swat recalls the 1924 dinner staged by the New York Baseball Writers with the following:

"They had a character there named Luke Barnett, who played the part of a tough waiter. He insulted everybody including Col. Ruppert and Judge Landis, and he finally got on me. He kept poking me in the chest and yelling, 'Whoever told you, you were a ballplayer?'

"Well, he had me crazy. Rosy Ryan of the Giants and I finally chased him all over the room, and Rosy finally brought him down with a flying tackle. We were starting to beat him up when the waiters, who had hired

LaSalle Plays Unbeaten AHS At Park Today

Campers Seek 6th Win, Sentinels At Hyndman

LaSalle and Allegany will engage in the second game of the three-cornered intra-city high school baseball series when they clash today at 4 p. m. at Community Park.

In the opener last Friday LaSalle was upset by Fort Hill, 1-0.

Allegany is the only undefeated scholastic nine in the district this far and will be angling for its sixth straight triumph. In three starts LaSalle has won two and lost one.

Creegan vs. Clingan

It's a Bi-State Conference game as well as an all-city contest and with Jim Clingan and Lefty Pat Creegan opposing each other on the firing line a hard fought game is anticipated.

Allegany is undefeated in five starts and holds two wins and no losses in the circuit which Fort Hill leads by having won three of three games.

Fort Hill's pace-setters, boasting league wins over Central, Beall and LaSalle, will play Eddie McVicker's Hyndman High nine at Hyndman, Pa., in a conference tilt. The Pennsy nine has won one and lost one in the league. This game is also set for 4 p. m.

Beall Invades Central

The two up-creek members of the league, Beall and Central are slated to meet today at 4 p. m. in Lonaconing. Beall has lost three straight games to league foes while the Orange and Black has been trounced by Hyndman and Fort Hill.

Today's non-league contest brings together Johnny Paugh's Moorefield High Yellow Jackets and Davis High School of Tucker County at Moorefield. Moorefield is playing .500 ball, having won two and lost two.

Today's PITCHERS

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Probable pitchers in tomorrow's major league games (won and lost records in parenthesis):

National League

Brooklyn at St. Louis (night) — Branca (1-2) vs Munger (1-0)

Philadelphia at Chicago — Rowe (1-1) or Donnelly (1-1) vs McCall (1-0)

Boston at Pittsburgh (night) — Spahn (1-1) vs Singleton (1-0)

Only games scheduled

American League

St. Louis at New York—Potter (1-0) vs Shea (0-1)

Cleveland at Philadelphia—Muncrief (1-0) vs Marchildon (2-1)

Detroit at Boston — Houtteman (0-2) or Newhouser (1-3) vs Ferriss (0-0) or Parnell (1-1)

Chicago at Washington (night)—Haynes (1-2) vs Masterson (0-1)

Conflict In Dates Keeps LaSalle Idle

LaSalle High School's baseball team claimed a victory by forfeit over Hyndman High School when the latter team failed to put in its appearance for a Bi-State Conference game here yesterday.

Lloyd Keller, principal of the Hyndman school, said he received a letter from LaSalle last week asking that the game be set for Saturday, May 8. Yesterday Hyndman received a card from LaSalle in which the latter school set the game for May 3, Keller stated.

"It was our intention to play the game on Saturday and the card we received yesterday changing the date was too short a notice for us to fill the engagement," Keller declared. "We still hope the game will be played Saturday."

Massachusetts Will Probe Boxing Setup

BOSTON, May 3 (AP)—The Massachusetts House of Representatives today suspended rules to approve an order calling for a study of the state's boxing regulations.

The probe was prompted by a fight last Friday when the veteran Spider Armstrong knocked out Tom Collins, 18-year-old Boston boy.

Rep. Gabriel F. Peimonte (D-Boston), who sponsored the order, said boxers should be given better protection.

Barnett for the gag, called us off and told us it was all a rib."

"Just when I had him by the neck!"

When Luke Barnett appeared here at an Associated Press dinner he was introduced as the editor of a foreign language newspaper from Chicago. He then proceeded to put the blast on the A.P. and really had the bigwigs ripping mad. In fact, one of the Baltimore Bureau's representatives became so "regusted" he walked right out of the dining room at the Country Club.

And who do you think Luke seemed to irk more than anybody with his ribbing?

The gentleman who demanded that Barnett be thrown out for insulting the guests was none other than William Preston Lane, now governor of Maryland and well known Hagerstown publisher.

Luke turned on Lane and kept yelling: "Aw shut up!"

You could have knocked Lane over with a feather when he learned it was a put up job.

Citation Is Only Announced Starter For The Preakness

Derby Victor May Walk Distance By Himself

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, May 3, (AP) — Calumet's Derby winner, Citation, is the only announced starter today for the May 15 Preakness and many are predicting "that's all, brother."

There's no question around Pimlico that Citation will be home first in the second of the classics for 3-year-olds. The argument is over whether anyone will dare dispute him.

One group tells you not to be surprised Citation will just have to walk the mile and three sixteenth by himself. Others say it's just a case of "After You Alphonse," that after one owner makes his move several others will follow.

But there's no denying that right now it's Citation first and all alone for the $100,000 classic. Even his sensational sidekick, Coaltown, is to stay in the barn.

Trainer Jimmy Jones says Coaltown will come up tomorrow from Louisville with Citation just for insurance. In case Citation goes wrong Coaltown will be called in.

Those who pooh-pooh the idea of a walkover can give you plenty of reasons. First of all there's the lure of money if not the glory. The Preakness pays off $35,000 in second, third and fourth money.

Then both the owners of Escadru, the Derby rearguard, and third place My Request weren't convinced their colts did their best in the run for roses. Both got bumped and while no one is alibing they might want another chance.

However, neither one is committed yet. Escadru's owner, William L. Brann, is a director of Pimlico and may run for sentimentality if nothing else.

Those who believe it will be a horse race also reel off the names of Better Self, Salmagundi, Kilroy, Bovard, Saggy and MacBeth as prospective starters. But so far they are just names.

At any rate, there is a good chance it will be the smallest Preakness since 1943 when Count Fleet scared away all but three contenders. Before that you have to go all the way back to 1888 to find a four-horse field in the records.

Junior Softball Loop Will Meet Tonight

Plans for the 1948 season of the City Junior Softball League will be formulated at a meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Central YMCA. The league is scheduled to open its season next Monday.

Seven teams hold franchises in the circuit and another team is sought to make an eight club loop.

Representatives of all teams are urged to attend.

Wellersburg Defeats Allegany Grove, 4-1

Wellersburg defeated Allegany Grove in a County Softball League game yesterday on the latter's field by the score of 4-1.

Robinette and O'Baker shared six of the winner's 14 hits while Cecil, left fielder of Allegany Grove, made several nice catches.

Shuck pitched for Wellersburg while Whitman was on the mound for Allegany Grove.

Kibler Praises Boys' Training Program Of "Y"

Awards Presented At League Banquet

"The Cumberland YMCA's Sunday School league to me is the father of Maryland basketball as far as bringing kids up is concerned," Col. J. Thomas Kibler, former coach at Washington College at Chestertown, Md., told some 250 guests at the loop's annual banquet last night at the "Y."

Kibler, now a scout from the Boston Braves of the National League continued by saying that the boys in the "Y" league can play the same kind of ball as they do at Kentucky if properly coached.

"If only I could have gotten boys like these when I started coaching, boys that knew the fundamentals," Kibler added.

Kibler told those present that they were "most fortunate in getting the training now." He said this training will make "great players of the boys when they go to college."

Kibler Stresses Speed

The Braves' scout said that boys of today don't run hard enough. "The first thing I look for in an athlete," he said, "is speed."

He cautioned the boys not to forget the word hustle. You won't get beat if you hustle he told them. Ball games are lost by mistakes caused by mental lapses on fundamentals he continued. A better coached team will take advantage of these mistakes and win the game. In such a league as the "Y" has, boys will learn not to make mistakes and will learn to use fundamentals mechanically he added.

He told of a program such as Cumberland's league has which was started in Chestertown this season by Ellery Ward, a former Allegany and Washington college athlete.

Kibler concluded by saying that "If the league can continue producing men such as have served under me at Washington College, it will continually do a grand job."

Congratulates Winners

Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary of the "Y," said that the YMCA's Sunday School league was well known throughout Maryland, including Baltimore, and is the best in the state. He lauded the Grace Methodist team on winning the championship.

Toastmaster Eugene T. Gunning, assistant managing editor of the Cumberland Times, then introduced three high school basketball coaches, Jesse Riggleman of Ridgeley; John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, of Fort Hill and Walter L. Bowers of Allegany, all of whom spoke briefly.

Harold Fearer, president of the league, said that in the loop which completed its 20th season he felt that this year was successful for all—win, lose or draw. He said this league was an incentive for the starting of a league in Frostburg whose champion lost to Grace Methodist in the series for the Western Maryland title.

Lauds Ward's Program

Coach Fred "Dutch" Dumschott of Washington College predicted the league idea started by Ward at Chestertown will son spread over Kent county and the Eastern Shore. "Program such as this," he concluded" should be inaugurated throughout Maryland and other states."

Ralph Hoelzer of Calvary Methodist then presented the Lloyd Rawlings championship trophy to Coach Walter Henry. Grace Methodist now has two legs on the trophy which must be won three times to become a permanent possession. Calvary has one leg on the trophy. First Presbyterian was given the ball used in the championship game and was received by Coach John Harris.

Clifton Van Roby, physical director of the "Y," congratulated the winners and thanked all officials for their help.

Zion Receives Trophy

The [illegible] sented by a local business firm to a team showing the best sportsmanship throughout the year, was awarded to Zion Reformed. The trophy is the first of its kind in the league.

Coach Henry then received the ten individual awards which annually go to the winning team and he gave them to Eddie Haines, Jackie Rice, Ivan Abe, Eddie Landis, Schley Lyons, James Stevenson, Jack Corrick, John Park, Bill Eckard, and John Poling. Other members of the squad, who will also receive awards are Thomas Short, Loay "Bud" Twigg, Tommy Knotts, James Farris, Leon Middleton, Ken Owens, and Wilbur King.

The invocation was given by Rev. David C. Watson of Emmanuel Episcopal and the benediction was given by Rev. William Eisenberger of [illegible]

Little Harp Wins Pimlico Feature

Beats Flying Weather, Nathaniel Is Third

PIMLICO, Md., May 3 (AP) — Shamrock Stable's Little Harp, operating over a muddy track, was an easy winner of the 14th running of the $7,500 added Baltimore Spring Handicap. The 4-year-old gelding making his third start of the year, was never headed in the sprint feature and went into the wire four lengths in front of D. K. Kerr, Jr.'s Flying Weather. Four additional lengths back came Lazy F. Ranch's Nathaniel to be third in the field of six.

The race was the first event on Pimlico's stake parade to be climaxed by the Preakness on May 15. A crowd of some 12,500 saw racing return to Baltimore's Old Hill Top track. Heavy rain last night and a drizzle today had the racing strip in a muddy condition.

Little Harp, rested during last winter, had a steady backing in the rather open affair and paid a $7.40 mutuel after going the six furlongs in 1.14 2-5, fair time considering the conditions, but the slowest since the race was first contested in 1935.

Jockey Paul Keiper had Little Harp away winging in front. The Doge tried to keep up but weakened. Approaching the stretch, Flying Weather came up on the inside to become a threat but Keiper roused Little Harp and the gelding drew out gradually in smart fashion. Flying Weather was a tired and driving second ahead of the faltering Nathaniel.

The victory was worth $6,225 to the Shamrock stable.

Bedford Road Scores Over Ellerslie, 7-3

Bedford Road defeated Ellerslie by the score of 7-3 in a County Softball League game yesterday at Bedford Road.

B. Miles led Bedford Road's 11-hit attack with three hits in four trips to the plate while P. Mertens walloped a home run. Devore and Emerick each hit safely twice in three trips to the plate for the losers.

Five games are scheduled in the league today. Score:

Tommy Burns Stops Maloney In Third

SYDNEY, May 3. (AP)—Tommy Burns, Australian welterweight champion, knocked out Bob Maloney, U. S. negro, in the third round of their scheduled 10-round affair in Sydney Stadium tonight.

Maloney, unrated in the United States, was unable to stand up under the barrage of blows turned loose by Burns, who was out to avenge a recent defeat by Benny Evans of Oklahoma City, Okla. The Australian weighed 148¼, Maloney 150¾.

Cardinals Take Third Place By Defeating Cubs

Twirling Of Hearn Features 3-1 Win

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals climbed into third place over the idle Dodgers by downing the Chicago Cubs 3-1 today behind the effective pitching of Jim Hearn. The game drew 3,735.

Given stellar support afield, Hearn limited the Cubs to seven scattered hits in the rubber contest of a three-game series for his first victory of the year. He had four strikeouts.

Johnny Schmitz, lifted for a pinch batter after the Cards nicked him for three singles and two runs in the seventh, was the loser.

Catcher Del Rice helped the Cardinal cause by cutting down Hal Jeffcoat in the first and Harry Schenz in the sixth when they attempted to steal second.

Enos Slaughter's peg to Rice nipped Bill Nicholson at the plate when he tried to score from second on Clyde McCullough's single to right in the fifth.

Successive singles by Rice, Hearn and Red Schoendienst, and an error by Nicholson, were good for two Redbird runs in the seventh. Rice advanced to second on Hearn's safety and then scored when Nicholson let the ball get through his legs. Schoendienst drove in Hearn.

Hard-hitting Stan Musial, who has 14 runs batted in for almost one third of the Cardinal total in this department, drove in Schoendienst in the third inning with the first run. Schoendienst walked and advanced to second on Terry Moore's single.

Chicago finally managed to push across a run in the eighth. A two-bagger by Pinch Batter Cliff Aberson scored McCullough, who had walked.

Whitey Kurowski was back at third for the Redbirds after sitting out several games with a troublesome right elbow. Box:

Lee Sala Winner Over Sonny Horne

Pittsburgh Fighter Cops 37th Straight

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP) — Middleweight Lee Sala got over his "trial horse" test tonight at the Gardens when he carved out a workmanlike split decision over Sonny Horne, of Niles, Ohio, in the 10-round featured bout.

It was victory No. 37 without a setback for the Donora, Pa., fighter and his backers said it proved him ready to meet better boys.

Judges George Brownlee and George Lipmacci voted to keep Sala's string of victories from being snapped, while Referee Ernie Sesto cast for Horne.

Sala started out looking like a million dollars the first four rounds, then suddenly eased up. To ringsiders in the crowd of 3,715, it looked as though he tired badly midway in the battle, then caught his second wind just before the fight's end when it meant most.

The 10th, Sala's slashing left hook ripped open a cut over Horne's right eye. In an earlier round, the injury likely would have stopped the fight for a T.K.O.

Robinson Will Defend Title Against Docusen

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson will risk his welterweight championship here June 4 against Bernard Docusen of New Orleans, beaten only twice in four years, and ranked the best of Robinson's challengers.

The 15-round championship bout, which may be either indoors or outdoors, was approved conditionally today by the Illinois Athletic Commission. It demanded a $10,000 Robinson appearance bond. Robinson said in New York he would meet any appearance guarantee.

Radio May Broadcast Score Every Inning

CHICAGO, May 3. (AP)—Major league baseball scores may be broadcast every inning instead of by three inning clusters, the American and National leagues disclosed today.

President Will Harridge said the new concession to radio followed amendment of the majors' contract with Western Union. The telegraph company previously specified three-inning restrictions on broadcasting of scores.

FIGHT RESULTS

Bill Woods, 130, Century A.C., Frostburg, won 3-0 decision over Russell Bean, 132, Diamond A.C.

Earl Smith, 112, Cumberland Amvets, knocked out Jimmie Deetz, 112, Diamond A.C., in 1:38 of third round.

Bill Frazier, 156, Diamond A.C., won 3-0 decision over Herman Stovall, 160, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jim Folk, 124, Royale A.C., won 3-0 decision over Carl "Lefty" Smith, 122, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Bill Mann, 150, Diamond A.C., won 3-0 decision over Jesse Williams, 151, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jimmie Catanese, 124, Royale A.C., won 3-0 decision over Carl Ladson, 122, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jimmie Brown, 130, Diamond A.C., knocked out Robert Mungo, 132, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh, in 1:02 of third round.

Bobby Goss, 112, Royale A.C., knocked out Eddie Miller, 114, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh in 1:59 on second round.

Delicatets, Astor And North End Cop City League Tilts

Reed's, Crusaders And Mower's Lose

Lacy's Delicatets, Astor Cab and North End Social and Athletic Club won the opening games yesterday in the City Softball League.

The Delicatets, defending champions, obtained only two hits but defeated Reed's Electricians, 3-1, at East Side Field when a squeeze play and Vernon Penner's steal of home netted two runs to break a 1-1 deadlock in the sixth inning.

Crabtree's double, a sacrifice and Hardy's infield out gave Lacy's a run in the fourth but Reed's tied it up in the same stanza on Elliott's home run. In the 6th Crabtree walked and went to third when Scarletta booted Penner's sacrifice bunt. Durbin's bunt sent Crabtree home with the winning run and later Penner stole home with the insurance run.

Decker held the Electricians to three hits.

Bill Underdonk Stars

Bill Underdonk tossed a five-hitter, fanned six and rapped out a homer and double in three trips as Astor Cab took Joe's Crusaders into camp at Community Park, 6-2.

The Cabbies' hurler homered on his first time at bat in the second inning. Bill Dean and Harry Minnicks also banged out two hits for Astor. R. Davis and Ray Cleggett each hit safely twice for the Crusaders.

North End Pounds Ball

North End got away to a flying start by rapping 16 hits to trounce Mower's Bakery, 11-1, at Stitcher Field.

Pete Deremer had a perfect day at bat with four hits, Mickey Clark had 3 for 4 and O. Young, Devault and Whiteman had two blows each. One of Whitman's wallops was a home run. B. Cage obtained two of the five safeties yielded by Troutman. The scores:

Eight Rocking Chair League Clubs To Open 1948 Campaign Today

The eight-club Rocking Chair Softball League will open its season today.

Manager Jim Angellatta's Moose tossers, defending champions, will play the Amvets, a new entry, at Campobello. Dick Peddicord is manager of the Amvets.

The Elks, piloted by Glenwood "Tag" Reel will oppose Jim Morrison's Potomac Edison aggregation on the East Side Playground field.

Skipper Jim Browning's Knights of Columbus are scheduled to battle the Fraternal Order of Eagles, another newcomer, at Fort Hill. Fritz Palmer is manager of the Birds.

In the fourth game on tap today Cecil Warwick's Celanese Club will tangle with the Cumberland Outdoor Club on the Rolling Mill diamond. Celanese played under the name of Texcel last season.

Robert "Spike" Herboldshimer is umpire-in-chief of the league which plays its games on Tuesday and Thursday.

BI-STATE UMPIRES NAMED FOR SUNDAY

Umpiring assignments for Sunday's games in the Bi-State Baseball League were announced last night by Eddie Thompson, umpire-in chief, as follows:

Westvaco at Midland—Middleton and Layman.

Amvets at Queen City—Davis and Kelly.

Barton at Hyndman—C. Warnick and Lowery.

Mt. Savage at Lonaconing — Thompson and Johnson.

Keyser at Frostburg—G. Warnick and Dunn.

Umpires assigned for last Sunday's postponed games will fill the same engagements when those games are played off.

Mann, Frazier, Goss, Catanese And Folk Score

Smith Kayoes Deetz, 637 See D. A. C. Card

Cumberland amateur boxers representing the Diamond A. C. and the Royale A. C. made a clean sweep of six bouts with the Homewood A. C. of Pittsburgh, all-negro team, at the State Armory last night.

Local victors in the inter-city matches were Bill Mann, Bill Frazier and Jimmie Brown of the D. A. C., and Jim Folk, Bobby Goss and Jimmie Cantanese of the Royale A. C. A week ago the Homewood boxers split even in four matches here.

Three knockouts featured the Diamond Athletic Club's eight-bout card last night and two of them were registered in the inter-city tests.

In the feature go, Bill Mann, local middleweight, decisioned the hard-hitting Jesse Williams, Homewood team member, in a three-round bout that was loaded with dynamite. The boys "shot the works" in this slugfest and while neither scored a knockdown the bout proved a thriller. Williams tired late in the second round and put up a clever defense in the final heat to last the limit. It was Mann's ninth win in his last 10 bouts and his 11th triumph against five losses.

Goss Kayoes Miller

Bobby Goss, local flyweight, belted out Eddie Miller of Pittsburgh in 1:59 of the second round in the secondary feature on the card. The Smoky City lad made an interesting fight of it in the first round but in the second Goss staggered him with a left hook then put over a terrific right to the jaw that sent Miller down for the count in a neutral corner. It was Goss's second straight k.o. triumph and his 17th win in 23 amateur matches.

Bill Frazier, flashing his best form, clearly outpointed the willing and dangerous Herman Stovall of the Homewood team in the first of the inter-city battles. Bill scored repeatedly with a left jab to the head and his right crosses to the jaw jolted the Pittsburgher time and again. Stovall, an infighter, was outsmarted by Frazier, who succeeded in staying out of range of the Pittsburgh southpaw's uppercuts and hooks which might have spelled disaster had they landed. The fight had a thrilling windup with both boys slugging it out after the final gong.

Jim Folk, promising local featherweight, marked up his fifth straight ring triumph, by decisioning Carl Smith, another Pittsburgh southpaw, in the fourth match on the card. Smith gave Folk a rousing fight but Jim had the edge throughout and walked off with an unanimous decision.

Catanese Wins Easily

After Mann defeated Williams, Jimmie Catanese, the R.A.C. featherweight, easily defeated Carl Ladson, junior featherweight champion of Pittsburgh in three fast rounds, Ladson was on the retreat most of the time and when Catanese caught up with him Jimmy proved to be the better of the two fighters. It was a 3-0 victory for the local scrapper.

Bill Woods of Frostburg carried "too many guns" for Russell Bean and copped a 3-0 decision over the local boy in the curtain raiser.

In bout No. 2 Earl Smith, the Amvets' flyweight, shook the losing jinx that has been trailing him lately, by knocking out Jimmie Deetz in 1:38 of the third and final round. Smith put Deetz down for five at the bell ending the first round, draped him over the middle rope for nine in the third and then stopped Jimmie with a hard punch on the jaw. It was Smith's third win over Deetz in their Shaughnessy boxing series. Deetz holds a split decision over "Smitty."

Only One Bad Match

The 7th bout was the only poor one on the card and was booed throughout. It ended in 1:02 of the third round when Robert Mungo, Pittsburgh featherweight, quit to Jimmie Brown. The less said about this the better.

Jim Kelley refereed all of the matches which were witnessed by 637 paying patrons. Gilbert Becker and Jack Rorick were the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Col. Nelson W. Russler, announcer.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey will fight Lou Kozarek, of Portage, Pa., in the Amvets' feature match at the Armory on Monday, May 10.

Aristocrats Win, 9-7, In Frostburg Opener

FROSTBURG, May 3.—The Aristocrats defeated Allegany in the opening game of the Frostburg Softball League season today by the score of 9 to 7.

The winners punched out 14 hits, Waites heading the attack with three blows while White belted a homer. Miller of Allegany collected three hits in three times at bat, including a ninth inning homer with two aboard. The score:

ALLEGANY	010	012	3—7	5	5
ARISTOCRATS	170	010	x—9	14	2

Anderson, Shumake and Deffenbaugh. Taylor, Togan and Williams.

GIANTS BEAT REDS IN NIGHT GAME, 5-0

CINCINNATI, May 3.—Dave Koslo's four-hit pitching enabled the New York Giants to defeat the Cincinnati Reds here tonight by the score of 5-0. Score:

NEW YORK	000	031	001—5	13	0
CINCINNATI	000	000	000—0	4	0

Koslo and Cooper. Vandermeer, Fox (6) Raffensberger (9) and Lamanno.

Our Venison-Fed Trout
Change Softball Rules
Whip Refuses To Quit
Luke Is Hard To Forget

By C. V. BURNS

Is it any wonder that out-of-state anglers are coming here in greater numbers this season to fish Western Maryland streams for trout?

The reason is because trout reared in this section of the state are venison fed!

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, revealed this interesting fact recently while discussing the rapid increase in the deer population in Garrett and Allegany counties.

In the past several months a total of 13 deer have been run down by automobiles and trucks on the highways in the two counties. The deer meat is sent to the trout hatchery in Garrett county where it is ground fine like hamgurger and fed to the trout.

As a rule trout are usually fed a combination of linseed oil, cod liver oil and cereals. A pure meat diet is better for trout than a combination food, Minke explains. Liver had been fed to the trout in the rearing ponds at the hatchery but that's quite a costly item now and "deer hamburger" fits into th picture as a first-class substitute.

Joe points out that trout are a carnivorous fish and they really go for any kind of meat that is ground up for them. Hence, the venison diet which produces bigger and better trout and last but not least — satisfied anglers.

Out-of-state anglers pay $5.50 a throw to fish in Maryland so there must be more than water in them thar creeks.

Bill Bess, West Virginia's commissioner for the Amateur Softball Association, reports teams in the Mountain State will abide by the changes made by the international joint rules committee in the rules for 1948.

The most important are:

1. Distance between bases returned to 60 feet.
2. Players' uniforms to be all of one color.
3. Catcher to receive intentional pass can stand anywhere within the lines of the catcher's box.
4. Batter's box dimensions returned to 3 feet by 6 feet.

The old rule requiring the pitchers to wear dark uniforms with no lettering or trimming on the front has been eliminated but the committee suggests that teams refrain from using white glossy material.

An item in this column recently which reminded local softball and baseball players that it's a good time to take out accident insurance attracted the attention of a local insurance agent who tells us that only a few clubs give their players the proper protection each year.

The Dukes pro basketball team of the All-American League and the Amvets' teams were among those who thought enough of their players to insure them.

One of the players holding an accident policy was injured by a locomotive (not on the basketball court) and he received $180 hospital expenses. A softball player suffered an ankle injury and no benefit game was necessary for him because he took out insurance at the start of the season just in case the unexpected happened.

Yes, fellows, Now Is The Hour (No. 1 on the Hit Parade) to wise up. Remember, it's usually the "iron men" of sport who crack up like a china closet!

Robert Whip hopes to be in Wheeling on Sunday morning at 10:30 D.S.T. to represent Cumberland at the meeting of the All-American Professional Basketball League.

At this session the league will consider such matters as election of officers for the 1948-49 season, application for franchise, amendment of the by-laws and constitution and reports by various officers.

In addition to Cumberland the franchise holders are Wheeling, Youngstown, Columbus, Zanesville and Altoona.

Several other cities have indicated they might be interested in joining the league.

Whip was among the group which controlled the local franchise during the past winter. He tells us that he is trying to interest several business men in keeping the franchise here and his purpose in making the trip to Wheeling is to retain Cumberland's berth temporarily at least to see what kind of financial support he will receive at home before another season gets underway.

Those who know Luke Barnett, the famous ribber, should be glad to hear that Babe Ruth devotes several paragraphs to one of Pittsburgh's favorite sons in his book, "The Babe Ruth Story."

The Sultan of Swat recalls the 1924 dinner staged by the New York Baseball Writers with the following:

"They had a character there named Luke Barnett, who played the part of a tough waiter. He insulted everybody including Col. Ruppert and Judge Landis, and he finally got on me. He kept poking me in the chest and yelling, "Whoever told you, you were a ballplayer?"

"Well, he had me crazy. Rosy Ryan of the Giants and I finally chased him all over the room, and Rosy finally brought him down with a flying tackle. We were starting to beat him up when the waiters, who had hired

LaSalle Plays Unbeaten AHS At Park Today

Campers Seek 6th Win, Sentinels At Hyndman

LaSalle and Allegany will engage in the second game of the three-cornered intra-city high school baseball series when they clash today at 4 p. m. at Community Park.

In the opener last Friday LaSalle was upset by Fort Hill, 1-0.

Allegany is the only undefeated scholastic nine in the district this far and will be angling for its sixth straight triumph. In three starts LaSalle has won two and lost one.

Creegan vs. Clingan

It's a Bi-State Conference game as well as an all-city contest and with Jim Clingan and Lefty Pat Creegan opposing each other on the firing line a hard fought game is anticipated.

Allegany is undefeated in five starts and holds two wins and no losses in the circuit which Fort Hill leads by having won three of three games.

Fort Hill's pace-setters, boasting league wins over Central, Beall and LaSalle, will play Eddie McVicker's Hyndman High nine at Hyndman, Pa., in a conference tilt. The Pennsy nine has won one and lost one in the league. This game is also set for 4 p. m.

Beall Invades Central

The two up-creek members of the league, Beall and Central are slated to meet today at 4 p. m. in Lonaconing. Beall has lost three straight games to league foes while the Orange and Black has been trounced by Hyndman and Fort Hill.

Today's non-league contest brings together Johnny Paugh's Moorefield High Yellow Jackets and Davis High School of Tucker County at Moorefield. Moorefield is playing .500 ball, having won two and lost two.

Conflict In Dates Keeps LaSalle Idle

LaSalle High School's baseball team claimed a victory by forfeit over Hyndman High School when the latter team failed to put in its appearance for a Bi-State Conference game here yesterday.

Lloyd Keller, principal of the Hyndman school, said he received a letter from LaSalle last week asking that the game be set for Saturday, May 8. Yesterday Hyndman received a card from LaSalle in which the latter school set the game for May 3, Keller stated.

"It was our intention to play the game on Saturday and the card we received yesterday changing the date was too short a notice for us to fill the engagement," Keller declared. "We still hope the game will be played Saturday."

Massachusetts Will Probe Boxing Setup

BOSTON, May 3 (AP)—The Massachusetts House of Representatives today suspended rules to approve an order calling for a study of the state's boxing regulations.

The probe was prompted by a fight last Friday when the veteran Spider Armstrong knocked out Tom Collins, 18-year-old Boston boy.

Rep. Gabriel F. Pelmonte (D-Boston), who sponsored the order, said boxers should be given better protection.

Barnett for the gag, called us off and told us it was all a rib."

"Just when I had him by the neck!"

When Luke Barnett appeared here at an Associated Press dinner he was introduced as the editor of a foreign language newspaper from Chicago. He then proceeded to put the blast on the A.P. and really had the bigwigs ripping mad. In fact, one of the Baltimore Bureau's representatives became so "regusted" he walked right out of the dining room at the Country Club.

And who do you think Luke seemed to irk more than anybody with his ribbing?

The gentleman who demanded that Barnett be thrown out for insulting the guests was none other than William Preston Lane, now governor of Maryland and well known Hagerstown publisher.

Luke turned on Lane and kept yelling: "Aw shut up!"

You could have knocked Lane over with a feather when he learned it was a put up job.

Citation Is Only Announced Starter For The Preakness

Derby Victor May Walk Distance By Himself

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, May 3, (AP) — Calumet's Derby winner, Citation, is the only announced starter today for the May 15 Preakness and many are predicting "that's all, brother."

There's no question around Pimlico that Citation will be home first in the second of the classics for 3-year-olds. The argument is over whether anyone will dare dispute him.

One group tells you not to be surprised Citation will just have to walk the mile and three sixteenth by himself. Others say it's just a case of "After You Alphonse," that after one owner makes his move several others will follow.

But there's no denying that right now it's Citation first and all alone for the $100,000 classic. Even his sensational sidekick, Coaltown, is to stay in the barn.

Trainer Jimmy Jones says Coaltown will come up tomorrow from Louisville with Citation just for insurance. In case Citation goes wrong Coaltown will be called in.

Those who pooh-pooh the idea of a walkover can give you plenty of reasons. First of all there's the lure of money if not the glory. The Preakness pays off $35,000 in second, third and fourth money.

Then both the owners of Escadru, the Derby rearguard, and third place My Request weren't convinced their colts did their best in the run for roses. Both got bumped and while no one is alibing they might want another chance.

However, neither one is committed yet. Escadru's owner, William L. Brann, is a director of Pimlico and may run for sentimentality if nothing else.

Those who believe it will be a horse race also reel off the names of Better Self, Salmagundi, Kilroy, Bovard, Saggy and MacBeth as prospective starters. But so far they are just names.

At any rate, there is a good chance it will be the smallest Preakness since 1943 when Count Fleet scared away all but three contenders. Before that you have to go all the way back to 1888 to find a four-horse field in the records.

Junior Softball Loop Will Meet Tonight

Plans for the 1948 season of the City Junior Softball League will be formulated at a meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Central YMCA. The league is scheduled to open its season next Monday.

Seven teams hold franchises in the circuit and another team is sought to make an eight club loop.

Representatives of all teams are urged to attend.

Wellersburg Defeats Allegany Grove, 4-1

Wellersburg defeated Allegany Grove in a County Softball League game yesterday on the latter's field by the score of 4-1.

Robinette and O'Baker shared six of the winner's 14 hits while Cecil, left fielder of Allegany Grove, made several nice catches.

Shuck pitched for Wellersburg while Whitman was on the mound for Allegany Grove.

Kibler Praises Boys' Training Program Of "Y"

Awards Presented At League Banquet

"The Cumberland YMCA's Sunday School league to me is the father of Maryland basketball as far as bringing kids up is concerned," Col. J. Thomas Kibler, former coach at Washington College at Chestertown, Md., told some 250 guests at the loop's annual banquet last night at the "Y."

Kibler, now a scout from the Boston Braves of the National League continued by saying that the boys in the "Y" league can play the same kind of ball as they do at Kentucky if properly coached.

"If only I could have gotten boys like these when I started coaching, boys that knew the fundamentals," Kibler added.

Kibler told those present that they were "most fortunate in getting the training now." He said this training will make "great players of the boys when they go to college."

Kibler Stresses Speed

The Braves' scout said that boys of today don't run hard enough. "The first thing I look for in an athlete," he said, "is speed."

He cautioned the boys not to forget the word hustle. You won't get beat if you hustle he told them. Ball games are lost by mistakes caused by mental lapses on fundamentals he continued. A better coached team will take advantage of these mistakes and win the game. In such a league as the "Y" has, boys will learn not to make mistakes and will learn to use fundamentals mechanically he added.

He told of a program such as Cumberland's league has which was started in Chestertown this season by Ellery Ward, a former Allegany and Washington college athlete.

Kibler concluded by saying that "If the league can continue producing men such as have served under me at Washington College, it will continually do a grand job."

Congratulates Winners

Winfield H. Adam, acting general secretary of the "Y," said that the YMCA's Sunday School league was well known throughout Maryland, including Baltimore, and is the best in the state. He lauded the Grace Methodist team on winning the championship.

Toastmaster Eugene T. Gunning, assistant managing editor of the Cumberland Times, then introduced three high school basketball coaches, Jesse Riggleman of Ridgeley; John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, of Fort Hill and Walter L. Bowers of Allegany, all of whom spoke briefly.

Harold Fearer, president of the league, said that in the loop which completed its 20th season he felt that this year was successful for all—win, lose or draw. He said this league was an incentive for the starting of a league in Frostburg whose champion lost to Grace Methodist in the series for the Western Maryland title.

Lauds Ward's Program

Coach Fred "Dutch" Dumschott of Washington College predicted the league idea started by Ward at Chestertown will son spread over Kent county and the Eastern Shore. "Program such as this," he concluded" should be inaugurated throughout Maryland and other states."

Ralph Hoelzer of Calvary Methodist then presented the Lloyd Rawlings championship trophy to Coach Walter Henry. Grace Methodist now has two legs on the trophy which must be won three times to become a permanent possession. Calvary has one leg on the trophy. First Presbyterian was given the ball used in the championship game and was received by Coach John Harris.

Clifton Van Roby, physical director of the "Y," congratulated the winners and thanked all officials for their help.

Zion Receives Trophy

The [illegible] trophy, presented by a local business firm to a team showing the best sportsmanship throughout the year, was awarded to Zion Reformed. The trophy is the first of its kind in the league.

Coach Henry then received the ten individual awards which annually go to the winning team and he gave them to Eddie Haines, Jackie Rice, Ivan Abe, Eddie Landis, Schley Lyons, James Stevenson, Jack Corrick, John Park, Bill Eckard, and John Poling. Other members of the squad, who will also receive awards are Thomas Short, Loay "Bud" Twigg, Tommy Knotts, James Farris, Leon Middleton, Ken Owens, and Wilbur King.

The invocation was given by Rev. David C. Watson of Emmanuel Episcopal and the benediction was given by Rev. William Eisenberger of [illegible].

Little Harp Wins Pimlico Feature

Beats Flying Weather, Nathaniel Is Third

PIMLICO, Md., May 3 (AP) — Shamrock Stable's Little Harp, operating over a muddy track, was an easy winner of the 14th running of the $7,500 added Baltimore Spring Handicap. The 4-year-old gelding making his third start of the year, was never headed in the sprint feature and went into the wire four lengths in front of D. K. Kerr, Jr.'s Flying Weather. Four additional lengths back came Lazy F. Ranch's Nathaniel to be third in the field of six.

The race was the first event on Pimlico's stake parade to be climaxed by the Preakness on May 15. A crowd of some 12,500 saw racing return to Baltimore's Old Hill Top track. Heavy rain last night and a drizzle today had the racing strip in a muddy condition.

Little Harp, rested during last winter, had a steady backing in the rather open affair and paid a $7.40 mutuel after going the six furlongs in 1.14 2-5, fair time considering the conditions, but the slowest since the race was first contested in 1935.

Jockey Paul Keiper had Little Harp away winging in front. The Doge tried to keep up but weakened. Approaching the stretch, Flying Weather came up on the inside to become a threat but Keiper roused Little Harp and the gelding drew out gradually in smart fashion. Flying Weather was a tired and driving second ahead of the faltering Nathaniel.

The victory was worth $6,225 to the Shamrock stable.

Bedford Road Scores Over Ellerslie, 7-3

Bedford Road defeated Ellerslie by the score of 7-3 in a County Softball League game yesterday at Bedford Road.

B. Miles led Bedford Road's 11-hit attack with three hits in four trips to the plate while P. Mertens walloped a home run. Devore and Emerick each hit safely twice in three trips to the plate for the losers.

Five games are scheduled in the league today. Score:

Tommy Burns Stops Maloney In Third

SYDNEY, May 3. (AP)—Tommy Burns, Australian welterweight champion, knocked out Bob Maloney, U. S. negro, in the third round of their scheduled 10-round affair in Sydney Stadium tonight.

Maloney, unrated in the United States, was unable to stand up under the barrage of blows turned loose by Burns, who was out to avenge a recent defeat by Benny Evans of Oklahoma City, Okla. The Australian weighed 148¼, Maloney 150¾.

Cardinals Take Third Place By Defeating Cubs

Twirling Of Hearn Features 3-1 Win

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals climbed into third place over the idle Dodgers by downing the Chicago Cubs 3-1 today behind the effective pitching of Jim Hearn. The game drew 3,735.

Given stellar support afield, Hearn limited the Cubs to seven scattered hits in the rubber contest of a three-game series for his first victory of the year. He had four strikeouts.

Johnny Schmitz, lifted for a pinch batter after the Cards nicked him for three singles and two runs in the seventh, was the loser.

Catcher Del Rice helped the Cardinal cause by cutting down Hal Jeffcoat in the first and Harry Schenz in the sixth when they attempted to steal second.

Enos Slaughter's peg to Rice nipped Bill Nicholson at the plate when he tried to score from second on Clyde McCullough's single to right in the fifth.

Successive singles by Rice, Hearn and Red Schoendienst, and an error by Nicholson, were good for two Redbird runs in the seventh. Rice advanced to second on Hearn's safety and then scored when Nicholson let the ball get through his legs. Schoendienst drove in Hearn.

Hard-hitting Stan Musial, who has 14 runs batted in for almost one third of the Cardinal total in this department, drove in Schoendienst in the third inning with the first run. Schoendienst walked and advanced to second on Terry Moore's single.

Chicago finally managed to push across a run in the eighth. A two-bagger by Pinch Batter Cliff Aberson scored McCullough, who had walked.

Whitey Kurowski was back at third for the Redbirds after sitting out several games with a troublesome right elbow. Box:

Lee Sala Winner Over Sonny Horne

Pittsburgh Fighter Cops 37th Straight

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP) — Middleweight Lee Sala got over his "trial horse" test tonight at the Gardens when he carved out a workmanlike split decision over Sonny Horne, of Niles, Ohio, in the 10-round featured bout.

It was victory No. 37 without a setback for the Donora, Pa., fighter and his backers said it proved him ready to meet better boys.

Judges George Brownlee and George Lipmacci voted to keep Sala's string of victories from being snapped, while Referee Ernie Sesto cast for Horne.

Sala started out looking like a million dollars the first four rounds, then suddenly eased up. To ringsiders in the crowd of 3,715, it looked as though he tired badly midway in the battle, then caught his second wind just before the fight's end when it meant most.

The 10th, Sala's slashing left hook ripped open a cut over Horne's right eye. In an earlier round, the injury likely would have stopped the fight for a T.K.O.

Robinson Will Defend Title Against Docusen

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson will risk his welterweight championship here June 4 against Bernard Docusen of New Orleans, beaten only twice in four years, and ranked the best of Robinson's challengers.

The 15-round championship bout, which may be either indoors or outdoors, was approved conditionally today by the Illinois Athletic Commission. It demanded a $10,000 Robinson appearance bond. Robinson said in New York he would meet any appearance guarantee.

Radio May Broadcast Score Every Inning

CHICAGO, May 3. (AP)—Major league baseball scores may be broadcast every inning instead of by three inning clusters, the American and National leagues disclosed today.

President Will Harridge said the new concession to radio followed amendment of the majors' contract with Western Union. The telegraph company previously specified three-inning restrictions on broadcasting of scores.

FIGHT RESULTS

Bill Woods, 130, Century A.C., Frostburg, won 3-0 decision over Russell Bear, 132, Diamond A.C.

Earl Smith, 112, Cumberland Amvets, knocked out Jimmie Deetz, 112, Diamond A.C., in 1:38 of third round.

Bill Frazier, 156, Diamond A.C., won 3-0 decision over Herman Stovall, 160, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jim Folk, 124, Royale A.C., won 3-0 decision over Carl "Lefty" Smith, 122, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Bill Mann, 150, Diamond A.C., won 3-0 decision over Jesse Williams, 151, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jimmie Catanese, 124, Royale A.C., won 3-0 decision over Carl Ladson, 122, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh.

Jimmie Brown, 130, Diamond A.C., knocked out Robert Mungo, 132, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh, in 1:02 of third round.

Bobby Goss, 112, Royale A.C., knocked out Eddie Miller, 114, Homewood A.C., Pittsburgh in 1:59 on second round.

Delicatets, Astor And North End Cop City League Tilts

Reed's, Crusaders And Mower's Lose

Lacy's Delicatets, Astor Cab and North End Social and Athletic Club won the opening games yesterday in the City Softball League.

The Delicatets, defending champions, obtained only two hits but defeated Reed's Electricians, 3-1, at East Side Field when a squeeze play and Vernon Penner's steal of home netted two runs to break a 1-1 deadlock in the sixth inning.

Crabtree's double, a sacrifice and Hardy's infield out gave Lacy's a run in the fourth but Reed's tied it up in the same stanza on Elliott's home run. In the 6th Crabtree walked and went to third when Scarletta booted Penner's sacrifice bunt. Durbin's bunt sent Crabtree home with the winning run and later Penner stole home with the insurance run.

Decker held the Electricians to three hits.

Bill Underdonk Stars

Bill Underdonk tossed a five-hitter, fanned six and rapped out a homer and double in three trips as Astor Cab took Joe's Crusaders into camp at Community Park, 6-2.

The Cabbies' hurler homered on his first time at bat in the second inning. Bill Dean and Harry Minnicks also banged out two hits for Astor. R. Davis and Ray Cleggett each hit safely twice for the Crusaders.

North End Pounds Ball

North End got away to a flying start by rapping 16 hits to trounce Mower's Bakery, 11-1, at Stitcher Field.

Pete Deremer had a perfect day at bat with four hits, Mickey Clark had 3 for 4 and O. Young, Devault and Whiteman had two blows each. One of Whitman's wallops was a home run. B. Cage obtained two of the five safeties yielded by Troutman. The scores:

Eight Rocking Chair League Clubs To Open 1948 Campaign Today

The eight-club Rocking Chair Softball League will open its season today.

Manager Jim Angellatta's Moose tossers, defending champions, will play the Amvets, a new entry, at Campobello. Dick Peddicord is manager of the Amvets.

The Elks, piloted by Glenwood "Tag" Reel will oppose Jim Morrison's Potomac Edison aggregation on the East Side Playground field.

Skipper Jim Browning's Knights of Columbus are scheduled to battle the Fraternal Order of Eagles, another newcomer, at Fort Hill. Fritz Palmer is manager of the Birds.

In the fourth game on tap today Cecil Warwick's Celanese Club will tangle with the Cumberland Outdoor Club on the Rolling Mill diamond. Celanese played under the name of Texcel last season.

Robert "Spike" Herboldshimer is umpire-in-chief of the league which plays its games on Tuesday and Thursday.

BI-STATE UMPIRES NAMED FOR SUNDAY

Umpiring assignments for Sunday's games in the Bi-State Baseball League were announced last night by Eddie Thompson, umpire-in chief, as follows:

Westvaco at Midland—Middleton and Layman.

Amvets at Queen City—Davis and Kelly.

Barton at Hyndman—C. Warnick and Lowery.

Mt. Savage at Lonaconing — Thompson and Johnson.

Keyser at Frostburg—G. Warnick and Dunn.

Umpires assigned for last Sunday's postponed games will fill the same engagements when those games are played off.

Mann, Frazier, Goss, Catanese And Folk Score

Smith Kayoes Deetz, 637 See D. A. C. Card

Cumberland amateur boxers representing the Diamond A. C. and the Royale A. C. made a clean sweep of six bouts with the Homewood A. C. of Pittsburgh, all-negro team, at the State Armory last night.

Local victors in the inter-city matches were Bill Mann, Bill Frazier and Jimmie Brown of the D. A. C., and Jim Folk, Bobby Goss and Jimmie Cantanese of the Royale A. C. A week ago the Homewood boxers split even in four matches here.

Three knockouts featured the Diamond Athletic Club's eight-bout card last night and two of them were registered in the inter-city tests.

In the feature go, Bill Mann, local middleweight, decisioned the hard-hitting Jesse Williams, Homewood team member, in a three-round bout that was loaded with dynamite. The boys "shot the works" in this slugfest and while neither scored a knockdown the bout proved a thriller. Williams tired late in the second round and put up a clever defense in the final heat to last the limit. It was Mann's ninth win in his last 10 bouts and his 11th triumph against five losses.

Goss Kayoes Miller

Bobby Goss, local flyweight, belted out Eddie Miller of Pittsburgh in 1:59 of the second round in the secondary feature on the card. The Smoky City lad made an interesting fight of it in the first round but in the second Goss staggered him with a left hook then put over a terrific right to the jaw that sent Miller down for the count in a neutral corner. It was Goss's second straight k.o. triumph and his 17th win in 23 amateur matches.

Bill Frazier, flashing his best form, clearly outpointed the willing and dangerous Herman Stovall of the Homewood team in the first of the inter-city battles. Bill scored repeatedly with a left jab to the head and his right crosses to the jaw jolted the Pittsburgher time and again. Stovall, an infighter, was outsmarted by Frazier, who succeeded in staying out of range of the Pittsburgh southpaw's uppercuts and hooks which might have spelled disaster had they landed. The fight had a thrilling windup with both boys slugging it out after the final gong.

Jim Folk, promising local featherweight, marked up his fifth straight ring triumph, by decisioning Carl Smith, another Pittsburgh southpaw, in the fourth match on the card. Smith gave Folk a rousing fight but Jim had the edge throughout and walked off with an unanimous decision.

Catanese Wins Easily

After Mann defeated Williams, Jimmie Catanese, the R.A.C. featherweight, easily defeated Carl Ladson, junior featherweight champion of Pittsburgh in three fast rounds, Ladson was on the retreat most of the time and when Catanese caught up with him Jimmy proved to be the better of the two fighters. It was a 3-0 victory for the local scrapper.

Bill Woods of Frostburg carried "too many guns" for Russell Bean and copped a 3-0 decision over the local boy in the curtain raiser.

In bout No. 2 Earl Smith, the Amvets' flyweight, shook the losing jinx that has been trailing him lately, by knocking out Jimmie Deetz in 1:38 of the third and final round. Smith put Deetz down for five at the bell ending the first round, draped him over the middle rope for nine in the third and then stopped Jimmie with a hard punch on the jaw. It was Smith's third win over Deetz in their Shaughnessy boxing series. Deetz holds a split decision over "Smitty."

Only One Bad Match

The 7th bout was the only poor one on the card and was booed throughout. It ended in 1:02 of the third round when Robert Mungo, Pittsburgh featherweight, quit to Jimmie Brown. The less said about this the better.

Jim Kelley refereed all of the matches which were witnessed by 637 paying patrons. Gilbert Becker and Jack Rorick were the judges, "Bobby" Cavanaugh, timer, and Col. Nelson W. Russler, announcer.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey will fight Lou Kozarek, of Portage, Pa., in the Amvets' feature match at the Armory on Monday, May 10.

Aristocrats Win, 9-7, In Frostburg Opener

FROSTBURG, May 3.—The Aristocrats defeated Allegany in the opening game of the Frostburg Softball League season today by the score of 9 to 7.

The winners punched out 14 hits, Waites heading the attack with three blows while White belted a homer. Miller of Allegany collected three hits in three times at bat, including a ninth inning homer with two aboard. The score:

ALLEGANY	010	012	3—7	5	0
ARISTOCRATS	170	010	x—9	14	2

Anderson, Shumake and Deffenbaugh. Taylor, Togan and Williams.

GIANTS BEAT REDS IN NIGHT GAME, 5-0

CINCINNATI, May 3.—Dave Koslo's four-hit pitching enabled the New York Giants to defeat the Cincinnati Reds here tonight by the score of 5-0. Score:

NEW YORK	000	031	001—5	13	0
CINCINNATI	000	000	000—0	4	0

Baby Star of Follies

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 3 (INS) — Those rumors about Charlie Chaplin are just rumors. He is not going to England to make a picture. He is going to stay here and play in another comedy as soon as he gets it written. He has postponed "Shadow and Substance" in favor of this new idea, the plot of which, he will not tell.

Louella Parsons

When I asked if he planned to revive the little tramp, he said:

"No, because the tramp is an international figure, and to give him words would be a mistake. He would have to be cockney and in France, where they call him Charlot, and in India, where they call him something else, it wouldn't do to give the character any one nationality."

•—•—•

The man in the Treasury Department who brought Al Capone to justice and sent him to Alcatraz, is the hero in "The Chicago Story." Capone is pictured just as he was—a gangster who got his just dues.

Robert Rossen, who is producing "The Chicago Story," has brought Harry Keeley out from New York to play the lawyer in the picture. Joe Lewis is the director.

The treatment, which is semi-documentary I might say, has been approved by the Johnston office, which has steadfastly refused to let any company film Capone's life, for fear it might have a bad effect on young people. This Columbia version shows the work of the Treasury Department, and Capone is just one of the men who go afoul of the law.

That cute trick, June Lockhart, leaves "For Love or Money" on Broadway for movies and money in Hollywood. She arrives next month for "The World and Little Willie" for Walter Wanger on the Eagle-Lion lot. June will have with her, Robert Young, not the owner of Eagle-Lion, but the actor. It's an original by Stanley Roberts.

•—•—•

Director George Sidney of M.G.M. tells an amusing anecdote about the agonies of previewing in a story he has coming up for a national magazine.

Seems the studio was previewing one of their biggest pictures (Lana Turner and Clark Gable were the stars) in a small citrus town in southern California. It was a peach of a picture, but suddenly, right in the middle of the most exciting scenes, the audience rose practically to a man, and walked out!

The executives were flabbergasted. Then someone explained, "They've gone to fire the smudge pots. There was a frost warning on the radio before the show."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Did Roger Dann, the French singer, give Barbara Barondess McLean that huge pearl and diamond ring? It is said that when Douglas McLean gets his freedom, he will wed his secretary.

Bogey's "Baby" was the only one who wasn't seasick in the crew of six aboard the Sultana in the race from Balboa to Ensenada.

Lucille Bannister, protegee of Rita and Wallace Beery, went to New York to tell Edward Power, her fiance, that she couldn't marry him. Power, a good talker, has all but changed her mind.

The newest girl in Sid Sheldon's life is Diana Garrett, who recently underwent an appendectomy. Sid won the Academy award for "Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer."

Dorothy Lamour will have news for the New York columnist who once tabbed her one of the ten worst dressed women. She arrives in New York with a swank wardrobe especially designed for her by Jean Louis.

Vincent Price flies to Mexico Wednesday to confer with officials about a film he wants to make on Mexican art.

Gertrude Niesen and the other members of the "Babe Ruth" company have been given a life pass to the Yankee baseball games — not bad.

So far, Betty Davis, who put a fortune in her farm, Butternut Hill in the White Mountains, hasn't been able to sell it.

Dick Foran will forget cowboy roles in favor of singing. His first move in that direction is an engagement at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, which starts May 13.

Earl Blackwell, celebrity service head, has been dating Felice Vanderbilt steadily the past few weeks.

That's all today.

Ends Bad Case of Constipation

"I used to have to take 3 or 4 pills regularly for constipation. Then I made KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN my breakfast cereal and it proved to be a real regulator!" If your diet lacks bulk for normal elimination, eat an ounce of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If you are not satisfied after 10 days, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Order KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN today.

Baby Star of Follies

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 3 (INS) — Those rumors about Charlie Chaplin are just rumors. He is not going to England to make a picture. He is going to stay here and play in another comedy as soon as he gets it written. He has postponed "Shadow and Substance" in favor of this new idea, the plot of which, he will not tell.

Loretta Parsons

When I asked if he planned to revive the little tramp, he said:

"No, because the tramp is an international figure, and to give him words would be a mistake. He would have to be cockney and in France, where they call him Charlot, and in India, where they call him something else, it wouldn't do to give the character any one nationality."

The man in the Treasury Department who brought Al Capone to justice and sent him to Alcatraz, is the hero in "The Chicago Story." Capone is pictured just as he was—a gangster who got his just dues.

Robert Rossen, who is producing "The Chicago Story," has brought Harry Keeley out from New York to play the lawyer in the picture. Joe Lewis is the director.

The treatment, which is semi-documentary I might say, has been approved by the Johnston office, which has steadfastly refused to let any company film Capone's life, for fear it might have a bad effect on young people. This Columbia version shows the work of the Treasury Department, and Capone is just one of the men who go afoul of the law.

That cute trick, June Lockhart, leaves "For Love or Money" on Broadway for movies and money in Hollywood. She arrives next month for "The World and Little Willie" for Walter Wanger on the Eagle-Lion lot. June will have with her, Robert Young, not the owner of Eagle-Lion, but the actor. It's an original by Stanley Roberts.

Director George Sidney of M.G.M. tells an amusing anecdote about the agonies of previewing in a story he has coming up for a national magazine.

Seems the studio was previewing one of their biggest pictures (Lana Turner and Clark Gable were the stars) in a small citrus town in southern California. It was a peach of a picture, but suddenly, right in the middle of the most exciting scenes, the audience rose practically to a man, and walked out!

The executives were flabbergasted. Then someone explained, "They've gone to fire the smudge pots. There was a frost warning on the radio before the show."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Did Roger Dann, the French singer, give Barbara Barondess McLean that huge pearl and diamond ring? It is said that when Douglas McLean gets his freedom, he will wed his secretary.

Bogey's "Baby" was the only one who wasn't seasick in the crew of six aboard the Sultana in the race from Balboa to Ensenada.

Lucille Bannister, protegee of Rita and Wallace Beery, went to New York to tell Edward Power, her fiance, that she couldn't marry him. Power, a good talker, has all but changed her mind.

The newest girl in Sid Sheldon's life is Diana Garrett, who recently underwent an appendectomy. Sid won the Academy award for "Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer."

Dorothy Lamour will have news for the New York columnist who once tabbed her one of the ten worst dressed women. She arrives in New York with a swank wardrobe especially designed for her by Jean Louis.

Vincent Price flies to Mexico Wednesday to confer with officials about a film he wants to make on Mexican art.

Gertrude Niesen and the other members of the "Babe Ruth" company have been given a life pass to the Yankee baseball games — not bad.

So far, Betty Davis, who put a fortune in her farm, Butternut Hill in the White Mountains, hasn't been able to sell it.

Dick Poran will forget cowboy roles in favor of singing. His first move in that direction is an engagement at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, which starts May 13.

Earl Blackwell, celebrity service head, has been dating Felice Vanderbilt steadily the past few weeks.

That's all today.

Jaycees Announce "Miss Frostburg" Contest Details

Teachers' College Students Eligible

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has completed plans for the "Miss Frostburg" contest, which is a part of the annual statewide contest to select "Miss Maryland" for the Miss America Beauty pageant at Atlantic City.

Young women wishing to enter the local contest may obtain entry blanks from any Jaycee member. The blanks should be completed and returned at once.

Applicants must have resided in Frostburg or surrounding communities for at least six months prior to the contest. However, young women are eligible if they are attending Frostburg State Teachers College.

Contestants who register in the Frostburg contest are automatically barred from entering the contest in some other locality.

Contestants must be single and never have been married, divorced or had a marriage anulled.

They must be high school seniors or graduates at the time of the contest, and not less than 18 or more than 28 years old on September 1, 1948.

In addition to personality and beauty requirements, each contestant must display some talent, such as singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument or giving a dramatic reading.

The winner of the "Miss Frostburg" title will receive free transportation to the state finals. If she is named "Miss Maryland," she will receive free transportation to and from Atlantic City, as well as accommodations and meals while there.

Miss Compton To Speak

Miss Lillian C. Compton, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, will be the principal speaker at a "Mother and Daughter" banquet to be held Thursday, May 6, at 6 p. m. in Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Margaret Jones, soprano, will sing and the Men's Chorus of First Methodist Church, under direction of Arthur Thomas, will render several selections. Jack Hayes will sing and Helen Cummings will give a reading. Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor, will lead group singing, with Miss Edith Eckhart playing the piano accompaniment.

Attend Legion Meet

Frank T. Powers, Ralph M. Race, James McNeill, Jr., Olen Spiker, Fred Rowe, Arthur Norris and Harold Blocher, members of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, were in Baltimore Sunday, attending a membership meeting of the state department at the War Memorial Building.

The commanders of all posts who exceeded their last year's membership by April 1, 1948, were awarded pins. McNeill, local membership chairman, who was awarded a pin, will be presented with a special award at the annual state convention for his work in securing members this year for Farrady Post.

Fireman Commended

Walter Powell, Jr., a member of the Frostburg Fire Department, is receiving many favorable comments here from other members of the department for the part he played Saturday evening in saving the life of C. Walter Hayes, who was asleep at his home, corner of Wood Street and East College Avenue, when the building caught fire.

Powell, according to other firemen, was the first person to insist that Hayes was in the house and was also one of the first to enter the smoke filled structure and help carry the unconscious man to safety.

Guild Plans Party

Plans have been completed for the bridge and 500 party to be held Wednesday evening by the Junior Guild of St. John's Church, Broadway, according to Mrs. Arthur Roe, chairman.

Mrs. Beverly Hayes, chairman of the refreshments committee, has received donations from Mrs. Thomas Smith, Miss Ina K. Spitznas, Mrs. Helen Stair, Miss Annie B. Gray, Mrs. Frank T. Harrat, Mrs. Benjamin Thomas, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Kathleen Todd, Mrs. Leslie Brode, Mrs. E. S. Sliger, Mrs. Dan Porter, Miss Doris Stewart, Mrs. M. Alice Kearsing, Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Grace Mont and Mrs. Amer Suter.

Association To Meet

"Laugh That Off" Will Be Staged At Teachers College Friday Night

FROSTBURG—A three-act comedy, "Laugh That Off," will be presented by the Little Theater of Frostburg State Teachers College at 8:15 p. m. Friday, May 7.

The story deals with a down and out actress, Peggy, who is "adopted" by three young men, Leo, Remorse and Art, who live in an apartment in New York.

When war interrupts, Remorse and Art enter the armed forces and Leo, classified 4-F, stays home.

Peggy leaves too. The question develops: "Who wins Peggy?"

Humor is brought in in a big way through Lucy, the maid, who comes from the wrong side of the railroad tracks. The boys' efforts at correcting her grammar shows results.

The cast includes George McDonough, Jack Stapleton, Helen Kerns, Bernard Loradich and Drucilla Shriner, all veterans of the Little Theater.

Carlyn Ringler, a new member of the group, has been active in dramatics and was a thespian at Fort Hill High School.

Don Loughrie, who plays the male lead, likewise is a new member of the Little Theater, but has acting experience and studied drama at New York University.

He was in the Army's Special Service branch during the war and took part in theatricals at that time. He has studied dramatics for some two years.

The feminine lead is played by Helen Kerns. Others are Remorse, George McDonough; Art, Jack Stapleton; Lucy, Drucilla Shriner; Mrs. Connelly, Carlyn Ringler; and Mike Connelly, Bernard Loradich.

Mrs. Lucille N. Clay is director.

Francis Dawson Is Reburied In Westernport

Cousin Sings Requiem Mass

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT — A reburial service for Tech. Sgt. Francis H. Dawson, 28, son of Mrs. Julia Dawson, 202 Cromwell Street, Luke, and the late John E. Dawson, who was killed July 14, 1943, in Latin America, was held yesterday morning in St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, with a requiem high mass celebrated by his cousin, Rev. Michael K. Carney, formerly of Westernport, assistant pastor of the Church of St. John The Evangelist, Baltimore.

Monsignor A. Scarpati, pastor, and Rev. Charles Quinn and Rev. George Pugh, assistant pastors, were in the sanctuary.

Military rites were accorded at the church cemetery by Victory Post No. 155, American Legion, Westernport and Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52 American Legion, Piedmont.

The pallbearers were Emanuel Diaz, Louis Diaz, Joseph Diaz, Tony DiGioia, Frances Densmore, and Richard Ryan, all of whom enlisted in the Air Corps with him at Cumberland, Jan 6, 1942.

Moose Initiate Class

Twenty-nine candidates received the initiatory degree into the Piedmont Lodge No. 1120, Loyal Order of Moose at the district convention held Sunday afternoon with the local lodge conferring the degree work.

Recent elected officers of Piedmont Lodge were installed by Henry Leulette, Clarksburg, governor of Northern West Virginia. The officers include Clarence Arnold, governor; Hiram Nogle, junior governor; William Robinson, prelate; William O'Haver, treasurer and Ormond Ledlow, secretary. Recent elected officers of the Keyser Lodge were also installed by Leulette.

A talk was given by Leulette, plate lunch was served and a floor show was presented after the business meeting. Music for dancing was provided by the Collegians Orchestra of Frostburg.

Over 300 attended the meeting representing Piedmont, Keyser, Romney, Terra Alta, Thomas, Cumberland, Charlestown and Frostburg lodges.

Hardy County Girls Are Invited To National Hospital Day Observance

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—All the senior girls in the Hardy County high schools have been invited to Cumberland on Wednesday May 12 to help celebrate National Hospital Day, according to the announcement of Ann Sloan, Lonaconing, chairman of the Nurses Recruitment Committee.

The Nurses Recruitment Committee hopes to stimulate an interest in nursing and have a full day's program planned for the guests starting with a sight-seeing tour to places of historical interest in Cumberland at one o'clock. The guests will meet at the Public Library on Washington Street. J. William Hunt, editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times, will supervise the tour by the History Clubs of Allegany and Fort Hill High Schools.

A visit to both Cumberland hospitals will be included in the tour and refreshments will be served at both institutions. A banquet will be served to the student guests followed by a pageant on nursing to close the day's activities about 9:30 p. m.

Farm Women Meet

A lesson on "The Rights and Duties of a Voter" was taught by Mrs. Roy Peters to the Rockoak Farm Women's Club at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Riggleman.

Mrs. Alice Lively, Hardy county home demonstration agent, explained and discussed the ballot for the May 11 state primary election. The club donated $5 to the Cancer Control Campaign. Two visitors and 15 members attended.

Plan Fair Events

The directors of the Tri-County Fair Association met with a special committee of the Pure Bred Angus Breeders Association in Petersburg last week to work out preliminary plans for a permanent show and sale of Angus cattle at the Tri-County Fair grounds.

Representing the Pure Bred Angus Breeders Association were W. N. McClung, county agent of Berkeley county, Frank Clapham, Martinsburg, and Clyde Bonar, Burlington, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

The problem of costs for the show and sale has to be worked out before a permanent arrangement can be settled.

The Tri-County Fair Association also completed plans for this year's fair and committees were appointed to make final arrangements for entertainment, exhibits and prizes.

Furniture Workers Get Increase

A wage increase of five cents per hour retroactive to January 16 for all employees of the Thompson Mahogany Company was authorized by federal arbitrator George Strong, Washington, in recent negotiations with officials of the company and representatives of the United Furniture Workers of America, CIO.

A request for a cost-of-living increase was made by the union last January 16 and was refused by the company. At that time the federal arbitrator was requested to come in for mediation.

Representing the Thompson Mahogany Company were Bob Thompson, George Arnhold, counsel for the company, Philadelphia, Pa., and Martin Kelley, superintendent of the local plant. Representing the workers were Michael Tyson, York, Pa., International Representative of the U.F.W. of A., CIO, and Price Riggleman, president of the local union.

The present contract between the company and the union will be reopened for negotiation July 16.

Jaycees Announce "Miss Frostburg" Contest Details

Teachers' College Students Eligible

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has completed plans for the "Miss Frostburg" contest, which is a part of the annual statewide contest to select "Miss Maryland" for the Miss America beauty pageant at Atlantic City.

Young women wishing to enter the local contest may obtain entry blanks from any Jaycee member. The blanks should be completed and returned at once.

Applicants must have resided in Frostburg or surrounding communities for at least six months prior to the contest. However, young women are eligible if they are attending Frostburg State Teachers College.

Contestants who register in the Frostburg contest are automatically barred from entering the contest in some other locality.

Contestants must be single and never have been married, divorced or had a marriage anulled.

They must be high school seniors or graduates at the time of the contest, and not less than 18 or more than 28 years old on September 1, 1948.

In addition to personality and beauty requirements, each contestant must display some talent, such as singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument or giving a dramatic reading.

The winner of the "Miss Frostburg" title will receive free transportation to the state finals. If she is named "Miss Maryland," she will receive free transportation to and from Atlantic City, as well as accommodations and meals while there.

Miss Compton To Speak

Miss Lillian C. Compton, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, will be the principal speaker at a "Mother and Daughter" banquet to be held Thursday, May 6, at 6 p. m. in Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Miss Margaret Jones, soprano, will sing and the Men's Chorus of First Methodist Church, under direction of Arthur Thomas, will render several selections. Jack Hayes will sing and Helen Cummings will give a reading. Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor, will lead group singing, with Miss Edith Eckhart playing the piano accompaniment.

Attend Legion Meet

Frank T. Powers, Ralph M. Race, James McNeill, Jr., Olen Spiker, Fred Rowe, Arthur Norris and Harold Blocher, members of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, were in Baltimore Sunday, attending a membership meeting of the state department at the War Memorial Building.

The commanders of all posts who exceeded their last year's membership by April 1, 1948, were awarded pins. McNeill, local membership chairman, who was awarded a pin, will be presented with a special award at the annual state convention for his work in securing members this year for Farrady Post.

Fireman Commended

Walter Powell, Jr., a member of the Frostburg Fire Department, is receiving many favorable comments here from other members of the department for the part he played Saturday evening in saving the life of C. Walter Hayes, who was asleep at his home, corner of Wood Street and East College Avenue, when the building caught fire.

Powell, according to other firemen, was the first person to insist that Hayes was in the house and was also one of the first to enter the smoke filled structure and help carry the unconscious man to safety.

Guild Plans Party

Plans have been completed for the bridge and 500 party to be held Wednesday evening by the Junior Guild of St. John's Church, Broadway, according to Mrs. Arthur Roe, chairman.

Mrs. Beverly Hayes, chairman of the refreshments committee, has received donations from Mrs. Thomas Smith, Miss Ina K. Spitznas, Mrs. Helen Stair, Miss Annie B. Gray, Mrs. Frank T. "Laugh That Off" Will Be Staged At Teachers College Friday Night

FROSTBURG—A three-act comedy, "Laugh That Off," will be presented by the Little Theater of Frostburg State Teachers College at 8:15 p. m. Friday, May 7.

The story deals with a down and out actress, Peggy, who is "adopted" by three young men, Leo, Remorse and Art, who live in an apartment in New York.

When war interrupts, Remorse and Art enter the armed forces and Leo, classified 4-F, stays home.

Peggy leaves too. The question develops: "Who wins Peggy?"

Humor is brought in in a big way through Lucy, the maid, who comes from the wrong side of the railroad tracks. The boys' efforts at correcting her grammar shows results.

The cast includes George McDonough, Jack Stapleton, Helen Kerns, Bernard Loradich and Drucilla Shriner, all veterans of the Little Theater.

Carlyn Ringler, a new member of the group, has been active in dramatics and was a thespian at Fort Hill High School.

Don Loughrie, who plays the male lead, likewise is a new member of the Little Theater, but has acting experience and studied drama at New York University.

He was in the Army's Special Service branch during the war and took part in theatricals at that time. He has studied dramatics for some two years.

The feminine lead is played by Helen Kerns. Others are Remorse, George McDonough; Art, Jack Stapleton; Lucy, Drucilla Shriner; Mrs. Connelly, Carlyn Ringler; and Mike Connelly, Bernard Loradich.

Mrs. Lucille N. Clay is director.

Hardy County Girls Are Invited To National Hospital Day Observance

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—All the senior girls in the Hardy County high schools have been invited to Cumberland on Wednesday May 12 to help celebrate National Hospital Day, according to the announcement of Ann Sloan, Lonaconing, chairman of the Nurses Recruitment Committee.

The Nurses Recruitment Committee hopes to stimulate an interest in nursing and have a full day's program planned for the guests starting with a sight-seeing tour to places of historical interest in Cumberland at one o'clock. The guests will meet at the Public Library on Washington Street. J. William Hunt, editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times, will supervise the tour by the History Clubs of Allegany and Fort Hill High Schools.

A visit to both Cumberland hospitals will be included in the tour and refreshments will be served at both institutions. A banquet will be served to the student guests followed by a pageant on nursing to close the day's activities about 9:30 p. m.

Farm Women Meet

A lesson on "The Rights and Duties of a Voter" was taught by Mrs. Roy Peters to the Rockoak Farm Women's Club at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Riggleman.

Mrs. Alice Lively, Hardy county home demonstration agent, explained and discussed the ballot for the May 11 state primary election. The club donated $5 to the Cancer Control Campaign. Two visitors and 15 members attended.

Plan Fair Events

The directors of the Tri-County Fair Association met with a special committee of the Pure Bred Angus Breeders Association in Petersburg last week to work out preliminary plans for a permanent show and sale of Angus cattle at the Tri-County Fair grounds.

Representing the Pure Bred Angus Breeders Association were W. N. McClung, county agent of Berkeley county, Frank Clapham, Martinsburg, and Clyde Bonar, Burlington, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

The problem of costs for the show and sale has to be worked out before a permanent arrangement can be settled.

The Tri-County Fair Association also completed plans for this year's fair and committees were appointed to make final arrangements for entertainment, exhibits and prizes.

Furniture Workers Get Increase

A wage increase of five cents per hour retroactive to January 16 for all employees of the Thompson Mahogany Company was authorized by federal arbitrator George Strong, Washington, in recent negotiations with officials of the company and representatives of the United Furniture Workers of America, CIO.

A request for a cost-of-living increase was made by the union last January 16 and was refused by the company. At that time the federal arbitrator was requested to come in for mediation.

Representing the Thompson Mahogany Company were Bob Thompson, George Arnhold, counsel for the company, Philadelphia, Pa., and Martin Kelley, superintendent of the local plant. Representing the workers were Michael Tyson, York, Pa., International Representative of the U.F.W. of A., CIO, and Price Riggleman, president of the local union.

The present contract between the company and the union will be reopened for negotiation July 16.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Men In A Maze

John Crosby

There is a movie around called "The Big Clock," taken from a book of the same name, in which a man is put reluctantly in the position of tracking himself down as a murderer. It's doing quite well, I understand, as did the book. The fundamental principle here, that of the central figure in a drama trying to find his way out of a deadly maze with the odds heavily against him, is essentially that of "Suspense," which has been doing the same thing in radio for several years.

In "Suspense," the hero—well, the leading character who can't always be described as a hero—gets the hounds on his trail in the first five minutes. The rest of the story is devoted to his twistings and turnings, the hounds getting closer at every step. Sometimes he gets away; sometimes he doesn't. This morbid story structure differs quite a lot from the old-line mystery where the duties of the head man were to put the finger on Aunt Sarah's murderer. The risks to himself in this enterprise were sometimes considerable but they didn't form the core of the story.

The newer style is a form of vicarious masochism somewhat more stimulating or, at any rate, more sophisticated than a roller coaster. I don't know why it's enjoying such a vogue right now. A trend, maybe. "Suspense" operates in a very narrow field and after awhile the listener gets pretty well acquainted with all the crevasses in which terror can hide. However, within its self-imposed limitations, it does very well.

Consider the case of a man who has had amnesia and can't remember a blessed thing over the past two years. You hang a murder charge on the man, a murder committed within those two lost years, and you have the beginning of a pretty good "Suspense" story. They're always accused of murder in these things; none of your lesser crimes like manslaughter. The man must retrace his steps over those two years and the farther back this particular lad got, the more confident he became he had committed a murder. A pretty pickle.

Then there was another "Suspense" story in which one of those urbane, laughing killers bet a tense, nervous young man $50,000 he could kill him within six months and get away with it. (Don't ask me how this thing was to be paid off.) Naturally, this made the young man even more nervous. He changed boarding houses repeatedly, never traveled the same route, bought a dog to sample his food, and, despite all precautions, seemed to be losing the bet. In the end, he came perilously close to sending himself to the electric chair. He was preserved only by the intervention of fate, which, I'm afraid, plays a pretty free hand in many of these things.

Early this year, "Suspense" expanded from half an hour to a full hour, was given a bang-up production job, embellished with fairly literate writing, excellent acting and the full range of sound effects which means, of course, footsteps of every description. (They never heard of rubber heels or carpets in radio. People clatter around like dray horses.) The program temporarily acquired Robert Montgomery, a very relaxed and capable actor who has come a long way since he was bounding around bedrooms in his Rachel Crothers phase. Mr. Montgomery departed the show about a month ago.

While "Suspense" operates in its special field with great ingenuity, I'm not prepared fully to endorse its aims, which strike me as frivolous. I can't understand all this interest in a man running away from things or extricating himself from impossible and terrifying situations. That's the sort of psychological dilemma we are accustomed to having inflicted on us in dreams. But you don't have to dream any more. Just turn on the radio. Or go to the movies.

C. Of C. Would Slash Flood Control Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce urged the Senate to trim an Appropriations Committee bill that now privides $708,586,666 for flood control and rivers and harbors projects.

To every senator the chamber addressed a plea saying:

"It is imperative to the fiscal health and stability of the nation that federal expenditures be reduced to a supportable level. If this is to be accomplished, all possible economies must be effected and all expenditures which can be deferred without unduly handicapping the federal services should be postponed."

Low-priced cuts of meat such as the shin, neck and breast make excellent soup. Onion, celery, carrot and parsley should be added for flavor.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Men In A Maze

John Crosby

There is a movie around called "The Big Clock," taken from a book of the same name, in which a man is put reluctantly in the position of tracking himself down as a murderer. It's doing quite well, I understand, as did the book. The fundamental principle here, that of the central figure in a drama trying to find his way out of a deadly maze with the odds heavily against him, is essentially that of "Suspense," which has been doing the same thing in radio for several years.

In "Suspense," the hero—well, the leading character who can't always be described as a hero—gets the hounds on his trail in the first five minutes. The rest of the story is devoted to his twistings and turnings, the hounds getting closer at every step. Sometimes he gets away; sometimes he doesn't. This morbid story structure differs quite a lot from the old-line mystery where the duties of the head man were to put the finger on Aunt Sarah's murderer. The risks to himself in this enterprise were sometimes considerable but they didn't form the core of the story.

The newer style is a form of vicarious masochism somewhat more stimulating or, at any rate, more sophisticated than a roller coaster. I don't know why it's enjoying such a vogue right now. A trend, maybe. "Suspense" operates in a very narrow field and after awhile the listener gets pretty well acquainted with all the crevasses in which terror can hide. However, within its self-imposed limitations, it does very well.

Consider the case of a man who has had amnesia and can't remember a blessed thing over the past two years. You hang a murder charge on the man, a murder committed within those two lost years, and you have the beginning of a pretty good "Suspense" story. They're always accused of murder in these things; none of your lesser crimes like manslaughter. The man must retrace his steps over those two years and the farther back this particular lad got, the more confident he became he had committed a murder. A pretty pickle.

Then there was another "Suspense" story in which one of those urbane, laughing killers bet a tense, nervous young man $50,000 he could kill him within six months and get away with it. (Don't ask me how this thing was to be paid off.) Naturally, this made the young man even more nervous. He changed boarding houses repeatedly, never traveled the same route, bought a dog to sample his food, and, despite all precautions, seemed to be losing the bet. In the end, he came perilously close to sending himself to the electric chair. He was preserved only by the intervention of fate, which, I'm afraid, plays a pretty free hand in many of these things.

Early this year, "Suspense" expanded from half an hour to a full hour, was given a bang-up production job, embellished with fairly literate writing, excellent acting and the full range of sound effects which means, of course, footsteps of every description. (They never heard of rubber heels or carpets in radio. People clatter around like dray horses.) The program temporarily acquired Robert Montgomery, a very relaxed and capable actor who has come a long way since he was bounding around bedrooms in his Rachel Crothers phase. Mr. Montgomery departed the show about a month ago.

While "Suspense" operates in its special field with great ingenuity, I'm not prepared fully to endorse its aims, which strike me as frivolous. I can't understand all this interest in a man running away from things or extricating himself from impossible and terrifying situations. That's the sort of psychological dilemma we are accustomed to having inflicted on us in dreams. But you don't have to dream any more. Just turn on the radio. Or go to the movies.

C. Of C. Would Slash Flood Control Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce urged the Senate to trim an Appropriations Committee bill that now privides $708,586,666 for flood control and rivers and harbors projects.

To every senator the chamber addressed a plea saying:

"It is imperative to the fiscal health and stability of the nation that federal expenditures be reduced to a supportable level. If this is to be accomplished, all possible economies must be effected and all expenditures which can be deferred without unduly handicapping the federal services should be postponed."

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their help and kindness during our recent bereavement, the death of Amos E. See. The use of cars, floral tributes and expressions of sympathy are all truly appreciated.
MR. & MRS. CHARLES M. SEE
MR. & MRS. GLENN K. DAVIS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved son and brother, James Kabosky. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral. We especially thank Rev. Graciani of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the employees of Coyle's Grocery Store.
His Mother, Mrs. Marian Weimer and Children.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their help and kindness during our recent bereavement, the death of Amos E. See. The use of cars, floral tributes and expressions of sympathy are all truly appreciated.

MR. & MRS. CHARLES M. SEE
MR. & MRS. GLENN K. DAVIS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved son and brother, James Kabosky. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral. We especially thank Rev. Graciani of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the employees of Coyle's Grocery Store.

His Mother, Mrs. Marian Weimer and Children.

VACANT DWELLING

I have a dandy well built and well located dwelling at 39 Elder Street, that could not be built today for less than $10,000. Added to this would be the two beautiful lots. Owner has moved out of City and 6 rooms are now vacant ready for occupancy. Besides 3 small families live in this 14 room dwelling paying $54.50 per month. The whole property has a $100 rental value. There are 2 baths, one in private apartment on 3rd floor.

The land with this property faces 80 ft. on Elder St. with a depth of 125' to an alley. All street improvements are in. PRICE $8500.

Market, Paced By Rails, Industrials, Negotiates Average Recovery Move

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Led by selected rails and industrials, the stock market negotiated another average recovery move today although animation was lacking.

Dealings were relatively slow at intervals but volume crossed the million mark for the thirtieth full session since March 18. Total for the day was 1,150,000 shares against 1,440,000 Friday. It was the smallest five-hour aggregate since April 14.

Buyers returned on the idea that rearmament spending and European outlays would continue to prop inflationary psychology and promote business generally. Rails still had the benefit of rate boosts and brightening income prospects.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .6 of a point at 67.7. The rail composite added a full point at 42.7, a peak since August 26, 1946. Of 1,006 issues registering, 511 rose and 281 fell.

Touching highs for 1948 were Nickel Plate Railroad which emerged up four points at 69, Central Railroad of New Jersey three at 25¼, Northern Pacific two at 24, Plymouth Oil 3¼ at 70, American Woolen 1½ at 50¼ and Sears Roebuck seven-eighth at 38⅞.

In front were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, United States Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, United States Rubber, Firestone Tire, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Owns-Illinois, Texas Company and Mission Corporation.

Allied Chemical yielded 3¼ at 187¼. Easier were Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, General Electric, Pepsi-Cola (on an earnings decline), Mid-Continent Petroleum and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Selected railroad bonds advanced a point or more as the market sped up a little in late trading after a very slow start.

Market, Paced By Rails, Industrials, Negotiates Average Recovery Move

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Led by selected rails and industrials, the stock market negotiated another average recovery move today although animation was lacking.

Dealings were relatively slow at intervals but volume crossed the million mark for the thirtieth full session since March 18. Total for the day was 1,150,000 shares against 1,440,000 Friday. It was the smallest five-hour aggregate since April 14.

Buyers returned on the idea that rearmament spending and European outlays would continue to prop inflationary psychology and promote business generally. Rails still had the benefit of rate boosts and brightening income prospects.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .6 of a point at 67.7. The rail composite added a full point at 42.7, a peak since August 26, 1946. Of 1,006 issues registering, 511 rose and 281 fell.

Touching highs for 1948 were Nickel Plate Railroad which emerged up four points at 69, Central Railroad of New Jersey three at 25¼, Northern Pacific two at 24, Plymouth Oil 3¼ at 70, American Woolen 1½ at 50¼ and Sears Roebuck seven-eighth at 38⅞.

In front were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, United States Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, United States Rubber, Firestone Tire, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Eastman Kodak, Owns-Illinois, Texas Company and Mission Corporation.

Allied Chemical yielded 3¼ at 187¼. Easier were Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, General Electric, Pepsi-Cola (on an earnings decline), Mid-Continent Petroleum and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Selected railroad bonds advanced a point or more as the market sped up a little in late trading after a very slow start.

Court Appoints Joseph E. Boden To Fill Jackson's Unexpired Term

Well-Known Deputy To Be Sworn In Today

Joseph E. Boden, for the past 29 years an employe of the Allegany County Clerk of Court's office, was named early last night to Clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court to fill the unexpired term of Robert Jackson, who was found dead Monday morning in a local hotel where he had resided in recent years.

Boden's appointment came seven hours after Jackson was reported dead. Rumors were persistent all day as to who the successor would be, as politicians worked in the Court House in behalf of various applicants. It was reported that 22 applicants sought the appointment. It was not until after the Court House doors were closed yesterday afternoon that Judge William A. Huster and his associates, George Henderson and Joseph D. Mish, met and named Boden the new clerk.

Boden, a staunch Republican, was born in Brunswick, Md., Frederick County, on August 5, 1893, but his family moved to Cumberland when he was less than a year old.

He was graduated from Allegany High School and later studied at the Tri-State Business College now out of existence. After graduation, Boden started in the motion picture business as an operator of a projection machine. In fact, it was he who installed the first motion picture equipment in the Liberty Theater.

During the First World War, the new Clerk served in the infantry, being honorably discharged as an Infantry sergeant.

After his motion picture experience, Boden took a recording clerk's job with the county under the late Lloyd Shaffer, then clerk of court.

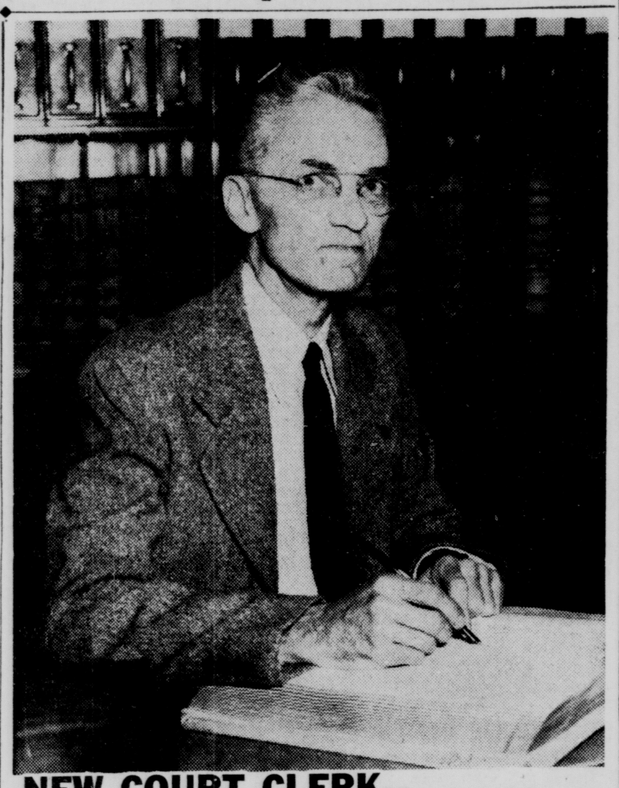
In 1928, he was promoted to the position of chief deputy clerk and had charge of equity cases, keeping the records of all monies of the office. He held this post until his appointment as clerk yesterday afternoon.

Boden married the former Miss Lucille Frantz, Cumberland, on August 25, 1930. They have two children, Joann R., 15, and Sandra Sue, 11.

The family resides at 777 MacDonald Terrace. They formerly lived on Allegany Street.

The $4,800 a year job given Boden will last until December, 1950.

Although informed of his new position, Boden said last night that he had not been sworn in as yet, but would probably take the oath sometime this morning, as the present law stipulates that a successor must be named within a 24-hour period to prevent interruption of court business.



NEW COURT CLERK-- Joseph E. Boden, for 29 years an employe in Allegany County Court House, last night was named Clerk of Circuit Court to succeed Robert Jackson, who was discovered dead yesterday morning in a local hotel room, where he resided for several years. Boden will take the oath of office for his new position this morning. He is married and the father of two children.

Local Students To Hear W. J. Millard

Students of the two public high schools will get some first hand information on municipal affairs and the benefits of city management this morning from Walter J. Millard, Cincinnati, who is here to address the Chamber of Commerce's spring meeting.

Millard, who has been studying city management and speaking on it publicly for the past 25 years, said he plans to tell the students of the benefits of such government and encourage them to study the setup.

The youth of today who train themselves for careers in city management have a wide field to choose from, Millard declared, adding that he will stress the need for youthful men and women who are well trained in municipal government.

Students who specialize in city management can move to progressive cities that are under city management forms of government, he declared.

Following his appearances at Fort Hill and Allegany High Schools this morning, Millard will be the principal speaker at the annual spring meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club and then will meet with the City Charter Commission after the C. of C. gathering.

City Solons Table Police Judge Raise

The proposal to raise the annual salary of police magistrates from $800 to $900 was tabled Monday at the meeting of the Mayor and City Council.

In tabling the move, Mayor Thomas S. Post said he doubted the legality of raising the salaries, since the magistrates are state employes and under the state code. The magistrates receive $50 a month from the city, or $600 a year. The proposed raise would amount to $300.

Other business transacted was an order for payment of $500 to Charles L. Brotemarkle for service performed while acting as water works superintendent from August 9, 1947, to January 12, 1948.

A performance and completion bond to be furnished by Harry E. Davis and Walter F. Miller under provisions of the garbage contract was ordered reduced from $50,000 to $30,000.

Also, the solons authorized the payment of $20,000 to the United States Treasurer to cover costs of the property surveys in the city and Ridgeley for the flood control project.

The Weather

The weather man is predicting lots of May flowers, after the recent April showers, and he is also predicting some May showers which will also help things along. Today is expected to be cool, but very cloudy. Monday was cloudy most of the day, but the threatened rain failed to show its hand after most of the Cumberland area had made appropriate plans. The mercury hit a high of 61 degrees Monday with a low of 43 degrees registered during the night. At 11:30 last night it was 50 degrees. The precipitation was 0.83 of an inch.

Clerk Of Court Robert Jackson Is Found Dead

Held Office Since 1937

Allegany County Circuit Court Clerk Robert Jackson was found dead Monday morning in his room at the Algonquin Hotel, where he had made his residence for a number of years.

Jackson was sworn in as clerk of court on August 10, 1937, to fill the unexpired term of Lloyd Shaffer. He had been employed at the Court House since 1914.

The veteran court official was found by Arthur Washington, a bellhop at the hotel, after he had gone to the Jackson room after many calls from the Court House as to his whereabouts. Court officials say he was usually prompt and his absence led to the calling of the hotel.

A native of Lonaconing, Mr. Jackson was the son of the late Thomas and Janet Stephenson Jackson, who settled in Lonaconing after coming to this country from Scotland.

When he was a youngster, Mr. Jackson was employed as a coal miner, but later took employment at the Court House. For many years he was deputy clerk of court. He never married.

Always a good Republican, Mr. Jackson was elected clerk of court three successive terms and usually topped the GOP ticket in Allegany County.

He was a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles; Knights of Pythias, Lonaconing, and the Duke Memorial Bible Class.

He is survived by two brothers, William and John Jackson, Washington, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Lawson, Fairmont, W. Va., and Mrs. Nettie Cunningham, Silver Spring.

Apparently Mr. Jackson had not complained about being ill, but friends say that he was subject to dizzy spells and had on several occasions fallen down, but recovered quickly.

According to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, Mr. Jackson died of a heart condition about 2 a. m. Monday.

The body was taken to the Eichhorn Funeral Home in Lonaconing.

Ridgeley Legion To Plan Election

Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, W. Va., will meet tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual election of officers and sending a delegation to the American Legion Round-Up at Parkersburg, W. Va., May 8-9.

According to Nelson Brant, post commander, the Round-Up meeting is being held as a preliminary to the West Virginia Department state convention and plans will be made for the conclave at Parkersburg.

The post election will be held June 1, with the installation of new officers on June 15. At tonight's session plans for the nomination of officers on May 18 will be completed.

Dr. James Hallinam New Hospital Intern

Dr. James P. Hallinam has been added to the staff at Memorial Hospital, it was reported last night. According to authorities, Dr. Hallinam will be a resident physician subject to calls at all times.

Dr. George Simons is the other resident physician who joined the staff about three months ago.

City Workers To Ask Pension Plan

Mayor Thomas S. Post and the city council will meet with members of the Municipal Employes Union, AFL, at 2 p. m. today to discuss a pension plan for city employes.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble, who outlined the program to the union at a recent meeting, is expected to attend.

Local Union Head Flays Communism At Convention

Aldridge Speaks Out At Conclave Of TWUA

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, played an important role at the Textile Workers Union of America convention in Atlantic City, it was reported last night.

Aldridge participated in the hearing of an appeal against the decision of the Executive Council suspending two officers of TWUA Local 75, Paterson, N. J., for alleged Communist activities.

Those charged were Hyman Gurinsky, president, and Louis Bart, executive board member of Local 75. Both were permitted to address the convention at the Thursday afternoon session. Earlier they had distributed an eight-page booklet to the delegates charging their trial was "a farce" and that "the democratic rights of every TWUA member are in jeopardy."

Following their speeches, Aldridge took the floor to advise the surprised delegates that he would produce proof that some of the pamphlets in which Gurinsky and Bart proclaimed their innocence had actually been mailed from the office of the state labor secretary of the Maryland Communist Party.

Holding several envelopes in his hand, Aldridge said, "These envelopes all bear an identical Baltimore, Md., post mark; they were all mailed at the same time. They all bore the same contents, except one. Those contents were a copy of the booklets signed by the two in question."

Aldridge continued, "I said, there was one exception, that one exception also contained the pamphlets, and also a personal note from George Meyers, state labor secretary of the Communist Party of Maryland. What further proof can any reasonable delegate to this convention require?"

In concluding his remarks, Aldridge said. "I urge every delegate to uphold the decision of the Executive Board in suspending these ex-officials from Local 75, Paterson. Furthermore, I urge any local which has similar situations, to return from this convention and do likewise. There is no room in our great union for Communist officials whose first loyalty is to the Communist Party."

Chief Seeks Six Officers, Matron

At least six more patrolmen, a police matron, and a clerk-stenographer were requested yesterday by Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn in his annual report to the Mayor and City Council.

Chief Flynn said additional patrolmen are needed in the traffic department and the police matron is needed to handle juvenile delinquency, especially when pertaining to youthful girls.

An off-street parking lot recently recommended by the Chamber of Commerce was also mentioned in the police chief's report with his recommendation for its immediate adoption.

During the past fiscal year, there were 7,089 arrests made in the city with fines netting $14,928. Of this amount $5,746 was paid for traffic violations.

Dinner Is Planned For C. W. Durvin

A testimonial dinner will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club for C. W. Durvin, this city, who has retired as supervisor of signals and telephones for the Western Maryland Railway in this area.

Durvin was succeeded Saturday by C. W. Steininger, 610 Ridgewood Avenue, who has been assistant supervisor since 1939 after coming here from York, Pa., where he was employed since 1925 by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Durvin has been employed by the railway for 34 years and had worked o.. several other roads before joining the Western Maryland staff.

Residents Submit Statements On Wallace Petitions

Four Persons Cite Misunderstanding

Following publication Monday of a list of 232 Cumberland and Allegany County residents who signed petitions to have the name of Henry A. Wallace placed on the Maryland November election ballot as presidential candidate of the Progressive Party, four of those listed submitted statements to the Cumberland News, declaring they were unaware of the nature of the petitions.

Wallace has been officially endorsed as the presidential candidate of the Communist party.

John E. and Gloria Matthews, 1708 Bedford Street, said they signed the Wallace petition through a misunderstanding. They said they believed they were signing a petition requesting the Potomac Edison Company to give more frequent bus service.

Carlos Logsdon, 115 North Allegany Street, stated:

"I noted an account in the Cumberland News, Monday, May 3, wherein I was listed as having signed a petition officially endorsing Henry Wallace as the presidential candidate for the Progressive Party.

"I should like to state and request that a correction be made in conformity herewith. I was not aware of the nature or character of the petition as presented to me for signature, that I am not a member of the Progressive Party or any other third party, and finally that I have no intention of supporting Henry Wallace for president."

The fourth statement came from Eugene P. Sipes, 218 Cecilia Street. His letter follows:

"In the issue of the Cumberland News May 3, my name appeared as one of the signers of a 'Wallace for President' petition. I wish to make it clear that I want my name withdrawn from this petition. I am a lifelong Democrat and am not now and have never been a Communist or member of the Communist party.

"When I was asked to sign the petition, I was not aware of the implications and was unaware of any Communist endorsement of Wallace."

RITES TODAY — Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, last night issued a verdict of suicide in the death of Maj. Howard Dickey (above), who was found dead of a bullet wound in his head early Sunday morning. A funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. today in Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Msgr. McNally Is Jubilee Speaker

Msgr. Thomas F. McNally, rector of Immaculate Conception Church, Jenkintown, Pa., will deliver the sermon May 11 at the pontifical high mass to be celebrated here by Archbishop Keough marking the centenary of the Christian Brothers.

Msgr. McNally, a native of Philadelphia, attended St. James' parish school where he studied under the Christian Brothers and later attended LaSalle College, Philadelphia where he was graduated in 1904.

He was ordained to the Catholic priesthood on May 30, 1914, after attending St. Charles Seminary, Philadelphia. After his ordination he was placed in charge of financial affairs in the Cathedral office, Philadelphia, where he remained for 15 years until 1929. He also acted as diocesan master of ceremonies while serving at the Cathedral.

Msgr. McNally is the author of "Doctrinal Talks To Children," and is a member of the Board of Managers of the Catholic Children's Bureau and also of St. Mary's Institute for the Blind in Lansdowne, Pa.

Welfare Assistance May Be Cut, Patterson Says

State Head Cites Need For Funds

If the budget of the State Department of Public Welfare is not supplemented by the next special session of the Legislature, the department may have to make a 10 per cent "across the board" cut in assistance grants, J. Milton Patterson, director, said here last night.

Stating that "our basic budget is at least 16 to 20 per cent below what it should be," Patterson said his department is now "very close to the line in our assistance program."

The department received $387,000 from the last special session of the Legislature but has not yet received the remainder of the $500,000 appropriation, according to State Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Data Collected

They were among the officials attending a meeting held at the Court House Building by a local committee which has collected data regarding the plight of persons receiving welfare assistance.

I. C. Brant, president of Townsend Club No. 2, South Cumberland, who is chairman of the committee, presided. He made it clear, however, that the meeting was not sponsored by the Townsend organization but rather by county residents who claim they are receiving insufficient welfare assistance to meet present living costs.

Patterson explained that the amount of money the state appropriates for the welfare program controls the amount of federal funds available, since funds are appropriated on a matching basis.

C. William Gilchrist, chairman of the Allegany County Welfare Board, explained that the board's $22,000 surplus last year had to be turned back to the state because matching state funds were not available. No surplus funds may be carried over from the end of one fiscal year but must be turned back, he added.

Patterson said only 10 per cent is used for administrative costs by the County Welfare Board, adding that he knows of no board in the United States which operates at less cost.

Comparing assistance grants throughout the nation, he said Colorado has the highest, $60 monthly, while in Maryland the average grant per month is $32.

Ceiling Could Be Increased

Mayor, Council Of Frostburg Take Office Oath

Frostburg's newly elected Mayor and City Council last night took the oath of office and then proceeded to organize and make appointments to the eight municipal positions, seven of which are for two years.

Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore, who is beginning his fourth term administered the oath to the council, all of whom are returning to office except William W. Sluss.

Arthur Thomas was named police and fire commissioner; John R. Hendley, commissioner of finance; Jesse Jacobs, commissioner of water and lights, and Sluss, who succeeds W. Kenneth Crowe, was named commissioner of streets and public property. Crowe was defeated in the recent election.

The appointive positions were all reappointments and included Alex G. Close, city clerk; Harry Eisel, city treasurer, William S. Jenkins, city attorney; Melvin Lemmert, filtration engineer; James P. Kenney, Jr., water superintendent; George Krapf, street superintendent, and Philip Hartig, Jr., city engineer.

According to a city ordinance, the tax collector must be elected by the mayor and council and J. C. Koegel was unanimously elected to fill the office for a one-year term.

A request that Emmett McAtee be appointed caretaker of the Piney Run water supply was by-passed, and Mayor Skidmore explained that the council previously voted to hire McAtee for the position but not appoint him. The Mayor said McAtee is now employed in that position.

Firemen Summoned To Windsor Hotel

Central Fire Company was summoned to the Windsor Hotel around 6:50 last night. It was found that a rag had been smouldering. No damage was reported.

East Side was called to the R. E. Shroup home, 703 Lincoln Street, at 3:12 Monday afternoon to extinguish a flue fire.

Forty Boy Scouts Receive Merit Badges At Court Of Honor Here

Forty scouts from troops in the Cumberland District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, last night received merit badges at a court of honor with John Diuguid, Troop 10, receiving the rank of Life Scout.

Diuguid was the only scout to receive the high award, second highest in scouting, while Joseph Reed, Troop No. 1, Joseph Synder, Troop No. 12, and Carl Easton, Troop No. 15, were advanced to first class scouts.

Scouts and the troops they represent receiving second class medals are:

Daniel Pitts, Jack May, David Herboldsheimer and James Reed, Troop No. 1. Wayne Couter, William Shinholtz, Walter Robinette, William Stallings, Claude Durst, Donald Hartell, Veil Bechtol and William Miley, Troop No. 2.

Francis Aronholt, Troop No. 4; Arthur Jones and Jackie Auvil, Troop No. 6; David Ferguson, Troop No. 7; Joseph McKay and Bernard Hare, Troop No. 8, and Charles Morris, Troop No. 12.

Darl Easton, David Hamilton, Freddie Wolford, Donald Olinger, James Ketterman, William Steppe, Donald Dolan, Ronald Kirby and Robert Alvaro, Troop No. 15.

Merit badges were awarded to the following:

Edgar Bucy, friendship and cooking. Bill Miller, Troop 4, art. Charles Hinea, Troop No. 6, first aid.

Bernard Beck, animal industry and firemanship; Emil Haselberger, firemanship and John Stevins, John Amtrose and Robert Amtrose, first aid. All are members of Troop No. 8.

Joseph Snyder, Troop No. 12, received a badge for gardening.

Youth, 17, Admits Attempted Entry At Post Office

Raymond Burkett Held In City Jail

Arrested Sunday in an attempted church collection theft, a 17-year-old Corriganville youth yesterday also admitted he broke a window in a general store housing the Corriganville Post Office, in an effort to steal money, according to authorities.

Trooper William McElfish said the youth, identified as Raymond Joseph Burkett, who is being held in City Jail, admitted he broke a window pane with a beverage bottle, but had to flee before he could gain entrance to the store and post office April 22.

The youth was arrested Sunday morning at St. Patrick's Church by Officer Edgar Isner who reported to headquarters that he caught Burkett "red handed" attempting to steal collection money taken up at an early service.

Window Broken By Bottle

Trooper McElfish said that after he and Lt. James E. Van, Cumberland Police Department, questioned Burkett for several hours yesterday morning the prisoner admitted that he tried to enter the store, operated by Mrs. Barbara Irene Lowery, to obtain money.

Burkett, according to Trooper McElfish, said he went to the rear of the store and broke a window with a beverage bottle, but was then forced to run because the noise attracted Donald H. Brant, a nearby resident.

After running a short distance from the store, police quoted Burkett as saying he returned to the store when Mrs. Lowery, after being informed of the attempted theft, went to check money and stock.

Burkett found several other persons at the store who had been summoned by Mrs. Lowery, according to police, and overheard Trooper McElfish tell Mrs. Lowery that he had found the bottle used to break the window.

Trooper McElfish said that when he returned to pick the bottle up it was gone. Burkett in his confession told of overhearing the conversation and sneaking to the rear and throwing the bottle away.

Fingerprints Correspond

Fingerprints found on the broken glass correspond to those taken of Burkett at the City Jail after his arrest Sunday, police reported, but said the prisoner continued to deny the accusations until yesterday morning.

Burkett will be questioned further in the attempted theft of the church money and after the city has disposed of its case, State Police will probe the attempted post office breaking and entering further, authorities declared.

Cavey Acquitted On Theft Charge

Leo Cavey, National, arrested last Tuesday night by Maryland State Police on charges of breaking and entering the Carioca Gardens, Route 40 Clarysville, yesterday was acquitted at a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court.

Arresting officers said Cavey was arrested as he drove up to his home and 15 cartons of cigarets, allegedly stolen at the tavern, were found in his car.

At the hearing yesterday, Cavey told Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce Jr., that he did not know the cigarets were in the car, and said he had visited the tavern that night but did not break into the place.

Magistrate Bruce dismissed the case against Cavey on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Cement Workers To Picket In Strike

Picket permits will be issued this morning for employes of the Cement Products Company, 407 Henderson Avenue, who yesterday left their jobs in a dispute over a wage increase.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said an application for permits was filed at Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon and will be issued this morning when union members call.

The union and company have been negotiating for several weeks with the company offering a 10 cent hourly wage hike, while the union is demanding 25 cents. About 20 men are involved in the walkout.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, which represents the employes, said picketing of the company building is expected to begin this morning.

Assistant Engineer Takes Absent Leave

Mayor Thomas S. Post and City Council voted to give a leave of absence to William H. Marean, assistant engineer for Cumberland, so that he may devote full time to supervising the construction of the auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to Cumberland.

An application by Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to conduct its annual "Buddy Poppy" sale here Saturday, May 28, was approved.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital reported the following births last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Ward, LaVale, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Growden, Route 3, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, Mt. Savage, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. O'Neal, 124 Monroe Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, Route 4, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonald, 732 Maryland Avenue, a daughter.

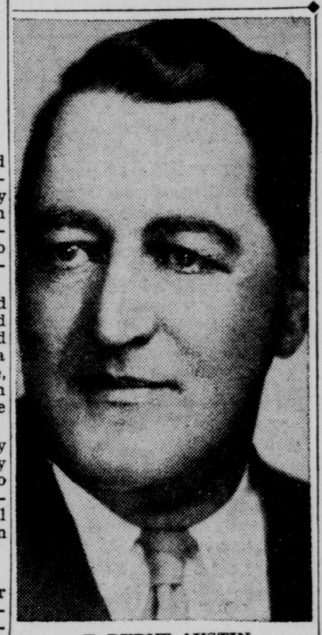
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Skidmore, Paw Paw, W. Va., a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beck, Route 3, Bedford Road, a daughter.

Allegany Hospital reported the following birth last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, 724 Bedford Street, a son.

F. Byrne Austin Leads In Democratic Primary



F. BYRNE AUSTIN

Partial Returns Put Allen In Second Place

SILVER SPRING, Md., May 3 (AP)—Will Allen, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth District, issued this statement:

"The people of our district have cast their ballots. They have made their choice of a candidate in the finest democratic tradition. I accept their decision with complete good will and I pledge to Mr. Austin all of my energy in achieving a democratic victory next November. The important thing is to keep intact the unity of our party and to accomplish the defeat of the Republican Congressional Candidate J. Glenn Beall."

F. Byrne Austin, 44-year-old Montgomery County resident, led in the four-man Democratic primary voting for the party's nominee to oppose J. Glenn Beall, Republican candidate from this county, for the Sixth Maryland District Congressional seat, as returns were tabulated late last night from 247 of the district's 280 polling places.

Beall, the incumbent, was the unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Austin was leading his nearest opponent, Will Allen, Montgomery County newspaper correspondent, by a pulrality of 339 votes. Austin had 3,681 and Allen 3,342.

The other two candidates trailed with Dawson J. Horine totalling 1,465 and Thomas O'Connell 464.

The partial returns included all of Allegany County which was carried by Allen 686 to Austin's 352, and all of Montgomery County with Allen polling 1,948 to trail Austin's 2,882. There are 75 polling places in Allegany County and 51 in Montgomery County. Voting was heavier in Montgomery County than anywhere else in the district since Allen, Austin and O'Connell all claim residences there.

Horine, a Frederick countian, making his second try for the party's Congressional nomination, carried his home county in 57 of 60 precincts reported with a vote of 797 against Allen's 271, Austin's 58 and O'Connell's 25.

Washington County reported 43 of 69 precincts with Allen polling 400, Austin 276 to trail Horine's 277, and O'Connell got 23.

In Garrett County, where the voting was lightest, 21 of 25 precincts reported. Austin got 113, Allen 37, Horine 45 and O'Connell 35.

The returns showed Allen carrying Allegany and Washington counties, Austin carrying Montgomery and Garrett counties, and Frederick County going to Horine.

Obervers at a late hour expressed the opinion the remaining precincts would not materially change the picture, since most of them are in outlying areas, and the total vote in the 33 would probably not amount to more than three to four hundred. Allen would need them all to defeat Austin, it was observed, and this did not appear likely.

Labor-Backed Candidate Wins In County Vote

Vote Is One Of Lightest Recorded

In one of the lightest votes recorded here in years, Will Allen, 42-year-old Washington newspaperman who resides in Bethesda, Montgomery County, carried Allegany County by a plurality of 334 votes over his nearest opponent in the Democratic Congressional nomination race Monday.

Endorsed by organized labor groups, Allen polled 686 votes against 352 for F. Byrne Austin; 97 for Dawson J. Horine and 114 for Thomas O'Connell.

While the labor-endorsed candidate did not pile up the record vote labor leaders had cleaimed he would, he did poll more votes in Allegany County than the total of his three opponents, and finished the contest in the county with an over-all plurality of 123 votes.

Austin Carries 61 Precincts

F. Byrne Austin, 44, a resident of Takoma Park, Montgomery County, is generally recognized as "an old party man" although the Democratic State Central Committee in Allegany refrained from endorsing any of the four candidates. His strength was felt in a few strong Democratic precincts, where residents are not generally affiliated with organized labor. However, in the county's 75 precincts, Austin defeated Allen in only 14. In six precincts he failed to poll a single vote. Allen also lost one precinct with no votes.

With a total of 1,258 votes cast in the day's balloting in Allegany County, and nine of these rejected because voters marked their ballots for more than one candidate or used a check mark instead of the required "X," the voting was so slow that election clerks had difficulty in keeping awake.

In one precinct, No. 33 at Kifer, only three votes were cast and these by the three Democratic precinct election workers. All three were cast for Austin.

The largest number of votes cast in any one polling place totalled 46 in 6-2 K-Z, Fayette Street. This precinct went to Austin with 26 with Allen and Horine each getting 9 and O'Connell 2. The precinct has 452 Democrats registered.

The next highest vote was in Midland, 18-2, with 42 votes cast of a total registration of 297. This precinct also went to Austin with 25, Allen 8, Horine 5, and O'Connell 4.

Third highest place went to 13-1 at Mt. Savage, with a registration of 448 and 40 votes cast. Allen got 35 and Austin 5 votes. Horine and O'Connell were blanked.

The lack of interest in selecting a Democratic nominee for the general election in an office so important as a seat in Congress was generally decried by election workers in all polling places.

Workers Read And Wait

In some polling places, election workers spent the day reading. In others they just talked while waiting. At two places some exciting games of 500 rummy were in progress. At another, a big pot of coffee had been filled and refilled several times as there wasn't much to do but "talk and drink coffee."

Six election clerks and judges sit in each polling place, three from each major party. Each is paid $10 per day, or $60 in salaries at each place, plus the cost of rent, printing ballots and other election expenses. Figuring the election cost at around $6,000, observers comment that each vote cast yesterday cost the county taxpayers, who are expected to do the voting, about $5 each.

The vote yesterday amounted to about seven per cent of the total county Democratic registration. Observers noted that balloting was generally twice as heavy in most county towns as it was in the city.

The first precinct to report last night was District No. 2, Oldtown, with Ross Shaw reporting 12 votes cast, one rejected, and the precinct going to Allen with 6 and Austin getting 5. The other two condidates were blanked. Shaw reported at 7:45 p. m.

The last precinct heard from was District No. 24, Eckhart, which reported 22 votes cast, 11 for Allen, 9 for Austin and one each for Horine and O'Connell.

VFW Meets Tonight

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the post home. This will be the first meeting at which the newly elected officers will preside. James Kloran, veteran of two World Wars, is post commander.

Termination Of Voluntary Leases Must Be Reported

Under the Housing and Rent Act of 1948, the termination of any voluntary leases, increasing rent up to 15 per cent, before the expiration date must be reported to the area rent office, according to Area Rent Director Walter R. Heath.

All such leases which were terminated on or before April 1 should be reported by May 16. The required form D-96, "Report of Termination of Lease," may be obtained at the rent office.

Under the law, the report must be filed at the rent office within 15 days after termination, but in the case of leases terminated on or before April 1, a grace period has been allowed, since some landlords are not familiar with the new law.

2 Disorderly Cases Dismissed In Court

A charge of disorderly conduct against William F. LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, was dismissed yesterday morning in Police Court by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., when LaNeve's opponent, Robert Jobson, 734 Gephart Drive, failed to appear.

Jobson, according to LaNeve and Officer Kenneth Morrissey, became unruly Saturday night in a Liberty Street bar where LaNeve was working. A fight ensued, and Jobson emerged with a cut over his right eye.

Jobson posted $20 bond at Police Headquarters Saturday night on a drunk and disorderly count.

Magistrate Bruce also dismissed two disorderly charges against Carl Kaese, Kelly Boulevard, after the other defendant, Donald Renotas, 125 Polk Street, failed to appear. Renotas forfeited two bonds, totaling $30. Officers C. W. Thompson and G. E. Pfeiffer made the arrests.

Bittinger Scores No Vote Record

While the Democratic Primary election in the Sixth District yesterday failed to arouse sufficient interest in Allegany and Garrett counties to bring out more than a handful of voters at any single polling place, at Bittinger, Garrett County, not a single vote was cast.

The polling place opened at 7 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. as required by law. Not a single Democrat of the 87 registered, bothered to go to the polls to vote.

The two Democrats employed to work in the precinct as election judge and clerk did not vote either. Guess they figured it just wasn't worth the trouble.

Court Appoints Joseph E. Boden To Fill Jackson's Unexpired Term

Well-Known Deputy To Be Sworn In Today

Joseph E. Boden, for the past 29 years an employe of the Allegany County Clerk of Court's office, was named early last night to Clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court to fill the unexpired term of Robert Jackson, who was found dead Monday morning in a local hotel where he had resided in recent years.

Boden's appointment came seven hours after Jackson was reported dead. Rumors were persistent all day as to who the successor would be, as politicians worked in the Court House in behalf of various applicants. It was reported that 22 applicants sought the appointment. It was not until after the Court House doors were closed yesterday afternoon that Judge William A. Huster and his associates, George Henderson and Joseph D. Mish, met and named Boden the new clerk.

Boden, a staunch Republican, was born in Brunswick, Md., Frederick County, on August 5, 1893, but his family moved to Cumberland when he was less than a year old.

He was graduated from Allegany High School and later studied at the Tri-State Business College now out of existence. After graduation, Boden started in the motion picture business as an operator of a projection machine. In fact, it was he who installed the first motion picture equipment in the Liberty Theater.

During the First World War, the new Clerk served in the infantry, being honorably discharged as an Infantry sergeant.

After his motion picture experience, Boden took a recording clerk's job with the county under the late Lloyd Shaffer, then clerk of court.

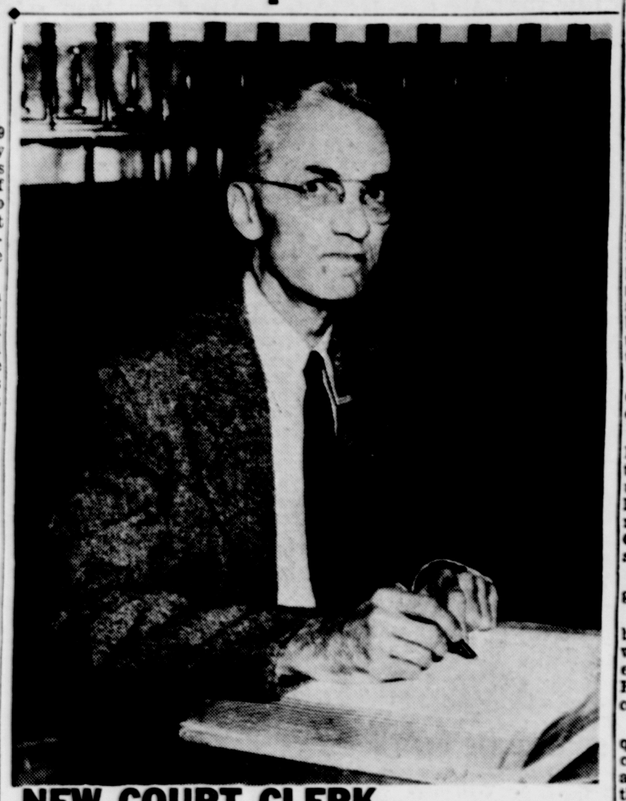
In 1928, he was promoted to the position of chief deputy clerk and had charge of equity cases, keeping the records of all monies of the office. He held this post until his appointment as clerk yesterday afternoon.

Boden married the former Miss Lucille Frantz, Cumberland, on August 25, 1930. They have two children, Joann R., 15, and Sandra Sue, 11.

The family resides at 777 MacDonald Terrace. They formerly lived on Allegany Street.

The $4,800 a year job given Boden will last until December, 1950.

Although informed of his new position, Boden said last night that he had not been sworn in as yet, but would probably take the oath sometime this morning, as the present law stipulates that a successor must be named within a 24-hour period to prevent interruption of court business.



NEW COURT CLERK--Joseph E. Boden, for 29 years an employe in Allegany County Court House, last night was named Clerk of Circuit Court to succeed Robert Jackson, who was discovered dead yesterday morning in a local hotel room, where he resided for several years. Boden will take the oath of office for his new position this morning. He is married and the father of two children.

Local Students To Hear W. J. Millard

Students of the two public high schools will get some first hand information on municipal affairs and the benefits of city management this morning from Walter J. Millard, Cincinnati, who is here to address the Chamber of Commerce's spring meeting.

Millard, who has been studying city management and speaking on it publicly for the past 25 years, said he plans to tell the students of the benefits of such government and encourage them to study the setup.

The youth of today who train themselves for careers in city management have a wide field to choose from, Millard declared, adding that he will stress the need for youthful men and women who are well trained in municipal government.

Students who specialize in city management can move to progressive cities that are under city management forms of government, he declared.

Following his appearances at Fort Hill and Allegany High Schools this morning, Millard will be the principal speaker at the annual spring meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club and then will meet with the City Charter Commission after the C. of C. gathering.

City Solons Table Police Judge Raise

The proposal to raise the annual salary of police magistrates from $800 to $900 was tabled Monday at the meeting of the Mayor and City Council.

In tabling the move, Mayor Thomas S. Post said he doubted the legality of raising the salaries, since the magistrates are state employes and under the state code. The magistrates receive $50 a month from the city, or $600 a year. The proposed raise would amount to $300.

Other business transacted was an order for payment of $500 to Charles L. Brotemarkle for service performed while acting as water works superintendent from August 9, 1947, to January 12, 1948.

A performance and completion bond to be furnished by Harry E. Davis and Walter F. Miller under provisions of the garbage contract was ordered reduced from $50,000 to $30,000.

Also, the solons authorized the payment of $20,000 to the United States Treasurer to cover costs of the property surveys in the city and Ridgeley for the flood control project.

The Weather

The weather man is predicting lots of May flowers, after the recent April showers, and he is also predicting some May showers which will also help things along. Today is expected to be cool, but very cloudy. Monday was cloudy most of the day, but the threatened rain failed to show its hand after most of the Cumberland area had made appropriate plans. The mercury hit a high of 61 degrees Monday with a low of 43 degrees registered during the night. At 11:30 last night it was 50 degrees. The precipitation was 0.83 of an inch.

Clerk Of Court Robert Jackson Is Found Dead

Held Office Since 1937

Allegany County Circuit Court Clerk Robert Jackson was found dead Monday morning in his room at the Algonquin Hotel, where he had made his residence for a number of years.

Jackson was sworn in as clerk of court on August 10, 1937, to fill the unexpired term of Lloyd Shaffer. He had been employed at the Court House since 1914.

The veteran court official was found by Arthur Washington, a bellhop at the hotel, after he had gone to the Jackson room after many calls from the Court House as to his whereabouts. Court officials say he was usually prompt and his absence led to the calling of the hotel.

A native of Lonaconing, Mr. Jackson was the son of the late Thomas and Janet Stephenson Jackson, who settled in Lonaconing after coming to this country from Scotland.

When he was a youngster, Mr. Jackson was employed as a coal miner, but later took employment at the Court House. For many years he was deputy clerk of court. He never married.

Always a good Republican, Mr. Jackson was elected clerk of court three successive terms and usually topped the GOP ticket in Allegany County.

He was a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles; Knights of Pythias, Lonaconing, and the Duke Memorial Bible Class.

He is survived by two brothers, William and John Jackson, Washington, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Lawson, Fairmont, W. Va., and Mrs. Nettie Cunningham, Silver Spring.

Apparently Mr. Jackson had not complained about being ill, but friends say that he was subject to dizzy spells and had on several occasions fallen down, but recovered quickly.

According to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, Mr. Jackson died of a heart condition about 2 a. m. Monday.

The body was taken to the Eichhorn Funeral Home in Lonaconing.

Ridgeley Legion To Plan Election

Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, W. Va., will meet tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual election of officers and sending a delegation to the American Legion Round-Up at Parkersburg, W. Va., May 8-9.

According to Nelson Brant, post commander, the Round-Up meeting is being held as a preliminary to the West Virginia Department state convention and plans will be made for the conclave at Parkersburg.

The post election will be held June 1, with the installation of new officers on June 15. At tonight's session plans for the nomination of officers on May 18 will be completed.

Dr. James Hallinam New Hospital Intern

Dr. James P. Hallinam has been added to the staff at Memorial Hospital, it was reported last night. According to authorities, Dr. Hallinam will be a resident physician subject to calls at all times.

Dr. George Simons is the other resident physician who joined the staff about three months ago.

City Workers To Ask Pension Plan

Mayor Thomas S. Post and the city council will meet with members of the Municipal Employes Union, AFL, at 2 p. m. today to discuss a pension plan for city employes.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble, who outlined the program to the union at a recent meeting, is expected to attend.

Local Union Head Flays Communism At Convention

Aldridge Speaks Out At Conclave Of TWUA

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, played an important role at the Textile Workers Union of America convention in Atlantic City, it was reported last night.

Aldridge participated in the hearing of an appeal against the decision of the Executive Council suspending two officers of TWUA Local 75, Paterson, N. J., for alleged Communist activities.

Those charged were Hyman Gurinsky, president, and Louis Bart, executive board member of Local 75. Both were permitted to address the convention at the Thursday afternoon session. Earlier they had distributed an eight-page booklet to the delegates charging their trial was "a farce" and that "the democratic rights of every TWUA member are in jeopardy."

Following their speeches, Aldridge took the floor to advise the surprised delegates that he would produce proof that some of the pamphlets in which Gurinsky and Bart proclaimed their innocence had actually been mailed from the office of the state labor secretary of the Maryland Communist Party.

Holding several envelopes in his hand, Aldridge said, "These envelopes all bear an identical Baltimore, Md., post mark; they were all mailed at the same time. They all bore the same contents, except one. Those contents were a copy of the booklets signed by the two in question."

Aldridge continued, "I said, there was one exception, that one exception also contained the pamphlets, and also a personal note from George Meyers, state labor secretary of the Communist Party of Maryland. What further proof can any reasonable delegate to this convention require?"

In concluding his remarks, Aldridge said, "I urge every delegate to uphold the decision of the Executive Board in suspending these ex-officials from Local 75, Paterson. Furthermore, I urge any local which has similar situations, to return from this convention and do likewise. There is no room in our great union for Communist officials whose first loyalty is to the Communist Party."

Chief Seeks Six Officers, Matron

At least six more patrolmen, a police matron, and a clerk-stenographer were requested yesterday by Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn in his annual report to the Mayor and City Council.

Chief Flynn said additional patrolmen are needed in the traffic department and the police matron is needed to handle juvenile delinquency, especially when pertaining to youthful girls.

An off-street parking lot recently recommended by the Chamber of Commerce was also mentioned in the police chief's report with his recommendation for its immediate adoption.

During the past fiscal year, there were 7,089 arrests made in the city with fines netting $14,928. Of this amount $5,746 was paid for traffic violations.

Dinner Is Planned For C. W. Durvin

A testimonial dinner will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club for C. W. Durvin, this city, who has retired as supervisor of signals and telephones for the Western Maryland Railway in this area.

Durvin was succeeded Saturday by C. W. Steininger, 610 Ridgewood Avenue, who has been assistant supervisor since 1939 after coming here from York, Pa., where he was employed since 1925 by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Durvin has been employed by the railway for 34 years and had worked o.. several other roads before joining the Western Maryland staff.

Residents Submit Statements On Wallace Petitions

Four Persons Cite Misunderstanding

Following publication Monday of a list of 232 Cumberland and Allegany County residents who signed petitions to have the name of Henry A. Wallace placed on the Maryland November election ballot as presidential candidate of the Progressive Party, four of those listed submitted statements to the Cumberland News, declaring they were unaware of the nature of the petitions.

Wallace has been officially endorsed as the presidential candidate of the Communist party.

John E. and Gloria Matthews, 1708 Bedford Street, said they signed the Wallace petition through a misunderstanding. They said they believed they were signing a petition requesting the Potomac Edison Company to give more frequent bus service.

Carlos Logsdon, 115 North Allegany Street, stated:

"I noted an account in the Cumberland News, Monday, May 3, wherein I was listed as having signed a petition officially endorsing Henry Wallace as the presidential candidate for the Progressive Party.

"I should like to state and request that a correction be made in conformity herewith. I was not aware of the nature or character of the petition as presented to me for signature, that I am not a member of the Progressive Party or any other third party, and finally that I have no intention of supporting Henry Wallace for president."

The fourth statement came from Eugene P. Sipes, 218 Cecilia Street. His letter follows:

"In the issue of the Cumberland News May 3, my name appeared as one of the signers of a 'Wallace for President' petition. I wish to make it clear that I want my name withdrawn from this petition. I am a lifelong Democrat and am not now and have never been a Communist or member of the Communist party.

"When I was asked to sign the petition, I was not aware of the implications and was unaware of any Communist endorsement of Wallace."

RITES TODAY — Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, last night issued a verdict of suicide in the death of Maj. Howard Dickey (above), who was found dead of a bullet wound in his head early Sunday morning. A funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. today in Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Msgr. McNally Is Jubilee Speaker

Msgr. Thomas F. McNally, rector of Immaculate Conception Church, Jenkintown, Pa., will deliver the sermon May 11 at the pontifical high mass to be celebrated here by Archbishop Keough marking the centenary of the Christian Brothers.

Msgr. McNally, a native of Philadelphia, attended St. James' parish school where he studied under the Christian Brothers and later attended LaSalle College, Philadelphia where he was graduated in 1904.

He was ordained to the Catholic priesthood on May 30, 1914, after attending St. Charles Seminary, Philadelphia. After his ordination he was placed in charge of financial affairs in the Cathedral office, Philadelphia, where he remained for 15 years until 1929. He also acted as diocesan master of ceremonies while serving at the Cathedral.

Msgr. McNally is the author of "Doctrinal Talks To Children," and is a member of the Board of Managers of the Catholic Children's Bureau and also of St. Mary's Institute for the Blind in Lansdowne, Pa.

Welfare Assistance May Be Cut, Patterson Says

State Head Cites Need For Funds

If the budget of the State Department of Public Welfare is not supplemented by the next special session of the Legislature, the department may have to make a 10 per cent "across the board" cut in assistance grants, J. Milton Patterson, director, said here last night.

Stating that "our basic budget is at least 16 to 20 per cent below what it should be," Patterson said his department is now "very close to the line in our assistance program."

The department received $387,000 from the last special session of the Legislature but has not yet received the remainder of the $500,000 appropriation, according to State Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Data Collected

They were among the officials attending a meeting held at the Court House Building by a local committee which has collected data regarding the plight of persons receiving welfare assistance.

I. C. Brant, president of Townsend Club No. 2, South Cumberland, who is chairman of the committee, presided. He made it clear, however, that the meeting was not sponsored by the Townsend organization but rather by county residents who claim they are receiving insufficient welfare assistance to meet present living costs.

Patterson explained that the amount of money the state appropriates for the welfare program controls the amount of federal funds available, since funds are appropriated on a matching basis.

C. William Gilchrist, chairman of the Allegany County Welfare Board, explained that the board's $22,000 surplus last year had to be turned back to the state because matching state funds were not available. No surplus funds may be carried over from the end of one fiscal year but must be turned back, he added.

Patterson said only 10 per cent is used for administrative costs by the County Welfare Board, adding that he knows of no board in the United States which operates at less cost.

Comparing assistance grants throughout the nation, he said Colorado has the highest, $60 monthly, while in Maryland the average grant per month is $32.

Ceiling Could Be Increased

"We are not meeting the need,

Mayor, Council Of Frostburg Take Office Oath

Frostburg's newly elected Mayor and City Council last night took the oath of office and then proceeded to organize and make appointments to the eight municipal positions, seven of which are for two years.

Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore, who is beginning his fourth term administered the oath to the council, all of whom are returning to office except William W. Sluss.

Arthur Thomas was named police and fire commissioner; John R. Hendley, commissioner of finance; Jesse Jacobs, commissioner of water and lights, and Sluss, who succeeds W. Kenneth Crowe, was named commissioner of streets and public property. Crowe was defeated in the recent election.

The appointive positions were all reappointments and included Alex G. Close, city clerk; Harry Eisel, city treasurer, William S. Jenkins, city attorney; Melvin Lemmert, filtration engineer; James F. Kenney, Jr., water superintendent; George Kropf, street superintendent, and Philip Hartig, Jr., city engineer.

According to a city ordinance, the tax collector must be elected by the mayor and council and J. C. Koegel was unanimously elected to fill the office for a one-year term.

A request that Emmett McAtee be appointed caretaker of the Piney Run water supply was by-passed, and Mayor Skidmore explained that the council previously voted to hire McAtee for the position but not appoint him. The Mayor said McAtee is now employed in that position.

Firemen Summoned To Windsor Hotel

Central Fire Company was summoned to the Windsor Hotel around 6:50 last night. It was found that a rag had been smouldering. No damage was reported.

East Side was called to the R. E. Shroup home, 703 Lincoln Street, at 3:12 Monday afternoon to extinguish a flue fire.

Forty Boy Scouts Receive Merit Badges At Court Of Honor Here

Forty scouts from troops in the Cumberland District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, last night received merit badges at a court of honor with John Diuguid, Troop 10, receiving the rank of Life Scout.

Diuguid was the only scout to receive the high award, second highest in scouting, while Joseph Reed, Troop No. 1, Joseph Synder, Troop No. 12, and Carl Easton, Troop No. 15, were advanced to first class scouts.

Marion T. Powers, chairman of the court of honor, presided at the ceremony held in the assembly hall of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Scouts and the troops they represent receiving second class medals are:

Daniel Pitts, Jack May, David Herboldsheimer and James Reed, Troop No. 1. Wayne Couter, William Shinholtz, Walter Robinette, William Stallings, Claude Durst, Donald Hartell, Veil Bechtol and William Miley, Troop No. 2.

Francis Aronholt, Troop No. 4; Arthur Jones and Jackie Auvil, Troop No. 6; David Perguson, Troop No. 7; Joseph McKay and Bernard Hare, Troop No. 8, and Charles Morris, Troop No. 12.

Darl Easton, David Hamilton, Freddie Wolford, Donald Olinger, James Ketterman, William Steppe, Donald Dolan, Ronald Kirby and Robert Alvaro, Troop No. 15.

Merit badges were awarded to the following:

Edgar Bucy, friendship and cooking. Bill Miller, Troop 4, art. Charles Hinea, Troop No. 6, first aid.

Bernard Beck, animal industry and firemanship; Emil Haselberger, firemanship and John Stevins, John Amtrose and Robert Amtrose, first aid. All are members of Troop No. 8.

Joseph Snyder, Troop No. 12, received a badge for gardening.

Youth, 17, Admits Attempted Entry At Post Office

Raymond Burkett Held In City Jail

Arrested Sunday in an attempted church collection theft, a 17-year-old Corriganville youth yesterday also admitted he broke a window in a general store housing the Corriganville Post Office, in an effort to steal money, according to authorities.

Trooper William McElfish said the youth, identified as Raymond Joseph Burkett, who is being held in City Jail, admitted he broke a window pane with a beverage bottle, but had to flee before he could gain entrance to the store and post office April 22.

The youth was arrested Sunday morning at St. Patrick's Church by Officer Edgar Isner who reported to headquarters that he caught Burkett "red handed" attempting to steal collection money taken up at an early service.

Window Broken By Bottle

Trooper McElfish said that after he and Lt. James E. Van, Cumberland Police Department, questioned Burkett for several hours yesterday morning the prisoner admitted that he tried to enter the store, operated by Mrs. Barbara Irene Lowery, to obtain money.

Burkett, according to Trooper McElfish, said he went to the rear of the store and broke a window with a beverage bottle, but was then forced to run because the noise attracted Donald H. Brant, a nearby resident.

After running a short distance from the store, police quoted Burkett as saying he returned to the store when Mrs. Lowery, after being informed of the attempted theft, went to check money and stock.

Burkett found several other persons at the store who had been summoned by Mrs. Lowery, according to police, and overheard Trooper McElfish tell Mrs. Lowery that he had found the bottle used to break the window.

Trooper McElfish said that when he returned to pick the bottle up it was gone. Burkett in his confession told of overhearing the conversation and sneaking to the rear and throwing the bottle away.

Fingerprints Correspond

Fingerprints found on the broken glass correspond to those taken of Burkett at the City Jail after his arrest Sunday, police reported, but said the prisoner continued to deny the accusations until yesterday morning.

Burkett will be questioned further in the attempted theft of the church money and after the city has disposed of its case, State Police will probe the attempted post office breaking and entering further, authorities declared.

Cavey Acquitted On Theft Charge

Leo Cavey, National, arrested last Tuesday night by Maryland State Police on charges of breaking and entering the Carioca Gardens, Route 40 Claysville, yesterday was acquitted at a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court.

Arresting officers said Cavey was arrested as he drove up to his home and 15 cartons of cigarets, allegedly stolen at the tavern, were found in his car.

At the hearing yesterday, Cavey told Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce Jr., that he did not know the cigarets were in the car, and said he had visited the tavern that night but did not break into the place.

Magistrate Bruce dismissed the case against Cavey on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Cement Workers To Picket In Strike

Picket permits will be issued this morning for employes of the Cannon Products Company, 401 Henderson Avenue, who yesterday left their jobs in a dispute over a wage increase.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said an application for permits was filed at Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon and will be issued this morning when union members call.

The union and company have been negotiating for several weeks with the company offering a 10 cent hourly wage hike, while the union is demanding 25 cents. About 20 men are involved in the walkout.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, which represents the employes, said picketing of the company building is expected to begin this morning.

Assistant Engineer Takes Absent Leave

Mayor Thomas S. Post and City Council voted to give a leave of absence to William H. Marean, assistant engineer for Cumberland, so that he may devote full time to supervising the construction of the auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to Cumberland.

An application by Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to conduct its annual "Buddy Poppy" sale here Saturday, May 28, was approved.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital reported the following births last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Ward, LaVale, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Growden, Route 3, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, Mt. Savage, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. O'Neal, 124 Monroe Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, Route 4, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonald, 732 Maryland Avenue, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Skidmore, Paw Paw, W. Va., a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beck, Route 3, Bedford Road, a daughter.

Allegany Hospital reported the following birth last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, 724 Bedford Street, a son.

F. Byrne Austin Leads In Democratic Primary

F. BYRNE AUSTIN

Labor-Backed Candidate Wins In County Vote

Vote Is One Of Lightest Recorded

In one of the lightest votes recorded here in years, Will Allen, 42-year-old Washington newspaperman who resides in Bethesda, Montgomery County, carried Allegany County by a plurality of 334 votes over his nearest opponent in the Democratic Congressional nomination race Monday.

Endorsed by organized labor groups, Allen polled 686 votes against 352 for P. Byrne Austin; 97 for Dawson J. Horine and 114 for Thomas O'Connell.

While the labor-endorsed candidate did not pile up the record vote labor leaders had clealmed he would, he did poll more votes in Allegany County than the total of his three opponents, and finished the contest in the county with an over-all plurality of 123 votes.

Austin Carries 61 Precincts

P. Byrne Austin, 44, a resident of Takoma Park, Montgomery County, is generally recognized as "an old party man" although the Democratic State Central Committee in Allegany refrained from endorsing any of the four candidates. His strength was felt in a few strong Democratic precincts, where residents are not generally affiliated with organized labor. However, in the county's 75 precincts, Austin defeated Allen in only 14. In six precincts he failed to poll a single vote. Allen also lost one precinct with no votes.

With a total of 1,258 votes cast in the day's balloting in Allegany County, and nine of these rejected because voters marked their ballots for more than one candidate or used a check mark instead of the required "X," the voting was so slow that election clerks had difficulty in keeping awake.

In one precinct, No. 23 at Kifer, only three votes were cast and these by the three Democratic precinct election workers. All three were cast for Austin.

The largest number of votes cast in any one polling place totalled 46 in 6-2 K-Z, Fayette Street. This precinct went to Austin with 26 with Allen and Horine each getting 9 and O'Connell 2. The precinct has 402 Democrats registered.

The next highest vote was in Midland, 11-2, with 42 votes cast of a total registration of 97. This precinct also went to Austin with 25, Allen 8, Horine 5, and O'Connell 4.

Third highest place went to 13-1 at Mt. Savage, with a registration of 668 and 40 votes cast. Allen got 25 and Austin 5 votes. Horine and O'Connell were blanked.

The lack of interest in selecting a Democratic nominee for the general election in an office so important as a seat in Congress was generally decried by election workers in all polling places.

Workers Read And Wait

In some polling places, election workers spent the day reading. In others they just talked while waiting. At two places some exciting games of 500 rummy were in progress. At another, a big pot of coffee had been filled and refilled several times as there wasn't much to do but "talk and drink coffee."

Six election clerks and judges sit in each polling place, three from each major party. Each is paid $10 per day, or $60 in salaries at each place, plus the cost of rent, printing ballots and other election expenses. Figuring the election cost at around $6,000, observers comment that each vote cast yesterday cost the county taxpayers, who are expected to do the voting, about $5 each.

The vote yesterday amounted to about seven per cent of the total county Democratic registration. Observers noted that balloting was generally twice as heavy in most county towns as it was in the city.

The first precinct to report last night was District No. 2, Oldtown, with Ross Shaw reporting 12 votes cast, one rejected, and the precinct going to Allen with 6 and Austin getting 5. The other two condidates were blanked. Shaw reported at 7:45 p. m.

The last precinct heard from was District No. 24, Eckhart, which reported 22 votes cast, 11 for Allen, 9 for Austin and one each for Horine and O'Connell.

VFW Meets Tonight

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the post home. This will be the first meeting at which the newly elected officers will preside. James Kloran, veteran of two World Wars, is post commander.

Partial Returns Put Allen In Second Place

SILVER SPRING, Md., May 3 (AP)—Will Allen, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth District, issued this statement:

"The people of our district have cast their ballots. They have made their choice of a candidate in the finest democratic tradition. I accept their decision with complete good will and I pledge to Mr. Austin all of my energy in achieving a democratic victory next November. The important thing is to keep intact the unity of our party and to accomplish the defeat of the Republican Congressional Candidate J. Glenn Beall."

F. Byrne Austin, 44-year-old Montgomery County resident, led in the four-man Democratic primary voting for the party's nominee to oppose J. Glenn Beall, Republican candidate from this county, for the Sixth Maryland District Congressional seat, as returns were tabulated late last night from 247 of the district's 280 polling places.

Beall, the incumbent, was the unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Austin was leading his nearest opponent, Will Allen, Montgomery County newspaper correspondent, by a pulrality of 339 votes. Austin had 3,681 and Allen 3,342.

The other two candidates trailed with Dawson J. Horine totalling 1,465 and Thomas O'Connell 464.

The partial returns included all of Allegany County which was carried by Allen 686 to Austin's 352, and all of Montgomery County with Allen polling 1,948 to trail Austin's 2,382. There are 75 polling places in Allegany County and 51 in Montgomery County. Voting was heavier in Montgomery County than anywhere else in the district since Allen, Austin and O'Connell all claim residences there.

Horine, a Frederick countian, making his second try for the party's Congressional nomination, carried his home county in 57 of 60 precincts reported with a vote of 797 against Allen's 271, Austin's 58 and O'Connell's 25.

Washington County reported 43 of 69 precincts with Allen polling 400, Austin 276 to trail Horine's 277, and O'Connell got 23.

In Garrett County, where the voting was lightest, 21 of 25 precincts reported. Austin got 113, Allen 37, Horine 45 and O'Connell 35.

The returns showed Allen carrying Allegany and Washington counties, Austin carrying Montgomery and Garrett counties, and Frederick County going to Horine.

Obervers at a late hour expressed the opinion the remaining precincts would not materially change the picture, since most of them are in outlying areas, and the total vote in the 33 would probably not amount to more than three to four hundred. Allen would need them all to defeat Austin, it was observed, and this did not appear likely.

Termination Of Voluntary Leases Must Be Reported

Under the Housing and Rent Act of 1948, the termination of any voluntary leases, increasing rent up to 15 per cent, before the expiration date must be reported to the area rent office, according to Area Rent Director Walter R. Heath.

All such leases which were terminated on or before April 1 should be reported by May 16. The required form D-98, "Report of Termination of Lease," may be obtained at the rent office.

Under the law, the report must be filed at the rent office within 15 days after termination, but in the case of leases terminated on or before April 1, a grace period has been allowed, since some landlords are not familiar with the new law.

2 Disorderly Cases Dismissed In Court

A charge of disorderly conduct against William F. LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, was dismissed yesterday morning in Police Court by Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., when LaNeve's opponent, Robert Jobson, 734 Gephart Drive, failed to appear.

Jobson, according to LaNeve and Officer Kenneth Morrisey, became unruly Saturday night in a Liberty Street bar where LaNeve was working. A fight ensued, and Jobson emerged with a cut over his right eye.

Jobson posted $20 bond at Police Headquarters Saturday night on a drunk and disorderly count.

Magistrate Bruce also dismissed two disorderly charges against Carl Kaese, Kelly Boulevard, after the other defendant, Donald Renotas, 125 Polk Street, failed to appear. Renotas forfeited two bonds, totaling $30. Officers C. W. Thompson and G. E. Pfeiffer made the arrests.

Bittinger Scores No Vote Record

While the Democratic Primary election in the Sixth District yesterday failed to arouse sufficient interest in Allegany and Garrett counties to bring out more than a handful of voters at any single polling place, at Bittinger, Garrett County, not a single vote was cast.

The polling place opened at 7 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. as required by law. Not a single Democrat of the 87 registered, bothered to go to the polls to vote.

The two Democrats employed to work in the precinct as election judge and clerk did not vote either. Guess they figured it just wasn't worth the trouble.
